

The Garner. "KIRWAN on Methodism" - The celebrated "Kirwan" (Dr. Murray, Presbyterian) thus writes about Stevens' history of Methodism:

"The history of the rise and progress of Methodism forms one of the most remarkable chapters in the history of the Church of God. In May, 1739, the corner-stone of the first Methodist church ever erected was laid in Bristol, and already has the Methodist Church become one of the great religious powers of the world. With but little wealth - greatly persecuted at the beginning - with a ministry always adorned by great minds, but mainly uneducated - it has extended itself through Britain and America; its missions dot the maps of Asia and Africa, as do the stars of the sky at night; its ministers march in the van of emigration to the foot of the Rocky Mountains, and to the shores of the Pacific; and wherever the anti-Christian nations are opening to the Gospel, there soon is to be found the Wesleyan missionary, ready to carry the light of life to the benighted. Deterred by no rigors of climate, its ministers may be found burning under the line and freezing toward the poles; and 'fearing' no privation, they may be found teaching the Indian in his wigwam, the African in his kraal, and the cannibals of the Pacific on their island homes. And whether agreeing or disagreeing with them as to their peculiarities, every Christian will rejoice in all that they are doing to glorify God or to save man. Although not collecting sheep into our fold, we thank God for all they are doing into the fold of Christ. A Church of such life-power, should have a historian, fitted by sympathy, by power of analysis, by varied reading, by a philosophical spirit, to write its history. Such a one it has found in Dr. Abel Stevens, the first volume of whose 'History of Methodism' has been recently issued. We have read it with the deepest interest from the beginning to the end; and while, of course, we dissent from some of his theological opinions, we do not see how, from his standpoint, and with his convictions, he could have written a more fair or candid book. It is lucid in style, elegant in diction, never sinks the historian in the sectarian, and inspires you with confidence in every chapter that he desires only to speak the truth. It is, in fine, a model volume of its kind; and if Dr. Stevens lives to conclude his great work, in keeping with the volume before us, he will take his place among the very first writers of Church history. He will do what McCre has done for Knox, and McVell; what Reid and Killen have done for the Church of Ireland."
