Letter from Washington.

respondence of the Lebanon Advertiser.

WASHINGTON, April 30, 1558. The question is settled! Kansas is now a State, and after a struggle unparalleled in the political bistory of our country since the consideration of the Compromise measures of 1820. Four years wrangling, in and out of the territory of Kansas, by the people themselves, and four months discossion by their immediate [representatives, has made the "Kaness imbroglie" in all its phases, simost household words. Its consideration had roused the attention of the people of every section of the Union, almost to the stagnation of degitimate business, and in the present Congress, to the almost entire exclusion of important pubdie business.

The attempts of the talented and indefatigable Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means, Hon. J. Glancy Jones, to report the appropriation bills, were utterly disregarded; and in the dark and dismal passage through the deep when success for a moment attended his efforts, valley. God has promised to be your root and by the House resolving itself into a Committee of staff, and angels shall welcome you home with the Whole, to take up a billeropowted by him, the anthems of rapture, crying, "victory! victory! whole time would be consumed in discussing the victory!" all-absorbing though thread-bare subject.

Thank Heaven! The storm is over the question is dismissed from our legislative halls—the spublic pulse again beats free—the tide of Black Republican funaticism is hurled back, and the mad efforts of aspiring demagogues have been in vain; and last, though not least, the Democratic sparty has achieved a triumph which renders it

Amid this hand to hand fight, when the political storm-cloud gathered and wore a threatening Bapect, when the red-republican cry of "revolution and disunion," rang through the country, from the Arostock to the Rio Grande, when those who had carned laurels on many a well-contested field described their colors, and rallied under the banners of black-republicanism, the "old man nastood firm as the sturdy oak of his native Keya spirit worthy the palmiest days of "Old Hick-

The excitement in the House to-day was intense and upon the call for the previous question being sustained, the House was brought to a direct vote upon the question of adopting the report of the conference committees. There were 215 votes cast, 112 for the bill, 103 against. The result had scarcely been announced, when a message was received from the Senate informing the magic numbers in the grand "finale" of this troublesome question. While I am writing the cannons are belching forth the thunder of victoto every quarter of the Union.

A difference having arisen between the Senate Conference were appointed, but to-day after the "quietus" had been put upon the Kansas question, the Senate receded and the Bill became a ed by a majority in both Houses of Congress, and the representatives of the people have transacted more business between the rising and setting of to-day's sun, than throughout the entire session. The Democrats from our State who voted with the Black-Republicans are Messrs, Chapman and Hickman. Mr. Montgomery is absent and was tering host of heaven were studding the sky, and saved the disgrace of being placed on the record with his abony allies. Telonical

Forney, who has ranked himself a masterspirit in this centest, must feel highly flattered at the result; his hopes crushed, and his blows aimed at the administration rendered harmless, must make his position a very unenviable one, and in the fullness of his heart, he is sighing, PHILAD'A., MAY 3, 1858.

MR. BRESLIN-Dear Sir :-What meaneth this sadness that has so sudden ly fallen upon us? Wherefore mourneth the city as in the voice of one man? Why that solemn, silent, yet deep affliction among the herd? A shepherd has gone—the flock have lost their guide! A standard-bearer in Immanuel's ranks has fallen! Fallen-not forever no with his armor on—his master had need of him—he has gone before and his works to follow him! As a well-polished shaft, the Master has faid him aside, the work being done. Firm to daty; sealous in his work; charitable in spirit; unobtru-sive; he lost himself behind the cross fearless of man, but faithful to God. Rev. Dudley A. Typg died as he lived—a monument of the merdy, goodness and power of God. His last battle ary, as he rushed on to victory, gave him the eternal river, his lips whispered, in sweet, but thrilling accents-"Oh! Father, stand up for Jesus!" True to Him in life, he died praising Him in death! A legacy better than worldly fame -- a never ending immortality! He needs no panegyrio-his daguerrectype has been struck by the light of Heaven upon our hearts—his spirit remainsth to cheer us on in the conflict and whispers, "Be faithful to the end and you shall have the crown." We knew him not our hearts were united in the bonds of Christian fellowship; and as we listened to his pathetic appeal, as he accomplished his master's errand—we loved him. This is no strange tie-it is the love of God shed abroad in the heart—the Holy Spirit's signet .-Time but welds the links of sympathy the strongar and the link ends its union in Christ!

In the Union movement, of which I have writfon to you, our brother was the pieneer he led the front ranks and fell as a hero, beating down, ens by one, the hedges of exclarianiem that ob racted the passage to triumph and poace Need I say he successed !- We are all waited in Christ we have laid aside the names, and inscribed apon our benners : · Frank & robles

No, sir-the subject is too stale even for an old fogy like myself; yet I cannot refrain from telling you what kind of company I had on the car: several members of Congress, among whom was the somewhat famous Giddings of Ohio, a real clever, good sort of fellow-although cracked on the Slavery question; House that that body had concurred in the re-port, by a majority of nine—thus making up a happy coincidence, (the majorities being the same 17. immediately in front of the White House: safe!" said the ex-governor, who sat opposite to while the telegraph offices are beseiged with ela. | me in an eating saloon, as I handed him the cream ted politicians, despatching the joyful intelligence to whiten his coffee. "Orrville !" roared the conductor, and I was landed. A taverner on the spot offered me the accommodations of his bouse, and I followed him with willing step. He ordered "supper for one;" hungry and weary I sat down by the well-furnished board, which contained "plenty and variety" for half a dozen like myself. "I wonder if this luxuriant board is an index to the living in Ohio generally?" thought I to myself as I deveured right and left the delicious viands. A few weeks of travel even so; and I have found that providing for the table is the "least concern" of these "mortals here below." Apples that would be werth two dollars a bushel in Lebanon are sold here at twen ty-five cents and other edibles in proportion. Wherever I have been in the counties of Wayne Medina, and Sammitte the land seems to be flowing with milk and honey. But the people have no money, at least they say so, and they don't seem to care much as long as they have enough to cat. Trading is all the go; and it is consider ed all important for every one to be something of a sharper in order to get along. A large proportion of the people are Yankees, and many a trick they played on the Pennsylvania Germans when they first settled among these wily sons of the "Pilgrims." But the "Dutch" are enough for them now. The term "Dutch Yankee" is as common as Yunkee itself. The blending of Yankee notions with the peculiarities of Pennsylvanians. in manners, habits, and in the various pursuits of life, has proved beneficiation both sides. The Germans have learned many nice humanities of their New-England neighbors; many rough corners have been worn down by association with them; and in process of time the two elements ecame so assimilated that the people are now one people; neither being the same as they were originally. From the Germans the Yankees, mahow to do great things on a small scale ny of them, learned to be thorough going farmers to cultivate large farms; while again on the other hand the Germans have learned from their English brethren the secret of small farming, and A very pleasing feature I have noticed here which may be worth mentioning. The people enjoy life. The almighty dollar is not perpetually haunting their brains (their pockots neither, they say,) and nobody works very hand. They don't believe, as many of our people do, that a man will not get to Heaven unless he dies a cripple from hard labor. Every thing that can possibly be done by machinery is so done, whether it be in the great manufactories or in the ordinary workshops. Farmers, mechanics and all take the world as easily as possible, work as little as possi. ble, and live better than most people. They take time to talk to one another on the various topics of the day, are zealous on the subject of education, and they avail themselves of the innocent pleasure afferded them which utilitarians look upon as dreadfully out of the pockets. Let no one think, however, that IDLERESS is here encouraged. On the contrary no person is looked upon be dear-knows-where.

Not so in Ohio. The roads here are laid off with as much exactness as the streets of Philadelphia. For example I will take the county of Medina, in which I now am. It is devided into works do not precede, they follow us! The ap- about twenty townships, every one exactly five peal is to-day for laborers in the vineyard, and miles square; each has a town or village exactly in the centre, where the elections. &c., are held. These go by the name of "Center," as Wadsworth Center, Sharon Center, &c. The roads lay parallel, at equal distances apart, cross each other at right angles, extending in a straight line through the county, and the adjacent counties, and many, I believe in a direct line through the entire state. The corners, or crossings, are all time and age and health are yours! Come while designated, as Clark's Corners, Bute's Corners, and so forth.

But Ohio has her faults. In religion she is badly tinetured with the prevailing isms of the Yankees, and in politics she is what a Democrat would call a "bad egg." The vote at the gubernatorial election last fall showed a Democratic gain, and great hopes were entertained that the good Old Party would ere long triumph over all the opposition factions. But, like Pennsylvania, Ohio has her Forney, in the person of old Gray of Cleveland, the able editor of the "Plaindonier," once the leading Democratic journal of the state, but now employed in persecuting the righteous administration of Mr. Buchanan, simply to gratify the ambition of Douglas and his host of satel-lites. Thousands of honest and sterling Democrats have turned their backs upon the Admin's-tration through the influence of Old Gray, in whom they had such unbounded confidence that they thought he cours not lie. Hail Pennsylvania! Proud Keystone of the Federal arch! she too has an Arnold-self confident, conceited Forney, treacherous demagogue and political aspi-SIGMA.

A CHERING BUSINESS Sign .- A correspondent of the New Cork Courier says that a firm in that city, largely engaged in the sale of domestics, recently stated that their sales since January last, had been a quarter of a million of dollers larger than ever in the same space of time before, and that their immense business had been mostly on terms equivalent to cash. This is one of the many gratifying signs of the return of prosperity in the business affairs of the country. Nature, that was ever heard of: I have just returned from a visit to one of the most extraordinary cariosity ever known in the history of human race. A negro woman belong. ing to Mr. Samuel Stites, of this place, gave birth, eight days ago, to four living children, joined together by pairs in a still more peculiar manner than the Siamere Twins. The two boys are connected at the shoulder, and from the hip to the knee joint, leaving the lower joint of the legs and the feet of each perfectly free. The girls are joined at the shoulder, with this difference fromthe boys, that they have but one arm issuing from the junction of their shoulders. They are joined from the hip down to the foot-the two legs ending in one foot.

In regard to the color of the children, nature seems to have been quite as eccentric as in their formation, one of the boys being black, and the other as white as the child of a white woman; and so with the girls. They all seem to be perfeetly healthy, and the mother is doing uncommonly well.

"What's app" Truth, however, soon flashed upon the minds of all Bee-helders, when the novelty of tumbling, rolling and unpacking of Boxes, Barrels and Bales, amidst a crowd of spectators already collected around the doors and walks, all anxiously persevering, for builty glimpes at what has since we effectually astonished the natives.
