DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

FOR GOVERNOR, WILLIAM F. PACKER, Of Lycoming County.

FOR CANAL COMMISSIONER, NATHAN STRICKLAND, Of Chester County.

FOR SUPREME JUDGES, WILLIAM STRONG, Of Berks County. JAMES THOMPSON, Of Erie County.

The Americans of Philadelphia have nominated Hon. David Paul Brown, for the office of Judge of the Court of Common Pleas.

A boy, 15 years of age was last week arrested in New York, and committed to prison for forging the endorsement of his employers to a check for $500, and obtaining the money for the same at the bank.

REPUBLICANISM.—It is but a few days since the New York Tribune gave us to understand that the Fremont party of November last, and that Republican organization of to day, are different institutions, and that thousands of the supporters of Fremont, are not to be relied on as consistent advocates of Republican abolitionism. Its statement was this:

Thousands did vote for Fremont last November who were not Republicans, and had never before 1856 pretended to be. Some of these really believed that the outrages in Kansas would revolutionize the country; some "went in for the chances," especially after the magnificent triumph in Maine, fancying that their prospects for missions, collectorships, territorial governorships, and other nice tid-bits, were better in the comparatively unoffended Republican party than in either of its rivals.

The Excution of McKim. HOLLIDAYSBURG, August 21.

This is the day set apart by the Executive for the execution of David Stringer McKim, convicted in May last, of the murder of Samuel T. Norcross. Last night, people from a distance came into the town, and so great was the rush, that beds could not be procured at the hotels, and many were compelled to lie upon floors, tables, and chairs.

This morning, a stream of humanity commenced pouring into the town at a very early hour, and nothing was talked about or thought of but the condemned and his approaching end. Business is almost entirely suspended here.

The Sheriff was beset, yesterday and this morning, by persons who were anxious to get within the prison walls to witness the last dread scene; but a very few out of the immense throng were gratified in their wish to be allowed to enter the enclosure, and the disappointed multitude had to rest contented with gazing at the prison walls, or in picking up some scraps of information from within doors as were retailed outside.

All sorts of rumors were in circulation during the morning, and those who went out of the prison doors during the forenoon were eagerly questioned by the crowd to know what the condemned was saying and doing, and above all, to ascertain whether he had made any confession.

McKim slept soundly during the greater part of last night. At six o'clock this morning he attempted to commit suicide by opening a vein in his wrist with a piece of glass. The blood flowed freely for a while, but it was discovered in time to prevent serious results and the wound was immediately bound up.

A closed watch was then set over the condemned watch to prevent a second attempt of the same kind. Neither the awful position of the condemned, his attempted suicide, nor his being foiled in the attempt to destroy himself, affected his appetite, for he ate a hearty breakfast.

Great calculations were made on the manuscript statement which the condemned had prepared for the purpose of reading under the gallows, and many thought that in it would be found an admission of his guilt, but this expectation was disappointed this morning when it was announced that McKim had destroyed the paper he had prepared. It seems that in a fit of rage he tore the statement to pieces.

The report of the attempted suicide of the murderer, and of his having torn the mephitic paper to pieces, created an immense sensation out of doors, and the excitement went up to fever heat.

At fifteen minutes past ten o'clock the condemned man was led out of the prison to the gallows. After mounting the scaffold, McKim proceeded to address the assembled crowd, and spoke for one hour and five minutes. He denied his guilt most vehemently, and said that he declared before God and with his last breath that he died an innocent man.

McKim said that he had never either committed murder or stole money or anything else. He also said that Atticus Fleck, and another witness had sworn away his life on his trial.

At twenty-five minutes before one o'clock, Sheriff Fort pulled the drop, and the wretched criminal was launched unflinchingly, declaring his innocence until the last moment.

There were three military companies on duty around three military companies on duty around the jail, and notwithstanding the late hour, the streets were crowded with people.

The Courier makes a weak effort to soften the force of its honest expression of opinion about Mr. Wilmot in 1851. Its quibble on the word "notorious" creates a smile from every one familiar with the meaning of words.—Doing a good deed makes no man notorious; it makes him loved, honored, respected, famed, &c. The thief, the swindler, the liar, the gambler, the drunkard, may become notorious; and in that class the Courier ranked the notorious author of the Wilmot Proviso, when it called him an "abolitionist, free-trader, secessionist, special privilege, PLUNDERING Locofoco!"

The Courier says it knows him (Wilmot) to be an honest man. Can an "abolitionist," a "modern Judas," he who would revel in "stealings plundered" from honest tax-payers, and who sinned so often that he was "deceived and betrayed" have found his way to honest?

If so, in the name of conscience are the dishonest? Read carefully the following:

From the Courier, June 3, 1851. "We all remember that the Wilmot, and others of that kind, were the leaders in the Free Soil movement. For their course then, when we believed them to be honest in it, we honored them; for their apostasy now, and their denunciations of every body who believes as they did, as an atrocious crime, every DEMON and every DEVIL tremble. They catch at whatever seems to be the popular tendency of things, that they may ride into power on the popular breeze, and enjoy the spoils of office, regardless of all prior professions or actions. On such modern Judases, who would sell their principles, their country and themselves, for a mass of money, that they may revel in emoluments and stratagem, we never had respect, and we never will have. They are the worst of the country. But their sin has found them out, and they can never again enjoy the confidence of a people who have so often DECEIVED and BETRAYED."

If Wilmot is an honest man the Courier most fully slandered him in 1851; or if it "hit him" then, as acknowledged last week, the Courier is now attempting to "deceive and betray" its friends by representing him "an honest man."

The Courier in 1851 entertained a different opinion of that Proviso it now terms "most excellent." But of this another time.

The Courier of last week says: "Judge Wilmot had the misfortune to belong to the Democratic party, when he was supposed to swallow its disgusting dog. But he washed his hands of the organization."

Instead of leaving the party, he was politely put out of it. His doings were too disgusting. Being the "head and front of abolitionism," as stated by the Courier, he attempted to engraft abolitionism upon the Democratic party.—The doze was too disgusting. He had already made himself notorious by attempting to foist his Proviso and ultra "Free-tradeism upon the party, but failed. Continuing in his evil ways, the party eventually was glad to get rid of him at any cost, and permitted him to be shelved on a Judicial Bench in a fanatical district of the north. It remained for the Courier and its friends to drag him forth from his obscurity; and for the Democracy to send him back howling. He has "so often DECEIVED and BETRAYED THE PEOPLE that he can never again enjoy their confidence!"

WILMOT is working hard for the votes of the Know Nothings. In a recent address he gave what he considered, "particular jesse" to the Catholics. He said that "as a class they were among the least enlightened of our population." We beg to differ with Mr. Wilmot. The Black Republican leaders as a class, judging them by their principles, political actions and legislative acts, have written themselves down the veriest asses in Christendom. The Catholics, if they do generally vote the Democratic ticket, have a reason for doing so, which is more than can be said by most of those who intend voting for that "abolition, secession, free trader, special privilege, plundering locofoco, Wilmot."

Some of the Clergy of the New England State have not yet learned to mind their legitimate business. Prof. Silliman and several Doctors of Divinity, of New Haven, have recently sent a letter to President Bunnam, objecting to the employment by him of the United States military forces to execute the so-called laws of Kansas, and assuring him they will cease not to pray that he may have the proper course of duty pointed out to him, or something to that effect.

This letter the President has just replied briefly but pointedly, denying their premises, questioning their knowledge of those laws, and after acknowledging their validity, he calmly assures them that, by the help of God, he will enforce them, in accordance with his oath of office.

Good Idea.—In Hartford, Conn., Mr. J. G. Eggleston, desirous of introducing water pipes from the street "mains" to his house, instead of tearing up the sidewalk and digging a trench, procured a three inch auger, and attached an iron rod fifteen feet in length to it, bored through the ground under the sidewalk until he hit the main, where the connection was made. It was the work of a few minutes, and cost but a trifle compared with the old mode. The Times suggests that augers be made for the purpose, and the plan be adopted for gas and water purposes.

At Collyday, on Sunday night, Mr. Wm. Collinsy, who was bitten, last March, by a small dog, died from hydrophobia in its most frightful form. At the time the wound caused him no trouble, and the circumstance had long been forgotten. The first symptoms appeared on Saturday, and of so violent a character that during the paroxysms he broke, as though by wires, his cords with which it was found necessary to bind him. The case is cited by physicians as appalling beyond expression.

Good Cows.—Mr. David Jeffers, of East Bradywine, Chester county, has five cows that are hard to beat—all of which were raised on his farm. They have for the last two weeks made 43½ pounds of butter in each week, and cream used plentifully beside—one of which has been milking since the first day of February; one since the second week of March; one since the 15th day of April, (with her calf,) one since the 12th of May, with her fourth calf,—which when four weeks and three days old, weighed 200 lbs. live weight. The cow gave about 6 quarts of milk per day while the calf was with her.

A large barn belonging to Elias Hoef, near Kutztown, Berks county, was struck by lightning and destroyed on Saturday week. Loss $3000, of which $2500 was insured by the Sinking Springs Company. It is said that the building was not provided with a lightning conductor, on which account the Company will not hold itself responsible for any losses.

"Woodland Cream"—A POMADE FOR BEAUTIFYING THE HAIR—highly preferred, superior to any French pomade, and is the best for use in the dressing Parlour. It has no equal, giving it a bright glossy appearance. It cures Dandruff, and is the most perfect hair restorative known, giving it a soft, wavy, and beautiful appearance, and giving the hair the appearance of being fresh and young.

Prof. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE is said to be the only sure cure for baldness and gray hair. It removes all scurf, dandruff and scrofulous eruptions from the scalp, and restores the hair to its original color and beauty. This preparation contains no coloring matter, but restores the hair by invigorating and restoring perfect health to the roots, and by them causing healthy fluid to flow into each separate hair.

NEW YORK ADVERTISEMENTS. HEALTH DEPENDS ON PURE BLOOD. Brandreth's Pills purify the Blood; NO DISEASE CAN RESIST THEIR JUDICIOUS USE! MEDICAL OPERATION with successful effect are the peculiar merit of Brandreth's Pills. OUR race are subject to a redundancy of vitiated bile. At this season, and it is as dangerous as it is prevalent, but Brandreth's Pills afford an invaluable and efficient protection. By their occasional use we prevent the collection of those morbid humors, which, when in sufficient quantities, cause so much danger to the body's health. They soon cure liver complaint, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, pain in the head, heat, burn, pain in the breast, pain, flatulency and colic. In brief, they are a specific for every ailment of the blood, cleansing in its passage, removing every unhealthy accumulation till the blood is purified, the whole system renovated, and the functions and duty of life become a pleasure, where before they had been a weary burden. Often when nothing has relieved vomiting of the most serious character, whether from sickness or otherwise, where the retching has been appalling, a single dose of four Brandreth's Pills has at once cured and the patient has fallen into a sweet sleep. When the mind cannot control itself, when the memory fails, when an effort to be attentive, when our sleep is broken and our waking hours harassed with forebodings of what Brandreth's Pills should be used. If these warnings remain unheeded, rheumatism, consumption, disease of the heart, bilious affections, jaundice, dropsical swellings, apoplexy and other diseases will attend the present symptoms. These Brandreth's Pills have prevented, but nevertheless must they also cure. Use them at once; do not let prejudice prevent the use of this simple but potent remedy. Brandreth's Theory of Disease. Never extract bile from the system by abstracting it in painful discharges you may occasion the patient case, but remember, this case is only the reduction or lessening of the power to feel. And by thus taking away nature's tools, you may prevent her from fully repairing the ravages of inflammation, a course what might only have been the sickness of a few days or weeks into a chronic fever, or a permanent disease. Brandreth's Pills accord with Nature's remedy in fact. When sudden, acute or continued pain occurs, in any case, then to insure quick relief to health, you must use Brandreth's Pills, which will relieve every organ from undue pressure, and restore to health, whose presence often occasions such terrible suffering. BEFORE THE WORLD BE SPARED THE USEFULNESS still extending. Ask for six months and a packet of cards. Agents will supply gratis. Brandreth's Pills with "24" brandreth" on side label are counterfeits. Get the genuine and they will never fail you. Wholesale and Retail Agents, Lebanon, Pa. July 15, 1857-tf.
