The den were arrested upon a small Union canal boat, upon which it is supposed they had been accustomed to pass up and down the Schuylkill canal, pass counterfert mooey, plunder, rob, and do things up brown generally. The officer, in company with hotel keeper upon whom these chaps had passed some bogus dollars, came up to Pottstown on Friday evening, went to the Locks on Saturday morning, wait- 🖉 ed until the boat came up at half past ten o'clock, and when it had fairly got into the lock chamber stepped down into the lock chamber, stepped down and took them into custody. Three counterfeit gold dollars were found upn one of them, who stated that he had bought a lot of them in Philadelphia, at forty cents on the dollar. It is supposed they concealed some in the boat.-They were taken to Philadelphia for trial.-Pottstown Ledger.
