The Corner.

THESCHOOLMASTER'S PROMISE.

"Boys," said he smilingly, one day. What's up, thought we, and were all attentive. It-was like a sun-peep through a heavy storm-cloud when "old Haskin" smiled on us, and the phenemenon was "perfectly unaccountable.

"Boys," said he, "I am about to bargain with you for good behavior; (a change of factics, verily:) I desire that the you will conduct yourselves with decorum for one week, and I will promise to show you a curiosity-what no man ever saw; and having shown it to you, what no man will ever see again."

"Yes, sir!"-"Agreed!"-"l'yi, sir?" and various other expressions of acqui escence came from every quarter of the room; and, as a preface to the new state of things, the school was dismisa-the Genesce Mills of Feb. 3, 1858. ed at an early hour, leaving the boys to gaze into each other's eyes in astonishment, as if to divine in each other's in tuition the answer to the riddle which A had stolen upon them like a pleasant dream.

An anxious week followed-a week of curiosity, bewilderment, hope and pleasure in embryo. Out of the school it was all the talk-"what no man ever saw, and what no man shall ever see again"-not even the terrible author of the compromise. What could it be? Another and another day, until at length the identical named one dawned upon the gladdening young hearts. Nine o'clock came-every urchin was at his post-books and slates, all in readiness for the day's battle with the demon of darkness and ignorance-every task fully committed to memory .-Altogether a charming state of affairs! An active mind, not wedded too closely to orthodox ideas, would have divined at once the great advantage of rewards and kindness over oppression and cruelty. But our old tutor was evincible.-Unmake him? Never. You could not i alter his plans an iota.

"Tingle! tingle!" sounded the little bell-that bell had a voice as well as a tongue. Boys all attention ! eyes, ears, mouths agape! momentous epoch!

Old Haskins raised the lid of his desk, and drew the wond rful thing forth-adjusted his ominous-looking spectacles astride his nasal projection, and proceeded to the solemn ceremony. "Attention, school !" roared the tutor.

A single order was sufficient-you might have heard a pin drop.

The hour has at length arrived; behold in my upraised fingers a single almond"-(terrible suspense.) "In this almond is a kernel"-(ceremoniously breaks the shell and exposes the tiny thing. "This no man ever saw?" Then opening his capacious jaws, exposing an internal array of decaying ivory and raw flesh, that reminded us of the mouth of a Bengal tiger, he thrust in the mysterious kernel-crushed and swallowed it!

"Boys," exclaimed he, with emphasis, "boys, you will never-I will neverno man will ever see that kernel again! To your lessons, you rascals, every one of you!"

A STRANGE TEXT. - On the afternoon of the 20th ult., there was a special choral service in Westminster Abhey, the sermon being preached by the Rev. Henry Drury, D. The Reverend gentleman asion. ished the congregation by giving out a text which no one recognized as a passage of Scripture. The words were :-"We may we must we will" and he obtained them in the following manner: "We may," from the 3d of Genesis, 2d

A young oak tree, growing in this way on the mantle shelf of a room, is a very interesting object. We have seen several oak trees, and also a chestnut tree, thus growing; but all of them, however, have died after a few months, probably owing to the water not being changed sufficiently often to afford them the necessification of the second of with beautiful little green leaves. DAVID S. RABER.

crofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their shildren."

their children." Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tuberclers; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul cor-ruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous com-plaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in

AYER'S

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla, the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this every where prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the exputation of the content of system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Enurrive and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, or Envirelas, Pimples, Pustules, BLOTCHES, BLAINS and BOILS, TUMORS, TETTER and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Rheumatism, Syphilitic and Mercurial Dis-EASES, DROTSY, DYSPERSIA, DEBILITY, and, indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITIA. TED OR IMPURE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in dísease. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hositate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so nube forgotten.

PHILADELPHIA MEDICAL HOUSE.—Established twenty two years ago by Dr. KINKELIN, corner of Third and Union streets, philadelphia, Pa.

TWENTY-TWO YEARS'

Experience has rendered Dr. K. a most successful practitioner in the cure of all diseases of a private nature; manhood's debility, as an impediment to marriage; nervous and sexual infirmities, diseases of the skin, and those arising from abuse of mercury.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There is an evil habit sometimes fitidulged in by hoys, in solitude, often growing up with them to manhood; and which, if not reformed in due time, not only begets serious obstacles to matrimonial happiness, but gives rise to a series of protracted, insidious, and devastating affections. affections.

For of those who give way to this peruicious practice are aware of the consequences, until they find the norvous system shattered, feel strange and unaccountable sensatious, and vague fears in the mind. [See pages, 27, 28, 29, of Dr. K.'s book on "Self-Preservation."]

The unfortunate thus affected becomes feeble, is unable to labor with accustomed vigor, or to apply his mind to study; his step is tardy and weak; he is dall, irresolute, and engages even in his sports with less energy than usual.

mind to study; his step is tardy and weak; he is duft, irresolute, and engages even in his sports with less energy than usual.

If he emand pate himself before the practice has done its worst, and enter matrimony, his marriage is unfruitful, and his sease tells him that this is caused by his early follies. These are considerations which should awaken the attention of all who are similarly situated.

He who places himself under Dr. KINKELIN'S treatment, may religiously confide in his honor as a gentle man, and rely upon the assum e.e, that the secrets of Dr. K.'s patients will never be disclosed.

Young man—let no false modesty deter you from making your case known to one, who, from education and respectability, can certainly befriend you.

It gives me pleasure to add my testimony to the professional ability of the Author of the "Medical Manuela".
