Hello! O! what Fun. WE will have something new for Lebandin.— A great Fox-chase will come off this week, and every person in the county is invited to attend it, tall men and small, tall women and small, big boys and little ones, big girls and little ones, young men and old, young ladies, and old ones, turn about and wheel about and run after this fox and try to catch him, won't that be fun. But do not forget to call at JAMES M. PFLEGER & BRO'S New Cheap Dry Goods

GROCERY STORE in the borough of Lebanon. (You will bave plenty of time; as the Rox chase comes off in the afternoon at 2 o'clock,) therefore you will have a trood above of winting and society their stacks of d chance of visiting and seeing their stocks of SPRING & SUMMER GOODS, which they have received from New York and Philadelphia, and will sell tremendously cheep. There is not the slightest doubt in my Philadelphia, and the slightest doubt in my cheep. There is not the slightest doubt in my mind, but that their goods will cause as much real excitement, (as well as profit.) in the borough and country around, as this great Fox chase.—
Therefore do not forget to visit J. M. Pfleger & Bro's store, and great will be your fun, and very great your gain. Yours, most respectfully,

TO THOSE WHO WANT

A PARK WITTER THE REACH OF EVERY MAN.

A PARK WITTER THE REACH OF EVERY MAN.

A PARK WITTER THE REACH OF EVERY MAN.

THE RIDGWAY FARM COMPANY has made arrangements by which all who desire to settle or purchase a home can do so.

The Farms consist of the best limestone soil of the most superior quality for farming, in a rapidly improving place, into which an extensive emigration is now nouring. The property, is located in Elk county, Penn sylvania, in the midst of a thriving population of some 10,000. The climate is perfectly healthy, and the terrible plague of the west fever is unknown. It also his an abundance of the best quality of Coal and Iroh. The price to buy it out is from $3 to $20 per acre, payable by installiments, to be located at the time of purchasing, or a share of 25 scres' entitling to locate the same for $300, payable $6 per month or 12½ acres payable $4 per month. Discount for every sum of $100 and under, paid in advance, a discount of five per cent. will be allowed, and for over $100 a discount of 10 per cent.

In considering the advantages of emigrating to this locality, the following are presented:

First—The soil is a rich limestone, capable of raising the heaviest crops, owing to which, this settlement has statisfied its present great properity.

Second—It is the centre of the great North West Coal Basin, and is destined soon to become one of the greatest business places in the State. It will supply the great business places in the State. It will supply the great to over 22 feet, which makes 22,000 tons of coal under each acre. This will make the land of inestimable value.

The eminent state geological survey of the 18thd, and analysed the coâlt, the iron ore, and the limestone. This report, together with maps, will be furnished to inquirers.

report, together with maps, will be furnished to inqui rers.

Fourth—Three raifronds are laid out through this property. The Sunbury and Erie Kailroad gives us a market for our coal to the lakes—it runs from Erie to Philadelphia. A large part of this road has been finished, and is now in running order. A heavy ferce is now working from Erie towards our land in the western direction, the means for the completion of which has been raised—it will soon be finished. The Allegheny Valley Railroad connects us with New York, Boston and Pittsburg. The Venango Road connects us with the West. There are already good Turnpike Roads running through this property, various other roads have been opened to accommodate the emigration and settlement which has already taken place.

There is no opportunity equal to it now offered to the mau who Wants to provide himself a home in an easy way, and make a settlement where he can live in prosperity and independence in a climate PERFECTLY HEALTHY.

No case of the fever ever having been known to occur perity and independence in a climate PERFECTLY HEALTHY.

No case of the fever ever having been known to occur in this settlement. It is not like going to the backwoods of the West, among perhaps intolerant people, where there is no society, churches, or schools, where the price of land is high, and where the emigrant, after being used to the healthiest climate in the world, has to endure sickness, and pain, and perhaps ruins his health and that of his family. But here is a thriving settlement, having three towas. containing churches, schools, hotels, stores, saw mills, grist mills, and everything desired. There is a cash market at hand. The lumber trade last year amounted to over two hundred million feet of lumber. In a short time, owing to the coal, it will become still more valuable, as a number of iron works and manufactories will soon be started; they are at present starting them extensively at Warren. Even for those who do not wish to go there, the payments are such that they can easily buy a farm to save their rising families from want in the future, or to gain a competence by the rise which will take place in the value of leads. outlay scarcely missed, a substantial provision can be madt.

Persons should make early application; apply or write to E. Jeffries, Secretary, No. 135 Walnut street, below Fifth, Philadelphia. Letters curefully answered giving full information.

Shares or tracts of land can be bought or secured by letter enclosing the first instalment of five dollars, when the subscriber will be furnished with books, maps, &c. Warrantee deeds giveit. Persons can also purchase from our Agents.

Route from Philadelphia to Tyrone on the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, and thence by stage to the land. This is a delightful season to visit St. Mary's—the best hotel accommodation is afforded. Enquire for E. C. Schultz, Esq., the agent for the property at St. Mary's.

"Put the kettle on the stove, Kate. Heat the water for the tea, Let us have all things in order, Order should our motto be."
Thus the mother said, and smiling,
Rocked the baby to and fro,
Pressed a kiss upon its forehead,
Stroked the little locks of tow.

Katie put the kettle over,
Swept the nicely painted floor.
Made the chairs look so inviting,
Hung the broom behind the door.
Drew the table to the center,

Whitest linen on it spread, With her own, her little fingers, Neatly sliced the snowy bread. Father comes, all white with snow-flakes, Cheeks as red as damask rose;
Rubs his hands so brisk together,
Says he b'lieves he's almost froze.
Soon as warm he takes the baby,
Rubs his whiskers on its cheek,
Gives his hair to little fingers,
Pockets gives to little fivet.

"I had intended feasting upon it on holy Christmas eve, with my wife," said the man; "but as you seem so bent on having it, I'm willing to part with it; but I will not take anything in exchange, except the old handmill that stands behind the door."

The chief imp did not at all relish parting with his mill, and he began to haggle and bargain with the man; but the latter remained film; so at last the imp was fain to let him take the mill away. When the mar had emerged from the underground dwelling, he asked the old wood cutter how he used the mill. and, when he told hin, he thanked him, and returned home; but let him make what speed he would, he did not reach it till twelve o'clock at night.

"Where in the wirld can you have been ?" said his wift, as he came in : "I've been sitting here and waiting hour after hour, and I had not as much as a couple of splinters to lay across each other under the gruelpot, to cook our Christmas dinner."

During this space of time, we may easily imagine that the mill was not allowed to grow rusty; and when harvest time came, the brother had it given him, only the other had taken good care not to tell him how he was to manage it.

It was evening when the rich brother brought the mill home, and, on the (ollowing morning he told his wife that she might go into the field with the reapers, and that he would meanwhile much as a bit of meat, or a crust of prepare the dinner. Towards midday, therefore, he placed the mill on the kitchen table.

When the this strange freak. captain found his ship was full, he tried to stop the mill, but, in spite of all his endeavors, the mill went on grinding, and the heap of salt grew higher and higher; till it finished by sinking the ship. So now the mill stands on the bottom of the ocean, and keeps grinding on at this very day, which is the reason that sea water is salt.

Church Building in New York .- We poraries, the following paragraph in re-lation to the church building in New-York city:-The rage for church building is very great this season. On the fifth avenue, near 48th street, the Dutch Reformed Church is about to erect a new white marble church, on a bit of land costing $120,000. This church is the richest corporation in New York, after Trinity Church. A new Presbyterian Curch is fice springs out of the society of Rev.
