THE DYING NEVER WEEP. It is a striking lact—the dying never: weep. The oircle of sobbing, agonized hearis around, produces not one tear.— Is that he is insensible and stiff already in the chill of dissolution? That can-net be; for he asks for his father's hand, as ifto gain strength in the mortal strug-gle, and leans on the breast of mother, brother or sister, with still conscious afbrother or sister, with still conscious affection ; and just before expiring at eve, after a long day's converse with the Angel of Summons, he says to his oldest brother—the last audible good night of earth—"Kiss me, kiss me!" PHILADELPHIA MEDICAL HOUSE.-Established twenty two years ago by Dr. KINKELIN, corner of Third and Union streets, Philadelphin, Pa. TWENTY-TWO YEAKS' Experience has rendered Dr. K. a most successful practitioner in the cure of all diseases of a private nature, manhood's debility. as an impediament to marriage; ner-vous and sexual infimitios, diseases of the skin, and those arising from abuse of mercury. TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE. There is an evil habit sometimes indulged in by boys, in solitude, often growing up with them to manhood; and which, if not reformed in due time, not only begats serious obstacles to matrimanial happiness, but gives trise to a socies of protracted, insidious, and divastating affections.

The to a society of protectory, institutes, and devastating affections. Few of those who give way to this pernicious practice are aware of the consequences, until they find the ner-vous system shattered, feel strange and unaccountable sensations, and vague fours in the mind. [See pages, 27, 28, 29, of Dr. K.'s book on "Self-Preservation."] The unfortunate thus affected becomes feeble, is una-ble to habor with accustomed vizor, or to apply his mind to study; his step is tardy and weak; he is dull, irresolute, and ongages even in his sports with less ener-gy than usual. Dry-Goods, Grocery & Crockery, irresolate, and orgages even in his sports with less ener-gy than usual. If he emancipate himself before the practice has done its worst, and enter matrimony, his marriage is unfruit-ful, and his sense tells him that this is caused by his early follies. These are considerations. which should awaken the attention of all who are similarly situated. REMEMBER, If who places himself under Dr. KINKELIN'S treat-ment, may religiously confide in his honor as a gentile man. and rely upon the assurance, that the secrets of Dr. K.'s patients will never be disclosed. Young man-let no fulse modesty deter you from mak-ing your case known to one, who, from education and respectability, can certainly hefriend you.
