A friend recently told her "help," newly arrived, to boil the cloths, preparatory to washing, several hours after, she found that the tea kettle had been filled, and was doing good service, but slowly, on account of its limited capacity.

Well Mr. Robinson, and how does your son get on with his violin?" "Astonishingly, there were fourteen of us playing together last night and he took the lead." "Capital-admiral !" "Yes, and he kept it so well, sir, that none of us could catch him !"

A celebrated actress, whose fresh smile and silvery voice favored the deception, always called herself "sweet sixteen." She stated her age at sixteen in a court room as a witness. Her son at sixteen in a court room as a witness. Her son was directly after placed on the stand, and asked SAWING FUND. how old he was. "Six months older than mother," was the honest reply.

In a school, when the scholars were parsing, the word waif occurred in the sentence .---The youngest who was up, a bright-eyed little fellow-puzzled over the word for a few minutes, and then, as a bright idea struck him, he bursts out with, "I can conjugate it. Positive, waif; comparative, waifer; superlative, sealing-wax !"

A GOOD HUMORED REBUKE.-A certain good natured old farmer preserved his constant good nature, let what would turn up. One day while the black tongue prevailed, he was told that one of his red oxen was dead.

"Is ho," said the old man, "well, he was always a breachy old fellow. Take off his hide and take it down to Fletcher's; it will bring the cash."

In an hour or two the man came back with the news "line back" and his mate were both dead. "Are they ?" said the old man, "well, I took them from B----, to save a bad debt I never expected to get. Take the hides down to Fletcher's; they will be as good as cash."

LEAP YEAR. the is

Many readers wish to know why the year 1900 will not be a lenp year, inasmuch as 1900 is devisible by four? The reason is this: Our year consists of 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes, 48 seconds, but for purposes of convenience in reckoning we call it 365 days and 6 hours, and to make up for the odd six hours we add an extra day every fourth year and call it leap year. Absolute ly, however, this adding an extra day every four years is astronomically incorrect, it being, to a small degree, an excess; and in the course of a hundred years this inaccuracy increases to an amount which it is necessary to take notice of .---Hence, once in a hundred years, the leap year is omitted, for the purpose of balancing the account. But here again comes a difficulty, because such omission of the leap-year is too great an omissior, as the excess before alluded to, does not in the course of a hundred years quite amount to a day ; therefore to make matters perfectly square all round, every four hundredth year is also reckoned as a leap-year. This being the case, it follows that only those centennial years which are divisible by four hundred are leap years. For exam ple, the year 100, 200, and 300 were not leapyears, but the year 400 was. The next contennial leap-year was the year 800; the next 1200; the next 1600; and the next contennial leap year that the world will see, will be the year 2000 .--By this it will be seen that old Father Time strikes his balance sheet accurately only once in four hundred years.

MARRIAGE GUIDE .-- YOUNG'S GREAT PHYSIO-MARRIAGE GUIDE --YOUNG'S GREAT PHYSIO-LOGICAL WORK, The Pocket Esculapius, or Every One His Own Doctor, by W. Yougg, M. D., It is written in plain language for the general reader, and is illustrated with upwards of One Hundred Engrwings. All young married people, or those contemplating matriage, and having the least impediment to married life, should read this hook. It discloses secrets that every one should be nequainted with. Still, it is a book that must be kept locked up, and not lie about the house. It will be sent to any one on the receipt of twenty five cents. Addres by, W.M.
