CORSETS. When I was over in your town, A week ago or more, I sawa very sing'lar thing, I never saw befc?o.

and a second second

Twas hanging in a window case, Upon's string a stradule-Looked something like an hour-glass, And something like a saddle.

I asked of several city "gents," Who chanced to be at hand, "What was it?" but their gibberish. " I could not understand.

One fellow called it "a restraint, On certain parties placed, Like a decree in Chancery, To stay the tenant's waste !"

Another-just the greenest chap Of any in the swarmfaid "'twant the glass of fashion, but It was the mould of form."

Another said, "'twas a machine A lady used to rig her, To bring her life and form into The very smallest figure.'

At last a little girl came out And-think of my amaze-She asked me "if I wouldn't please To buy a pair of stays!"

Of course, I'd heard of "stavs" before. But, strike me deaf and dumb, If ever I, until that hour, Suspected "them was um!"

Well-isn't it eaceeding strange, That any maid or wife, Just for a 'little taper" should Put out "the lamp of life?"

I know that lunatics must have Straight-jackets put about 'em, But women in their wits should make A shift to do-without 'em!

DISAPPOINTMENT.

Ob, how sovers the cun that hears Within that bitter draught of wors, And he who drinks it scarcely shares A thought from whence comparsion flows.

Alone, in secret and in gloon Over his hapless lot he pines. His heart a cold and living-tom Where not one ray of glory shines.

The world to him is dark and void, Its coldness chills his bosom's flow, Stern fate has cruelly destroy'd That peace he never more can know.

and lonely downward to the grave, Headless of life or death he goes-No charm his fading bloom can save Till death his dreary prospects close.

SONG.

BY BAMUEL LAURENCE JAMES Could I exchange or give away This wayward heart of mine, I would entreat theo hear me say-

Love asketh only heart for heart. Nor is content with less ; Nor more, believe me, can impart A greater claim to blsss.

"I am forever thine !"

But fortune frowns and is unkind Since whom I love returns So small a recompénse, Tifind My bosom vainly burns.

Yet L yes I, disdain to ask Thy bright and cheering smile; My face denies to grief a mask My tongue cannot beguile!

WHEN I CALL. الاراقية أرتدمير

When I call will you come to me, field, Like the bird to his wave-girdled nest. Where his mate is waiting his cooing to hear, With a loving and radiurous breast? When I sall you to gladden my lot, You will come, dearest one, will you not?
