

Lebanon Advertiser.

Press might have been obtained for the more asking and probably without charge—but when the implication was that its favor was not desired, it was not in human nature to extend it voluntarily.

The ladies deserve, and receive great credit for their contributions and handiwork, and it is not fair to their expectations it is not owing to them. They are always first and best—the "better half" of creation that make the blunders.

Our Fair.—We publish elsewhere, correct reports of committees, who awarded premiums and diplomas to the exhibitors, at our first annual Fair, and would say that we are indebted to the able, active and intelligent secretary, Mr. Rightmeyer, for being thus early in laying before our readers the same.

We will add, also, in this connection, that great praise is due to the efficient and energetic Chairman, Levi Kline, Esq., in managing the affairs of the Society, with so much signal ability and success.

We believe all parties are satisfied now that Lebanon County, though small in area and with a sparse population, is not behind her sister counties, as will be seen by reference to the reports, in all the departments of science, and art, and the Farming and Domestic pursuits by our own people.

We would gladly accept our remarks on this matter, but want of room compels us to desist.—The reports, however, will speak for themselves, and to them we call the special attention of the public and those interested.

It is impossible to notice, particularly, all the parties engaged in giving so signal a success to our Agricultural Fair. Still, we take the liberty of saying that Mr. Samuel Herman, the untiring and energetic Superintendent, was fully up to the emergency. Always there and always ready, his multifarious duties passed from his hands with a system and regularity, truly surprising.

Wm. V. Murray, Chief Marshal, and his Assistants, also command passing notice. Always there and always busy, they were untiring in the performance of the many duties of their department. They received, as they deserved, general commendation for the satisfactory manner in which they attended to their part of the programme.

The duties of the Police were probably as tiresome as that of any on the grounds. Especially those in the Durham Hall, where the fancy articles were on exhibition, had a hard duty to perform. All the time on the watch, and all the time compelled to sing out, "Hands off," "Hands on," we believe had rather saw wood a day than have taken their place.

The citizens of the two boroughs we learn, presented, through the hands of Mr. Jonathan Geesman, a handsome flag to the Myerstown Dragoons, on Thursday. Not having been aware of the intended compliment, we were not present, and hence cannot give the proceedings.

The new Moravian Church is rapidly rising from the ruins. The Corner stone of the new structure was laid, with appropriate ceremony, on Tuesday of last week. Several of the distinguished Ministers of the denomination were in attendance, as also the ministers of the Churches of this place.

A SERENADE.—The members of the Keystone Band of Reading will accept the thanks of the Editor of the Advertiser for the compliment paid him on Thursday night. Their music was charming, and would have been responded to in a substantial manner had we been previously aware of their intention.

It cannot be expected that the hand practically trained to the plough, should excel with the artist's brush, yet the paintings on exhibition at the Fair by Mr. Adam Lauer would compare favorably with the pictures of some of the puffed up and would be great masters of the age. The figures and designs of Mr. L.'s paintings will bear examination.

The Crayon Drawings by Miss Susan Ashmud, of North Lebanon, were specimens of art which for beauty and completeness cannot, in our opinion, be excelled. They are gems.

The deep interest taken in the success of the Lebanon County Agricultural Exhibition, and the time and labor devoted to it by WILLIAM URRICH, Esq., of Myerstown, the Recording Secretary, deserves special commendation. In the performance of his duties he labored far too long—more than twice as long as he should have done in getting up the Society to its crowning success, the Fair, he was one of its most earnest and devoted friends.

The old books, exhibited by Dr. A. V. Bucher, of Schuylersburg, attracted a great deal of attention. One was a Chemistry 316 years old; another was a German Botany 225 years old, and a third a Tumbler made in 1740. There are very few printed Bibles at present that date back further than 1530. We shall some day or other make an examination of the works, minutely, and give a full description of them, as they deserve it.

Among the attractions at the Agricultural Fair, on Thursday, were the Fredericksburg Guards, Capt. Earnst. They are a fine company, in excellent drill, and attracted notice. They numbered upward of 40 men.

The Myerstown Dragoons, Capt. Wm. Zie, were also on the ground, on Thursday. We saw a fine four volunteer horse company, not one that passed through the exercises with more regularity and system. They received general commendation. There were about 60 men including officers, on horseback, on parade. They were accompanied by the Keystone Band of Reading, who although a new organization played exceedingly well.

An Accident.—On Thursday afternoon immediately after the trotting-match of horses in sulkeys had commenced, a collision took place on the course, between the sulky of Wm. Hoffman and another sulky. Mr. H. was thrown out and dragged some distance, without, however, sustaining any injuries. The horse owned by Dr. Barry, after trotting through the ring several times, and in passing out, at great speed, ran over the sulky struck Mr. John Carl, of Myerstown, inflicting a severe wound about the eye. It was at first thought that Mr. C. was fatally injured, but we since learn that his wounds are merely of the flesh, and that he is now almost well again. The accident caused a tremendous excitement for a time, which however speedily subsided when it was ascertained that no one was fatally injured.

The Lecture of Hon. Horace Greeley, before the Young Men's Christian Association of Lebanon, on Thursday evening, was attended by a large and intelligent audience. His subject—"Reforms and Reformers," embodied many of his peculiar notions, and the fact that many of the sentiments are not condemned may, probably, be attributed to the fact that the delivery of them was frequently so imperfect that they were not understood.

Mr. Greeley also delivered an address on Friday morning before the Agricultural Society, at Lebanon, in the Court House. The subject of Agriculture is one with which Mr. G. is well acquainted scientifically, and on which he has given general satisfaction. The numerous verger and other citizens who have read his paper and heard him speak, is that he is rather a better writer than speaker. This is, however, an opinion.

The Fair of the Union Fire Company, we learn, will be attended, and the amount realized quite a handsome figure—some $800 or $900. This is quite a large amount, considering that scarcely one person in ten, of the country folks, were aware that there was any other Fair but the Agricultural. The result of ignoring the Press was never more apparent than in the case under notice. The favor of the
