Our Special column is decidedly interesting in a local point of view, and profitable reading to outsiders who want to save money.

YES, OF COURSE!

"Will you take wheat, oats or corn for subscription?" We are often inquired of in this way by letter from patrons who reside at a distance from Clearfield. We again say yes. The receipts of a responsible merchant or mill owner in the vicinity, will answer us just as well as the cash. To illustrate: If any of our patrons will deliver us a bag of grain at the mill of Joseph H. Heath, in Chest township, Horace Patchin, in Burnside, Thomas H. Forcey, in Graham, Wm. Porter or Shaw's, in Lawrence, or Brown & Seyler's, at Rockton, Union township, and forward their receipts for the amount, we will credit them on their account for the same. In this way all may soon pay what they owe, if they will pursue this course. tf.

☞ Advertisers and others will bear in mind that all articles intended for publication in this paper must be handed in, not later than Tuesday, at 9 A. M. Don't forget it!

Some of the farmers in Lancaster county cut their grain by moonlight this harvest.

The crop of chestnuts this coming Fall will be enormous, if something don't interfere.

An awning in front of Murrell's tinware store and auction room, on Market street, is among the latest things out.

Thos. F. Cooper, of the REPUBLICAN office, spent the Fourth interviewing the Gettysburg battle-field and surroundings, and had a very enjoyable trip.

A twenty-five hundred pound cannon was recently cast at ex-Sheriff Pie's foundry, in Osceola, and will boom during the coming campaign for Hancock and English.

The name of Prof. W. A. Kelly, County Superintendent of Schools of Jefferson county, has recently been added to the list of subscribers to the REPUBLICAN.

A BAD PLACE TO LIVE.—We learn from the Punxsutawney Spirit, that Mrs. Hecker, an old lady in the 65th year of her age, residing on Whisky run, in this county, fell down a flight of stairs on the 15th ult., and broke three ribs.

Shields Normal Academy, Punxsutawney, Jeff. Co., Pa., re-opens on Tuesday, July 27th. Bishop Warren lectures in the evening. Teachers and all who have an interest in education will find it to their advantage to read "Reasons Why," found in our local column.

ADJOURNED TREASURER'S SALE.—Treasurer Dotts requests us to announce that he will hold an adjourned sale, at his office on Tuesday July 20th, at which time all unseated lands on which the taxes have not been paid for 1878 and 1879, will be sold without any further adjournment.

Hon. E. Joy Morris, of Philadelphia, a life long Republican, an ex-Congressman and U. S. Minister to Turkey, agrees with his friend Forney about Gen. Hancock, and desires his election. Mr. Morris made a strong Radical speech in our Court House in 1876, and will no doubt be remembered by many.

Miss Kate M. Mitchell, of New Washington, has been chosen to teach School No. 4, in the Primary Department of the Leonard Graded School, of Clearfield borough. Miss Mitchell has the reputation of being a first-class teacher. School No. 4 will occupy a room in the old Academy building, which has been repaired for the occasion.

The subscription schools of juveniles, taught by Miss Carrie Fiegal and Miss Ida Gearhart, in the Leonard Graded School building, closed on the 30th ult. On the day following, July 1st, the teachers and scholars united in holding a very pleasant picnic in the grove at "Hillsdale," east of the borough. The little folks, it is said enjoyed it hugely.

ONE MORE LESS.—In the death of John Irwin, Sr., of Wolf Run, Lawrence township, and in fact the county, looses one of its oldest and most esteemed citizens. He was among the first settlers in this county, and during his lifetime commanded the respect of all classes in his neighborhood. His remains were followed to the "Fulton cemetery" followed by a very large concourse of people. His wife survives him.

"NO YOU DON'T."—Those of our readers who made fun of our census statement, which we published on the 25th of February last giving our population at 42,644 will please change their tune; because, if the Census Enumerators are to be relied upon our county will exceed that figure. The aggregate increase will exceed seventy per cent., and that of Woodward and Bandy townships will equal that of Lansdville

DEATH OF HARRY MCKIBBEN.—Harry McKibben, son of Jere McKibben, of the Girard House, Philadelphia, and well known in Clearfield, having clerked in the hardware store of E. F. Bigler & Co., in this place, some six years ago, died in New York city on the 30th ult., while being conveyed to hospital. His death was caused by an overdose of laudanum. He was about twenty-five years of age, and leaves a young wife with whom he lived unhappily.

Two freight trains came into collision at an early hour on Tuesday morning, 29th ult., at Petersburg, on the middle division of the Pennsylvania Railroad. A freight train following, with John R. Crawford as engineer and M. A. Shelley as fireman, ran into the wreck. Both firemen were instantly killed by cars falling on them. Their remains were taken to their homes in Harrisburg. Cattle, grain and merchandise of every description was scattered about promiscuously. Five of the cattle were killed.

'Tis sweet in the dim moonlight
To wander forth to meet her;
And the zephyrs blow as you onward go—
There's nothing that is sweeter!
You sing a song as you walk along,
And think how happy you shall greet her;
But your warble's hushed and your hopes are crushed,
Together with that "sweetee,"

CELERY PLANTS.—Ernest Bock, Clearfield, Pa, has on hand a large quantity of Celery plants, and of the best quality, at his green house, on Front street, which he will sell at 75 cents per hundred, or one thousand for $6.

FIFTY MEN WANTED.—Fifty men are wanted to engage in cutting and hauling logs on Moravian run, in Graham township. For further particulars address DAVID B. WELKER, Grahamton, Pa. First come, first served. 14-3t

BANK CHANGES.—The County National Bank having purchased the Banking House of the Clearfield County Bank, in Graham's building, has removed into that block, on Market street, while the Clearfield County Bank will occupy the rooms on Second street vacated by the County National Bank. 4t

A CANNON EXPLODES AND KILLS A MAN.—Mr. Arad Fennell, aged about thirty-four years, was killed at Brookville early on Monday morning, July 5th, by the explosion of a cannon. A piece struck him on the hip, mashing it and causing death in twelve hours afterwards. He leaves a wife and several children to lament his untimely death.

CENTENNIAL PREMIUM WINE.—Physicians have used Speer's Port Grape Wine of New Jersey, and, having applied to it the strictest test, pronounce it a pure wine, and recommend it to the aged and infirm, and for general use where wine is desirable, as the most reliable wine to be had. It received the highest award at the Centennial Exhibition. For sale by E. W. Graham, druggist, Clearfield, Pa.

A BLUNDER.—The compositor in our last issue dropped a portion of a paragraph out of the article in our local columns, in the proceedings of the Grampian Temperance Union. It should read as follows:

The address of welcome was delivered by Thomas E. Moore, followed by the choir with "Merry Greeting," and afterwards an address was delivered by John Russell on "Literature as a Factor in Temperance Work."

The "devil" was evidently not around when this blunder occurred.

REVISED.—The Secretary of our School Board, Mr. Brown, has handed us a revised list of the names of teachers and their salary for the current year as follows:

Principal—B. B. Youngman, $1,25 per month; First Assistant—F. G. Harris, $50 per month; Second Assistant—Matt. Savage, $45 per month; No. 1 Primary—L. E. Weber, $45 per month; No. 2 Primary—W. E. Tate, $35 per month; No. 3 Primary—Carrie Flegal, $30 per month; No. 4 Primary—Kate E. Mitchell, $30 per month.

HOW WE GROW.—Ten years ago the Census Enumerators put Clearfield down at 1,801, and West Clearfield then contained about forty souls while East Clearfield, or Hillsdale, was a blank. Now we figure up as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| Clearfield proper | 1,810 |
| West Clearfield | 367 |
| Hillsdale | 186 |
| Total | 2,363 |

In round figures this territory in 1870, contained a population of about 1,400, and now 2,363; being an increase of nearly seventy per cent. It looks now as though our population in the county would reach 43,000. This is certainly a healthy state of facts and goes to show that Clearfield county has not lost its vigor in supporting a large population.

"THE OLD FOLKS AT HOME."—Mrs. Jane McCullough, wife of Wm. M. McCullough, Sr., was eighty years old last Thursday, the 8th inst. Her children surprised her about 4 o'clock in the evening by bringing all the little ones with well-filled baskets, to the old homestead to take supper with grandma. Her four sons—Thomas J., Lewis K., William M. and James M.—and their wives were present; two daughters—Mary A. and Jane—twenty-three grand children and three great-grand children. The old lady is in good health, and looks much younger than she is. She has an only sister living in Oxford, Chester county, Pa., who is 82 years old. She has four brothers still living, the youngest being 69 and the oldest 86 years old. Four of her grand children and one daughter-in-law were absent. Her children are all living except one—the late Z. C. McCullough—who died a few years ago from the effects of injuries received at Gettysburg.

MARRIED.—We copy the following notice, taken from the Jersey Shore Herald, as the bride formerly resided in Clearfield, where she has many acquaintances and friends: "A large number of friends assembled at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Weston Calvert, on the island on Wednesday last, June 23d, to witness the marriage of Mr. W. H. Grafius of Tyrone, Pa., and Miss Rosa Ruffhead, of Jersey Shore. At 7 o'clock the happy couple were married, Rev. W. A. Stephens officiating in his usual happy style, after which the party partook of an elegant supper prepared for the occasion. The evening was one of pleasure to all who were present and Mr. Mrs. Grafius were warmly congratulated after their marriage. The happy couple started on a wedding tour on the 9.30 train, and parted with the good wishes of those present, for a happy and prosperous journey through life. May their joys be many and their troubles few."

ANNOUNCEMENT.—Life of General Winfield Scott Hancock.—We are glad to know that the well known publishing house of Hubbard Bros., of Philadelphia, have in preparation and will soon issue the "Life of Gen. Hancock," written by his old time friend, Hon. John W. Forney. The career of the brilliant soldier who is soon to be transferred to the White House furnishes material for a volume which, in deep and thrilling interest, has rarely been equaled in the annals of American biography. It is fortunate that its preparation has been assigned to Col. Forney, who for twenty-five years has been known as one of the ablest editors and most brilliant writers in America. His known ability, and his personal intimacy with Gen. Hancock, are a sufficient guaranty that the book will be full, complete and authoritative—a volume of permanent value, and in this respect widely different from ordinary campaign literature. It will be sold only by subscription, and must meet with a very large sale.

THE BEST.—The wonderful returns made by the Equitable Life Assurance Society are illustrated by the many letters expressive of satisfaction, written by the policy holders to the company. The following is a fair example:

YORK, Maine, March 3d, 1880.

J. F. CLARK, Esq., Agent, Portland.

Dear Sir: I note with pleasure the result of my insurance by the Equitable Assurance Society under my Tontine policy, No. 49,919. I have paid $3,075.05, and for this you have carried an insurance of $5,000 on me for eleven years, and you now offer me cash $3,454.20, or $379.25 more than I have paid you. Seeing at life insurance should note these results and insure in the Equitable. Yours truly,

HENRY MOULTON.

With such dividends it is not surprising that the Equitable does so large a business. All its policies become incontestable after three years, and no company in the country has so wide a reputation for the prompt and full payment of death claims.

R. M. McEnally, District Agent, Clearfield, Pa. Office in Shaw's Row.

W. H. SANDERS, Agent, Osceola.

Volunteers, and killed in an engagement near Bristoe Station, Virginia, February 14th, 1864. Major Larrimer was the editor of the REPUBLICAN in 1860, and for several years previous.

On Saturday, the 24inst., a Post was organized at Curwensville, where thirty-four members were mustered in.

THE CENSUS.

The Enumerators of our county have lodged their returns with Prothonotary Bloom, excepting three townships—Covington, Gulich and Karthaus—from which there is no report up to Tuesday morning, July 13th. Below will be found a tabular statement of the work of the Enumerators, which is as follows:

* Included in Burnside township.
† Included in Chest township.

The three townships still out will, no doubt, add not less than 2,000 to the population, and make it, in round numbers, not less than 43,000. This is a handsome gain since 1870, when our population was only 25,741. But few counties in the State can make a more healthy show.

GREAT FIRE AT TYRONE.

TWO SQUARES OF HOUSES IN THE CENTRE OF THE TOWN IN RUINS.

Between three and four o'clock on Thursday, July 8th, a fire broke out in Wooden's livery stable, located in the centre of the principal business square in Tyrone. The alarm was given, but before the Tyrone engine began to play, the stable, with its contents, together with nine horses, was consumed. Two splendid horses and an omnibus, formerly owned by Robert Lott, of Huntingdon, were burned.

The flames communicated to adjoining buildings on Juniata and Main streets, and notwithstanding the efforts of the firemen, the principal business houses in the square were burned to the ground before the flames were got under control. The Vigilant steam fire engine of Altoona arrived about five o'clock, and did good work in staying the progress of the flames. The Huntingdon steam fire engine was also sent for, and at 5:25 started for Tyrone, traversing the twenty miles in about twenty-five minutes, and in forty minutes from the time of leaving Huntingdon had two streams of water playing upon the flames.

The following is a list of the buildings burned on Juniata street: Templeton & Co's warehouse, and Dr. J. C. M. Hamilton's kitchen, insurance $5,000; Smith & Gray's grocery, insurance $2,000; Crawford & Co's storeroom, insurance $3,000; J. A. Thomas' residence; W. B. Stewart's shoe store and residence, insurance $900; Mrs. Sue Black's book store, no insurance; Meminger, Stewart & Co's clothing store; Blair County Bank; City Hotel, on the corner, partially.

On Main street the following properties were burned: Herald printing office, insurance $3,000; D. Barket Wilson's book store, partially; Tyrone Bank, D. T. Caldwell's insurance office, Flynn's hall, insurance $20,000; Gardner's drug store; P. Sneeringer's tobacco store and residence, insurance $6,000; Democrat printing office, insurance $700; VanValzah & Wilson's dry goods store, insurance $5,000; John Soullin's tailoring establishment, fully insured; Isaac P. Walton's jewelry store, no insurance.

In the centre of the square the following buildings were burned to the ground: Wooden's livery stable, "Doc" Jones' residence, Sneeringer's stable, Holland's residence, Mrs. Stewart's residence, Bitcher's rag warehouse, Adam Statler's residence, Mrs. Bigelow's residence, a tenant house belonging to Nowlin's heirs, and three or more stables.

The loss is variously estimated at from $125,000 to $150,000, while the insurance amounts to about $80,000. It is universally conceded that the fire was the work of an incendiary.

BRADY DEMOCRAT.

LETTER FROM SANDY.

DuBois, July 6th, 1880.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN—Dear Sir: It affords me pleasure to write to you on that one Friday evening, July 2d, 1880, we held in DuBois a very successful ratification meeting. Major S. M. Tinthoff, an old veteran Democrat, formerly of Brookville, was called to the chair and made a neat little speech, and stated the object of the meeting. The usual number of Vice Presidents and Secretaries being appointed, Dr. H. P. Strawbridge opened the meeting by asserting that although he had been a Republican until the organization of the Greenback party; but feeling that the party could accomplish nothing he would now support Hancock and English. (Great Applause.) After the rendition of choice music by the Reclesior Cornet Band, Mr. P. S. Weber was called out, who responded with his usual earnest and convincing argument eulogizing the hero; Gen. Hancock, for his high standard of statesmanship, as displayed by him when Military Governor at New Orleans.

D. L. Krebs, Esq., was then called, who proceeded to outline in a very eloquent manner Hancock's career which elicited rounds of applause.

He also criticised the actions of Garfield, as established by the Congressional Record, in the Credit Mobilier and Salary Grab.

Mr. J. B. Johnston, a College student at Gettysburg, was then called and closed the meeting with an able address amid cheers, music and the burning of oil barrels.

We are organizing a Hancock and English Club, which bids fair to be a grand success.

The nomination of Garfield not only fell like a wet blanket on the Republicans here, but like a dozen of them.

Respectfully.

LETTER FROM JORDAN.

HARMON, July 1st, 1880.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN: A party of children and friends came to the house of Joseph Patterson, July 1st, 1880, to celebrate their fiftieth wedding day. The party consisted of four sons and their wives, three son-in-laws and their wives and thirty-six grand children. The party arrived at the house at 10 o'clock. The old man was in the corn field plowing corn; he left the field to see what it meant that so many wagons and buggies were stopping there. But he soon took the hint and all was right. He said if he had cradles he would put them to cutting wheat, but the party gave him to understand that they didn't come for that purpose, but that they were going to have some fun and all was soon right with the old man, when boards was secured and a table was erected in the front yard and spread with all the dainties that heart could wish or appetite desire. When every thing was ready and the bride and groom that were united in wedlock fifty years ago to-day, took their seats at the table. Rev. Mr. Campbell, of Elliott township, and lady, of Knox township, who had celebrated their fiftieth wedding day on the 10th of June last. The table was surrounded by his sisters, brothers, children and friends. Every body appeared to enjoy the dinner and think it was good to be there.

After the dinner Mr. David Rickart read a letter from Rev. Mr. Campbell, which suited the occasion and was very impressive.

Mr. Patterson is about seventy years old, and there are few younger men who will go around him in a day's work. Mrs. Patterson is seventy-eight years old and is quite feeble, but can work her garden yet and is a sample gardener for some of our young folks. There is not a gray hair to be seen in her head.

The wish of the writer is that their lives on the nearing shore may be a happy one, and not a wave of trouble roll across their peaceful breast.
