A similar course was pursued with refer-action to other outrages in these countries, some of which were hardly less aggravated in their character than the transacion at Virgin Bay. At the time, hewever, when our present minister to Nicaragua was ap pointed, in December, 1857, no redress hud been obtained for any of these wrongs, and no reply even had been made by this Govern-ment upon that of Costa Rica, more than a 'year before. Our minister was instructed, 'therefore, to lose no time in expressing to those Governments the deep regret with which the President had witnessed this inat-tention to the just claims of the U. States, and in demanding their prompt and satisfac-tory adjustment. Usless this demand shall be complied with at an early day;'s twill only

The game con-sequences have resulted from similar causes to many other branches of macful manufactures. It is self evident that where itere is no ability to purchase manufactured atri-cles, these cannot be sold, and consequently must cease to be produced. No Government, and ospecially a Government of such limited powers as that of the United States, could have prevented the late revuision. The whole commercial world eccement for years to have been righting to this ca-tastrophs. The same random consequentiat would have million of dollars. The receipts of the Vost Office Department can be made to approach or to equal its experidition, only by means of the legislation of Congress. In applying any remedy, ento should be taken that the people shall not be deprived of the ad-vantages which they are fairly entilled to dajoy from the Post Office Department. The principal remedies recommended to the consideration of Congress by the Postmaster General, are to re-stord the former rate of postage upon single let-ters to five cente; to substitute for the franking privilege the delivery to those now entilled to en-joy it, of post office times for their correspond-ence, and to direct the department, in making privilege the delivery to those now entitled to en-joy it, of post office stimps for their correspond-ence, and to direct the department, in making ernment throughout the transaction: They as contincts for the transportation of the mail, to confine itself to the payment of a sum necessary sured me that, after a caroful culculation, for this single purpose, without requiring it to be transported in post coaches or carriages of any particular description. #Under the present sysdred and fifty dollars on each individual in com blying with the agreement, and they would have nothing left to ramunerate them for their care. term, the expense to the Government is greatly in-trouble, and responsibility. There having been no outstanding appropria-tion applicable to this purpose, I could not ad-vance any money on the agreement. I therefore I would sgdin call your attention to the con-struction of a Pacific railroad. The and reflec-tion have but served to confirm me in the truth and justice of the observations which I made on of the amount necessary to carry it into effect. Other captures of a similar character may, and other captures of a similar character may, and

I beg leave respectfully to refer. It is freely admitted that it would be inexpedi-ent for this Government to exercise the power of probably will, be made by our naval forces; and I earnestly recommend that Congress may amend the second section of the act of March 3 constructing the Pacific railroad by its own im-mediate agents. Such a policy would increase the patronage of the executive to a dangerous ex-1819, so as to free its construction from the am-biguity which has so long existed, and render the duty of the I resident plain in executing its protent and introduce a system of jobbing and cor-ruption, which no vigilance on the part of Federisions. I recommend to your favorable regard the local al officials could either prevent or detect. This nterests of the District of Columbia. As the interests of the Dispice of container. As the residence of Congress and the executive depart-ments of the Government, we cannot fail to feel a deep concern in its welfare. This is heighten-ed by the high character and the penceful and orand careful sepervision of individual and private nterest. The construction of this ro adought, therefore, o be committed to companies incorporated by the States, or other agencies whose pecuniary inter-ests would be directly involved. Congress night then assist them in the work by grants of land or of money, or both, under such conditions and re-strictions as would secure the transportation of roops and munitions of war free from any charge, and that of the United States mail at a fair and rensonable price. The progress of events since the commence ment of your last session has shown how soor difficulties disappear before a firm and determin ed resolution. At that time such a road way deemed by wise and patriolic men to be a vision-ary project. The great distance to be overcome, and the intervening mountains and descris in the into general appropriation bills provisions for-way, were obstacles which, in the opinion of ma-ny, could not be surmounted. Now, after the lapse of but a single year, these obstacles, it has been discovered, are far less formidable than they themselves, as a guide to their proceedings durwere supposed to be; and mail stages, with pas-sengers, now pass and repass regularly, twice in each week, by a common wagon road between San Francisco and St. Louis and Memphis; in last thor twenty. North Lebanon, Aprill 1, 1868.-tf. ite money for the construction of this road, exept that derived from the war making power of the Constitution, there are important collateral considerations urging us to undertake the work as speedily as possible. The first and most momentous of these is, that such a road would be a powerful bond of union between the States east and west of the Rocky Mountains. This is so self-evident as to requir no illustration. But again, in a commercial point of view, I consider this the great question of the day.— With the eastern front of our Republic stretching along the Atlantic, and its western front along the Pacific, if all the parts should be united by a the Pacific, if all the parts should be united by a safe, easy, and rapid intercommunication, we must necessarily command a very large portion of the trade both of Europe and Asia. Our recent treaties with China and Japan will Our recent treaties with China and Japan will open these rich and populous empires to our com-merce; and the history of the world proves that the nation which has gained possession of the-trade with Eastern Asia has always become weal-thy and powerful. The peculiar geographical position of California and our Pacific posses-sions invites American capital and enterprise in-derly conduct of its resident inhabitants. I cannot conclude without performing the agreeable duty of expressing my gratification that Congress so kindly responded to the recommendation of my last annual message, by affording me sufficient time before the close of their late sension for the examination of all the bills pre-sented to me for approval. This change in the practice of Congress has proved to be a whole-some reform. It exerted a beneficial influence
