HIFALUTIN.

Perhaps the following may not amuse either yourselves or your readers, but it did ne. In our drugstore I have a fellow clerk, somewhat celebrated among his acquaintances as a concocter of puns and the utterer of dry jokes. He is a boyish looking youth, and officiateswhen his services are required, behind the soda fountain. A few mornings since, a fashionably-dressed, poeticallooking young gentleman entered, and seating himself on a stool in front of the counter, in a choice selection of terms requested the clerk to prepare him a seidlitz powder. The following conversation, ridiculous in its earnestness, eresulted:

Clerk-With syrup? Customer-(slowly and methodical. ly)-I require it not as a refreshment.-If the syrup vitiate not the effect of the compound, you may mingle with itsuch an amount of the substance as will render the potation palatable. Or, to be letter understood-

Clerk-(Interrupting)-I comprehend you perfectly. Permit me to assure you that the tendency of the syrup will be rather to enhance than diminish the purgative virtues of the drug.

Customer-(Indignant at observing that his style is affected by the other) -Then proceed, miracle of medical literature and wisdom!

Clerk-With dispatch, confounder of fools. Customer-Then, if not struck motionless, use haste. All this was so quietly, so politely said, that, although amused beyond expression at the conversation, we stared in wonder at the parties. The clerk evidently felt cut at the last remark of the other, but mixed the powder, which the stranger triumphantly swallowed, paid for, and started to leave the store, when-Glerk-Should you feel any uneasiness in the region of the stomach within the period of fifteen minutes, illustrious patron, attribute the cause to the SAVING FUND. accidental introduction into the draught you have just taken of some drug of vigorous effect and painful consequence. Customer-(a tride frightened)-If I do, d-n you, I'll punch your head! Clerk-I thought I'd bring you down to plain English; but I gness you'll find the powder all right. [Exit customer, with coat tail standing straight out ]

ARE LADIES ALWAYS "GENTLEMAN-LY?"-Generally they are, but once in a great while they are not. The train was unusually full yesterday. A gentleman occupied one whole seat to himself, however, and his wife occupied another whole seat to herself. They were strangers in this part of the country, wore good clothes, & apparently thought they were rather more pumpkins than other people were. The lady was young and had tantalizing curls, and commence and looking for a seat.

"Is this seat engaged!" she affably said to the lady with curls.

"I calculate to occupy it myself." "Is anybody occupying it with you?" That makes no difference-I intend to occupy it myself."

"Will you see me stand up?"

"Well, I think I will sit down." but instead of striking the seat she found herself in the lap of the lady with the curls, who had suddenly moved with the intention of blocking the pleasant lady out. "Very well," said the latter, as pleasant as a summer's morn, "I am comfortable enough." But the lady with the curls was not. The mountain of consolidated crinoline was rather too pleasant lady was very heavy; and so Curls darted angrily out of the seat and swept into the next car. The pleasant seat all to herself, leaned back and laughed outright. The husband of Curls here awoke from a nap and expressed a desire to whip somebody-hedidn't exactly know who-for insulting his wife, but the passengers laughed him out of it. The pleasant lady said she was "a

When the vessel approached, the brigantine opened fire on the sloop, and the Spaniard soon found he had to cope with a pirate. The fight lasted about eight hours, the crew of the brigantine displayed prodigies of valor, always succeeding in their effort not to present their broadside to the sloop. At last the Spaniard, by a rapid manoeuvre, surprised the enemy and fired a chain shot, which carried away a good part of the bulwarks and mainmast of the brigantine. The Spaniard then boarded and captured the pirate by coup de main, taking one hundred and eighty men prisoners. A court martial was held on the spot, by order of which the pirate captain washanged to the yard-arm, and the whole of the crew were shot and thrown overboard. The brigantine was a fine vessel, and mounted fourteen guns .- Buenos Ayres Paper.

MEDICAL MANUAL

Being an original and popular Treatise on MAN AND WOMAN:

THEIR Physiology, Functions and Sexual Disorders of very kind, with nover-failing Rounidles for the speedy cure of diseases of a private and delicate character, incident to the violation of the Laws of Nature and

The author of the above volume is a graduate, and having devoted a quarter of volume is a graduate, and having devoted a quarter of a century to the study and treatment of Spyhilis and kindred disorders as a special control of the same, and is able to compress in to vade mecum compass the very quintessence of medical science on this important subject; as the result of the experience of the most eminent physicians in Europe and America is thoroughly demonstrated in his own highly successful practice in the treatment of secret diseases in many the asands of cases in the city of Philadelphia alone.

Testimony of the Prof. of Obstretrics in Penn. College,
"Dr. Hunter's Medical Manuel." The author of this work, unlike the majority of those who advertise to cure the diseases of which it treats, is a graduate of one of the best Colleges in the United States. It affords me pleasure to recommend him to the unfortunate, or to the victim of mal-practice, as a successful and experience de practitioner, in whose honor and integrity they may place the greatest confidence.

JOSEPH S. LONGSHORE, M. D.
From A. Woodward, M. D., of Penn. University, Philadelphia.

It gives me pleasure to add my testimony to the professional ability of the Author of the "Medical Manud." Numerous cases of Diseases of the Genital Organs, some of them of long standing, have come under my notica, in which his skill has been manifest in restoring to perfect health, in some instances where the patient has been considered beyond medical aid. In the treatment of Seminal weakness, or disarrangement of the functions, produced by Self-abuse, or Excess of venery, I do not know his superior in his profession. I have been acquainted with the Author some thirty years, and deem it no more than justible to him as well as a kindness to the unfortunate victim of early indiscretion, to recommend him as one, in whose professional skill and integrity they may safely confide themselves.
