WHO WILL BUILD US A TOWN HALL?-We publish to-day the report of the Grand Jury by which it will be seen that the time is drawing nigh when the key will be turned upon the use of the Court House for Lectures, Exhibitions, Concerts, &c. In the emergency, the question of a Town Hall will again have to be agitated .---There is but little doubt that a proper room, in a proper location, for the purposes named, would pay good interest on the investment. We trust that our liberal and onterprising moneyed men. will at once take the subject into consideration.

A PUBLIC EXHIBITION of Male High School No. 1, of this Borough, will be held in Temperance Hall, on Thursday evening, May 6, which we commend to the favorable consideration of the public. The students are doing all in their power to make it an instructive and interesting coasion, for which purpose they hold evening neetings, under instruction of Messre, McCon-MICK and BAUGHER, which alone, is a sufficient guarantee that it will be crowned with success .----We have always favored public exhibitions, on account of their powerful tendency to arouse the ambition of the scholars. This exhibition will be attended with considerable expense, hence an admission price will be charged ; and as it promises fair to be a rich literary treat we beapeak for them a large and intelligent audience. APRIL, the first of the spring months, will soon expire. The Romans named it APRILIS, from AFERIO, because it was the season when things opened. By the Saxons it was called Os-THE month, probably from the same word from which Easter is supposed to have been, derived. The Dutch and Germans call it GRAS month .---Mild windy weather was the chief characteristic of this month, till within a few days past, when shawls and overcoats felt quite comfortable. The progressive advance of temperature from winter towards summer is very apparent this month, the average heighth of the thermometer being 46°. This month is the usual seed time for oats, barley, &c. In the garden it is the busyest time in the year for seed-sowing. This month has several holidays, on which the ancients were accustomed to perform amusing rites, too lengthy for us to particularize.

A GENERAL CEMETERY !- We will briefly give a few hints in regard to the importance of establishing a general Cometery near Lebanon-a subject we had intened to broach on several previous occasions: That the opening of such a Cometery would be gratifying to hundreds of our citizens is a question solved. ## Master. THE MURDER OF MISS BAVOR NEAR MOMRSVILLE-Re-arrest of Samuel Heilner .--Our readers will remember that about a fortnight ago, two shir ts stained with blood were found in a hollow tree near the scene of the late murder of Miss Adaline Bayor. These supposed evidences of guilt were taken in charge by District Attor-WEITERL, who intends leaving for Kansas, deliv. in charge of Constable Crist, of Pottsville, and all pain and distress is entirely removed. ered a boautiful farewell address, advising the again lodged in prison, to await a hearing. The again lodged in prison, to await a hearing. The Miner's Journal states that "the names of two other young men of Schuylkill county are menioned in connection with the murder; but as we have nothing positive in relation to their complicity, we will not at this time mention to their compu-city, we will not at this time mention their names." It will be remembered that Heilner was arrest-ed in November last on anapicion of having been concerned in the murder, but after a searching examination before Alderman Mongel, which last ed for several days, was discharged for want of evidence to criminate him. What light the recent discovery may throw upon his alleged com-plicity in the bloody deed, the re-examination soon to take place, will show.—Reading Gazette April 24th.

A Vermont Judge of Probate has Incorporated it as a part of the law of his court, that the administrator of an estate must allow the widow the cost of a newspaper, she making her own selection from the common fund. The common law of America now recognizes the newspaper in a family of individual necessity. It is classed with pigs and potatoes, cassimere and calico, a thing to be exempted-like the family Bible-never to suffer from rapacious creditors, never to be parted with in the direst poverty.

SINGULAR AFFAIR .--- A short time ago, says an exchange, an old man named I ....., died in Crawford county, Ohio, leaving a wife and children. By his will his estate was divided between the children. The division displeased the eldest son, who refused to take his share of the estate, asserting that he was not the son of the deceased -, nor of the widow. He claims that at the age of seven he was adopted by the deceased in Pennsylvania, and has lived with him ever since. The widow protested that he is her son, and several other-women in the mighborhood, who came from the same place in Pennsylvania, testify to being present on the occasion of his birth. At first the heirs were willing to believe him, as it would lessen the number of heirs .--The young man one day presented a bill for hi services from the age of thirteen, the amount of which will swallow up the whole estate. They then were perfectly willing to accknowledge him as a brother. A suit on the claim has been com.

The Grand Inquest of the Commonwealth of Penniylyania enquiring for the County of Leba-non, do most respectfully present, that informanon, do most respectfully present, that informa-tion has been laid; that the Court House has here-tofore been used for the purposes of public exhi-bitions and Lectures, and by some supposed to affect the Insurance policy on the public build-ings and otherwise endangering the security of the public records. The Grand Inquest would also respectfully call the attention of the Commissioners of the County to a review of the several County Bridges, and more particularly to the several embankments and fillings up of the entrances to the same, by guards, wing walls, or other securities, to the approaches of the several bridges. OT APPLICATION was made to the Court on Wednesday afternoon by several of the Commissioners named in the act for the incorporation of the Lebanon Valley Bank, for the remeval of GEORGE GLEIN, Esq., one of the Commissioners, and the appointment of another person in his stead. The application was based on the ground that Mr. Gleim refused to act.

On Thursday forenoon the arguments of counsel were heard by the Court. Messre, Kline and Lamberton appeared for the defendant, and Mesers. Killinger and Kunkel for the plaintiffs! We have never heard a question argued in our Court with more ability than was displayed on this decasion by both sides. Mr. Killinger was sloquent as usual, and made his points in a telling, ready and confident manner. Mr. Kline was earnest and brought forth his arguments in sledgehammer siyle. It was a powerful defence. Mr. Kunkel followed, answering point after point of the defende, and pilipg upp arguments upon argu- spirit of fold, fogyiam? in its most adverse prejument. Mr. Lamberton closed the debate. His manner is easy and his language choice. His What fallaoy ! "Better inte than never," is a delivery ready, and the subject-matter convincing, so that by the time he closed the listener was stall; unable to decide which party obtained the advantage. In the afternoon Judge Pearson delivered ille opinion of the Church instayor of the app matter, und stand, by the featural of Mr. Glenni And the appointment of Jacob Wapuz, Esq., in his plice. The object of the proceeding was this? The act of incorporation manage 15 commissioners, of whom a magnitude are necessary to obtain the Charter. Hu carrow ware willing to sign the cer-tificate that the requirements of the law were tificate that the requirements of the law, were complied with, namely :---Measure, John George, John Light, s. J., A. P. Hibshman, George Hoff, man, Michael Heininger, John Harper, John Bran-ner; and hence, to obtain the effect it was de-termined to drift one of the other Commissioners and have a picture appointed who would be will-ing to certify. Mr. Gleim was alleated, and as above noted, Mr. Weidle was appointed in his stead. stead.

On Friday Messrs. Weidle, Hoffman and others started for Harrisburg to pay the bonne (about $2000) and obtain the charter.

On Saturday the Commissioners returned from prosume that stops will now be taken immediated ble object is not a of respect to our different churches, their prominent and influential members, but indicates a dormancy unbecoming this thriving and intelligent. community.

This general Cometery idea, as we view should lay hold and claim the serious attention and action of every rational being, who has a mortal body which must sooner or later be conveyed to the marrow confines of the silent tomb, -the solomn house of all living. Small denominational grave yards, blocked up in every few squares of an enterprising borough like Lebanon, should no longer be encouraged.

Look at the glaring examples set before us as precedents ; they are the strongest arguments that can possibly be advanced on this all-important subject, and cannot be refuted, for

"No age has been, since nature first began, To work Joves wonders, but hath left behind ae deeds of praise for mirrors unto man, Which more than threatful laws have been inclin'd. To tread the paths of praise excites the mind ; Mirrors tie thoughts to virtue's due respects; Examples hasten deeds to good effects."

To illustrate this, let the reader then look around to places that were once in a similar situation as Lebanen now is, and he cannot help seeing the folly in still persisting in this practice of cramming a flourishing town, destined soon to become a city, full of comparatively small grave yards The sad fate is already stamped on us that swept over many neighboring towns, (Harrisburg, Lewsbarg, Reading, Norristown, &c.,) where entire grave yards located in those towns for a century had to be removed, and we truly believe that in thirty years hence the graves that now entomb our loved ones will be disturbed by the rude hands of workmen, and not a single grave yard that is now within the circuit of our borough limits, will remain unmoved: However incredible this may sppear to some, we Believe't with a sincero heart.* Some may ask, whit's to be done to remedy this great error. We will endeavor to answer: There are some beautiful spets from three to five miles around this borough, well calculated, and as if they word providentially designed, for such a long-wished, unquestionably necessary and much lamonted-GENERAL CENETERY-a place where mortal bodies might forever tout in silent repose beneath the shadows of the waeping willow.

Indifference and neglect in this respect on the part of our community, indicates, strongly the dice. Such doubtless say, it is too late now !'wise and ancient maxim, to profit by. It will be later (en years hence, and if a general Cemetery be oped we should prefer moving our baried friends while alive, instead of being at some tant day removed by such whom "the laws that be" employ for the prosecution of sathering the remains of the mouldering dead, in some misahiped Box, without the know bidge of whose they are, and without a care how! We therefore hold (Hattigiy Bail ogip bora to prit affactivoling a result of vilaturbing the delat by fivil law, it is our high moral date to de an our high moral duty to do so. [* We noticed last week in a New York pape that the workmen, in opening a new streat, were obliged to; out through one of the small grave yards attached to one of the Churches of that city. With rude hands, and surrounded by a mocking and jeering crowd, they deposited the dead of every stage of decay, of every age and sex; upon one common heap, and left them remain in that position until the atmosphere became tainted by the decomposing matter, and the authorities compelled their removal. They were then shoveled like rubbish upon carts and carted away. Twenty. Hve years hence the same vandalism may inrade our grave yards .- ED.] . .ouborlf withted
