While speaking of this charge of corruption, I wish to relate a circumstance that has a bearing on the case. While in the city of New York not long since, on business, I fell in with a correspondent of the New York Herald—the man who wrote a series of letters from the State of Pennsylvania last Fall. He became very confidential, and, among other things, he informed me that he had in his possession a list of certain expenditures, which was drawn up in the handwriting of Ex-Governor Ford of Ohio. Mr. Bonnet, of the Herand, you may recollect, charged Gov. Ford with having misappropriated the funds furnished to subsidize the press of Pennsylvania, and this list of expenditures was prepared by Mr. Ford, and given to the gentleman in whose possession I found it, for the purpose of satisfying Mr. Bentat the pressure of the purpose of satisfying Mr. Bentat the pressure of the purpose of satisfying Mr. Bentat net that the money had been properly expended. upon the camp-meeting held about two miles north of our borough; but as I cannot pass it by in utter oblivion, I crave permission to make a few passing remarks.

The attendance was not quite so great as "in days of yore," nor was there as much interestmanifested in my friend's and my estimation. The venther was very propitious for the exercises of out-door devotion. The fair Daughters of Eden came forth in all their native purity, some with mint-sticks in their mouths and the hue of long-continued health upon their ruddy countenances. Country beaux and belies of different casts made Country beaux and bettes or different cases mane their appearance in promiseuous masses, with their usual display of silk dresses, (the crinoline came from town!) fancy vests, their spotted pal-freys bedecked with the paraphrenalia of country custom. My friend envied the conspicuous po-sition occupied by some of his acquaintances, their arms encircling the waists of "Sal" and "Ketty," The Senatorial Conferees are Dr. C.

After several hours endeavor to "see the sights so rare," and perfectly disgusted with the outer proceedings of the camp, I jumped aboard the "Red Bird." After about a quarter of an hours' ride and several capsizes—for the vehicle was crowded to excess—we landed safely at the "Eale." Thus ended our glorious haps and mishaps at camp meeting.

Though the object of these religious assemblages is good and much good fruit is gathered thore-from, it is a lumentable fact that his satanic majesty has his imps also at work, and when the har jesty has his impasses at work, and when the nurvest is gathered the tares are found to be quite abundant.
