CASPAR SHUNK, Brigade Major.
Lebanon, June 17, '57--ld.

JAMES F. MAXWELL,
MANUFACTURER OF Improved Fire and Water Proof
COMPOSITION ROOFING,
HARRISBURG, PA.
RESPECTFULLY informs the citizens of Harrisburg, Reading, Lancaster, Lebanon, and their vicinities, that we are prepared to put on roofs on most liberal terms, and at the shortest notice.
We respectfully call the attention of persons about to build, to our invaluable method of roofing, now much used throughout the principal cities of the United States and their vicinities. This mode of roofing having all the combined requisites of cheapness, Durability, and Security against Fire and Water, and dispensing with high gable walls, the roof requires no additional support, and is three-quarters (3/4) of an inch to the foot, and in many cases saving the entire cost of rafters--the ceiling joint being used.
The gutters are made of the same material, with out any extra charges; consequently, our roofs are put up at almost half the cost of either Tin, Slate, or Shingle material, being of an imperishable nature, it surpasses all others in Durability--besides, in case of any casualty, it is the most easily repaired of any other roof now in use. Yet, the most perfect and perfecting both fire and water proof, are our many references, to any one of whom we are at liberty to refer.
N. B.--But let it be distinctly understood, (since we manufacture our own composition, and do the work in person), that we warrant all our work proof against both Fire and Water; if they prove otherwise, we will most willingly abide the results.
The materials being mostly non-conductors of heat, no roof is so cool in summer, or so warm in winter. Those wishing to use roof shingles, we give the rafters a pitch of about one inch to the foot. [July 27, 1854--4m.]

Poetry.

THE LITTLE COFFIN.
[We cannot imagine anything more exquisite of the kind than this poem; by Mrs. H. L. Bostwick. It is one of those poems that, one cannot see to read through.]

There's a tiny, rosewood thing, Ebon bound, and glittering
With its stars of silver white, Silver table, blank and bright,
Downy pillow, satin lined,
That I, loquacious, chanced to find,
Mid the dark and gloomy
Of the undertaker's room, Waiting, empty--ah! for whom?
Ah! what love-watched cradle bed Keeps to-night the nestling hold,
Or on what soft, pillowing breast
Is the cherub form at rest?
That ere long, with darkened eyes,
Sleeping to no lullaby,
White-robed, and still, and cold, Pale as flowers slipping from his hold,
Shall this dainty coffin enfold?
Ah! what bitter tears shall stain
All this satin sheen like rain,
And what towering hopes be hid
'Neath this tiny coffin lid,
That I, loquacious, chanced to hear Little words that must be there,
Little words that deep and true, Bleeding mortals' hearts among-- Sweetest past name, and "Adieu Two!"
Oh! can sorrow's hovering plumes Round our pathway cast a gloom, Chill and darkness on the shade
By an infant's coffin made?
From our arms an angel flies,
And our startled, dazzled eyes Weeping round its vacant place,
Cannot rise its path to trace,
Cannot see the angel face!

A Thrilling Sketch.

A RIVER ADVENTURE.

In the summer of 1832, I was engaged with a young man named Lyman Kemp, in locating land lots along the Wabash, in Indiana. I had gone out partly for my health, and partly to accommodate one who had ever been a noble friend to me, and who had purchased a great deal of government land.
At Logansport, he was taken sick, and after watching with him a week, in Durability--besides, in case of any casualty, it
is the most easily repaired of any other roof now
in use. Yet, the most perfect and perfecting
both fire and water proof, are our many references, to any one of whom we are at liberty
to refer.
N. B.--But let it be distinctly understood,
work proof against both Fire and Water; if they prove otherwise, we will most willingly abide the
results.
The materials being mostly non-conductors of
heat, no roof is so cool in summer, or so warm in
give the rafters a pitch of about one inch to the
foot. [July 27, 1854--4m.]

and shortly afterwards I went up again to bed; and this time I slept on uninterrupted till morning.
I had just eaten my breakfast and had gone out to the front door, when a horseman came dashing up to the place, himself and animal all covered with mud. It had been raining all night.
The first thing the new comer did, was to inquire for me. I answered at once to the name; and he then informed me that Lyman Kemp could not live, and that he wished to see me as soon as possible!
"The doctor says he must die," said the messenger, "and the poor fellow now only asks for life long enough to see you."
"Poor Lyman!" I murmured to myself. "So young--so hopeful--with so many friends, relatives in his far-off home--and taken down to die in a strange land!" I told the man I would set out on my return as soon as possible. He ate some breakfast, and then resumed his journey, being bound up
