'CONGRESS.

Monday, Feb. 14, 1859.

Definito action on but one measure of imporauce was had in Congress to-day, the time in both ouses being principally taken up in the discusion of the Tariff question and the general subject of the reduction of expenditures. In the Senate, he Senators from the State of Oregon, Messrs. LANE and SMITH, were introduced and sworn in. On drawing their seats, Mr. Suith, obtained the long term. Mr. BIGLER's Tariff resolution was then taken up, and Mr. HUNTER, of Virginia, nade a long speech in elaboration of his views in eference to the present financial condition of the country, and in favor of ad valorem instead of specific duties. After Mr. HUNTER had concluded, the case of the Indiana Senators came up, was debated several hours, and finally decided in accordwhich confirms the right of Messrs. BRIGHT and Firch to their seats. In the House, a bill was reroutes, and gives authority to the Postmaster-General to contract for carrying the mails whenever and Wherever the public convenience may repassed. The proceedings of Congress to-day were imporident to request the Heads of Departments to prepare their estimates for 1860 on a basis not exceeding $50,000,000. The question of its proper was taken up.

TUESDAY, Feb. 15, 1859. Congress did nothing of special importance today. In the Senate, the House bill modifying the pay of Army officers was taken up, and elicridicule of Pennsylvania Interests" have ited considerable discussion. It was, however, all come from the leading 'Republican | finally passed with slight amondment. A bill was introduced by Mr. Wilson, of Massachusetts, to regulate the mileage of members of Congress .then, confidently relying upon the facts It allows fifteen cents a mile for distances under one thousand miles, twentyments for distances passed easily if the opposition would over one thousand and under two thousand five hundred miles, and twenty-five cents for and above the latter distance. It was referred to the Judiciary Committee. Mr. CRITTENDEN then made a speech on the Cuban question in the opposition to the views of the Administration, and was folweek. During the brief period yet re- lowed by HALE on the same side. In the House maining a large amount of work has to the member from Oregon, Mr. Groven, appeared and took his seat. After several ineffectual efforts to procure the consideration of matters out of the regular course, the Senate's amendments to from Washington we are led to believe the Indian Appropriation bill were considered and acted upon in Committee of the Whole. An eve ning session was held for general debate. Some days since the House adopted a resolution, calling upon the President for information The Democratic State Central relative to the case of the yacht Wanderer, which recently landed a cargo of slaves in Ga. The Cuban bill then came up as the special order, and Mr. THOMPSON, of Kentucky, addressed the Senate in opposition to the proposed acquisition. Mr. Stephens, of Georgia, reported from the Committee on Territories a bill providing for a Government in Arizona. Two amendments were proposed looking to the future foundation of the State Government, and prescribing a certain method proceeding, and another providing that the country should always be free from Slavery, as when acquired from Mexico; when the whole supject, on motion of Mr. Kingons, of Indiana, was laid on the table, 121 against 73. Mr. STEPHENS then successively reported bills for the organization of temporary Governments in Dekotah and Jefferson, but they were both also tabled. The action of the House is a pretty certain indication that no new Territorial Governments will be authorized during the present session. The Senate's amendments to the bill granting public land to the States to provide for the founding of agriand all his establishment were in good cultural colleges, were concurred in. The Senate's amendments to the Indian Appropriation bill were considered in Committee of the Whole, and the one transferring the Indian Bureau from the Interior to the War De partment was rejected. The House subsequently concurred in the action of the Committee.

Thursday, Feb. 17, 1859. Debates on the Appropriation bills principally occupied the attention of Congress to-day, varied Cuban question. The General Appropriation bill was reported to the Senate from the Finance Committed as it came from the House. The resolution recently introduced by Senator Wilson, calling for detailed information relative to Mr. Butterfield's overland mail contracts, was agreed to. The Homestead bill, after some opposition, was taken up and read, but it was afterwards laid aside erto there has been no remedy. After refusing to the House went into Committee for the consideration of the Army Appropriation bill. Mr. Stanton, of Ohio, moved to strike out an appropriawithout any definite action.

Tuesday afternoon Sarah B. Noble, aged 5 years, called at the National Circus, Phila., in relation to an advertisement for girls to perform in Cinderella. Up on reaching the stage, she was attracted to the cage in which the wild beasts are confined, and began to caress one of the tigers, which seized her by the left arm and lacerated it in a shocking manner, before it could be forced to let go its hold. So firmly were its jaws closed upon the limb, that a crow bar had to be used to force the mouth onen. It was found necessary to have the arm amputated. Miss Noble resided in Callowhill street.

WHY DON'T YOU LEARN A TRADE?-This question was propounded, in our hearing, a few days since, to a young man who had been for several months unsuccessfully seeking employment as a clerk or salesman in one of our leading houses. Complaining of his ill-luck, one of his friends who knew he had mechanical talent, but doubted whether he could make himself useful either as a clerk or salesman, put the interrogatory to respectable as a mercantile occupation. Under this delustve idea, our stores are crowded with and, who, because of the fancied respectability and, before they reach the age of thirty, many of them look with envy upon the thrifty mechanic, whom, in the days of their hoyhood, they were accustomed to deride. The false views of respectability which prevail in the soi-distant fashonable society of the present day, have ruined thousands of young men, and will ruin thousands

THE BIRTHPLACE OF ANDREW JACK. son.—A spirited controversy has been for some time past continued in North and South Carolina, respecting the locality of this hero's birth. Until this discussion commenced it was generally understood that he was a native of Warsaw, South Carolina. Gen. Walkup, of North Carolina, has made out a strong case in favor of his claim that the hero of New Orleans was born in Mecklenburg county, in the Old North State, near the line of South Carolina. Not long after his birth, Warsaw, in the lat. ter State, became his home, and hence has always passed for his birthplace.
