Sketches of Local History. In the next number of this paper the subscriber proposes to commence a series of sketches of local history, within the county, which if not soon collected, will perish from the memory of man. He will be obliged to any person, who will furnish him with authentic traditions, relating to their ancestors, or any other facts of an interesting charnoter, connected with the early settlement and hilstory of the region, which now forms the county of Lebauon. He intends to intersperse these sketches, with brief notices of the prominent men of the county, who have at any time, made any figure in its affairs. Having formed this intention many years ago, he has, as well as the occupations already, a great many to him amusing and interinterest in such matters will add their stores, erous, happy, free and independent popshould he prove capable of presenting them in an ulation; good wives and pretty sisters agreeable manner. Nothing will be admitted in- and daughters; and still a few more to those sketches, the truth of which, will not bear eligible sites left, at cheap rates, for the JOHN WEIDMAN. oxamination. > SHOCKING ACCIDENT. -- A little son of James Simmers, of this borough, aged about 6 years, was run over by a train of freight cars, on the North Lebanon Railroad, on Tuesday afternoon, and his legs so shockingly mangled, that death terminated his sufferings in a few hours. He had hid on one of the cars for the purpose of obtaining a ride to the Basin. Other cars were run up against the car he was on, causing a jar which threw him off on to the track, and a number of wheels passed over his legs, cutting them almost entirely off. No particle of blame attaches to the employees of the road, as they did not know that he was on the car. We are also informed that along this road, as well as at the Lebanon Valley Depot, the officials and hands are greatly annoyed by the number of little and big boys gathering about, and that it is almost impossible to drive them a. way. Parents should not permit their children to go near the railroad, unless accompanied by some one capable of taking care of them.

HAY-STACK BURNT.-A hay-stack belonging to Mr. Behney, in North Lehanon township, about three miles northeast of this Borough, was struck by lightning on Friday evening, and burnt to the ground.
