RUMORED RESIGNATION OF MR. Lake City, with the bones and carcasses of oxen; some of which were dead only a few hours, while others were in the last agonies of death. "It is currently reported on the street that Mr The air was offensive and sickening from the still adheres to its cherished scheme, is amply stench that Provided by a correspondent between him self and Cullen, the President of the Rending Railroad Cullen, the President of the Rending Railroad are often obliged to leave the road to avoid the Co., and representative of the English holders of disagreeable odor. I frequently counted the relies stock and securities, is about to retire from mains of from 40 to 60 head of cuttle in the space his position as the head of the company. We do not know that this current rumor is true, nor do we mention it in connection with the decline of the stock as a reason for that decline, but merely that our readers out of Third Street may be advised of what is there reported. This we may say, however, and we think without fear of contradiction, that whatever differences of opinion there may be as to Mr. Cullen's policy in the management of the road and its large and varied business, no one, so far as we have ever heard, has ventured to question his integrity of purpose. Mr. Cullen is plain and direct is his poliey, and it is not surprising that, in the clashing interests that centre in this leading coal carrying company, the rigid observance of his rules should have sometimes pinched uncomfortably cortain interests. The trade, too, it will be remembered, has passed through a season of unusual depression, and more determined rivalry than for several years. A little more sinuosity might perhaps have saved him some friends, but whether the trade or the ultimate interests of the company would have been thereby furthered is not so certain."

The Evening Bulletin, in referring to the ruenor of Mr. Cullen's probable resignation, gives the following as a reason for the act: "It is necessary that the Company should have a representative in Europe, to attend to certain affairs maturing in 1860, which is now near at hand, and it is believed that no one is so competent as Mr. it is believed that no one is so competent as Mr.

Cullen. It is, therefore probable that he will go to Europe, and the Presidency will be assigned to some one else. But no change will be made until the Board has had full deliberation and has til the Board has had full deliberation and has determined apon a fit successor who shall be satisfactory to all concerned."

The Council met on the 8th inst. Members all present. Minutes read. The following orders were then drawn, viz :- Gas $23,-21; Street Commissioner, Walnut Street, in full, $46,50; do., Centre Street, $14.75; do., Chestnut Street, on account, $57,31. Isaac Hoffer, Street Regulator, in full to date, $55,81; Susan Rooker, $9,80, to refund taxes on ground rent .--On motion the Street Commissioner, in connexion with the Supervisors of North Lebanon Borough, was directed to repair Church Street between Market and Walnut Streets. After the making of appointments to view street crossings, gutters, &c., the Council adjourned. A portion of the real estate of Henry H. Missemer, of Millereek, was sold at public sale, last week, by the Assignees as follows: The Mill to John Keller, of Lancaster county, for $10,185 ; Farm of 88 acres to H. W. CORRESPONDENCE.

Great Salt Lake City, Aug. 29, 1859.

Mr. Wm. M. Breslin.—Dear Sir:—As an humble representative of Lebanon Borough, who has strayed away to this far off region of Mormonism, where Polygamy reigns supreme, I have taken up my pen for the purpose of giving your readers such an idea of things, as a person will obtain who sojourns a while in the land of "Saints." But, as I intend giving you a brief account of our travel from Denver City to this place, it would be more in order to begin with an account of the trip, and then state my impressions of the city of the Mormons. We left pressions of the city of the Mormons. We left of the Wormons of the city of the July. and in Fred'k Hoffman. Heid'rg GREAT SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 29, 1859. has strayed away to this far off region of Mormonism, where Polygamy reigns supreme, I have taken up my pen for the parpose of giving your readers such an idea of things, as a person will obtain who sejourns a while in the land of "Saints." But, as I intend giving you a brief account of our travel from Denver City to this place, it would be more in order to begin with an account of the trip, and then state my impressions of the city of the Mormons. We left the city of Denver, on the 31st of July, and in twenty two days reached this place, a distance twenty two days reached this place, a distance of 600 miles. The express we used was "Sbanks mare." and we consider the time, quite good.— Our company consisted of John H. Sowers and myself, and together we made the trip alone. After leaving Denver City our course was almost directly north for the distance of 100 miles, until we struck what is termed the "Black Hills;" after which, we travelled westwardly, and soon ed through the Saramic and Bridge Passes, which brought as to the western slope of the Rocky brought as to the western slope of the Rocky Mountains. This, it is contended is the most easible route for the Pacific R. R. and has been designated the central route. It was very cold, on the summit of the Mountain, so much so, that my companion had his feet frozen. Think of that ye who were sweltering in heat at Lebanon, on in August day, and thank your stars, your lot was not worse. There was plenty of snow, and excellent water on the Eastern slope of the mountain, but upon the Western side there was carcely any snow, and the water was very bad. Game was plenty in these hills, and we met the Bear. Deer, Elk. Antelope, Goat, Hare and Sage Hen There we procured provisions sufficient to supply us until we reached the old California Road. The road was strewn from this to Salt of 100 yards. Drovers suffer heavy losses in driving their cattle overland to California. I heard one at Fort Bridger say, that out of $25 head with which he started he succeeded in bringing only 260 to Fort Bridger, and expected to lose one fourth of them before he reached Salt Lake City. There were 400 troops at Fort Bridger.— The road from this place to Salt Lake City is through a series of Kanyons, some of which have neidents connected with them which I must no name from the manner in which any sound is reechoed. In certain parts of it the words spoken by persons are echoed quite distinctly. It was at the mouth of this Kanyon, that the Mormons had erected their batteries with the intention of resisting the U.S. troops; many of their batteries are yet visible and they were of a formidable character, had they succeeded in getting the troops into this place and carried out their intentions. I am disposed to believe that our little army would have had a hard time of it, as it would have been impossible to have reached the would have been impossible to have reached the Mormons by any rifle shot, and the Artillery would have been useless as the Kanyon would have been flooded with water by menns of a control of dams that still exist and may be seen. The sides of these hills are solid rocks and nearly per-pendicular, towering to the beight of from 500 to 600 feet and impossible to scale. This would have left the troops entirely at the mercy of the Mormons. After leaving Emigration Kanyon, the city of

After feaving Emigration Ranyon, the city of Salt Lake and the whole valley was presented to view. Salt Lake city is the most finely situated place I have ever beheld. The representations of Salt Lake city in the Eastern papers, such as Ballou's Pictorial, Gleasons' Frank Leslie, and Harrary Waskly and others, and the city on it is a result of the salt pers' Weekly and others, and the city as it is, found to be widely different. The houses are built of the adope or sun dried brick, and are about equally divided into onestory and two-story domicils. The Mormons as a class seem to be very industrious, and are sociable, and were it not for their notions regarding Polygamy, it would be bearable to reside amenest Polygamy, it would be bearable to reside amongst them; but, under existing circumstances I would prefer to be "considered out" very fine buildings. I must not forget to mention Brigham's family in this connection. It is,

The Court Hruse, Deseret News Office, Deseret

I find, difficult to learn the number of his wives exactly, but hy some of the saints has is said to exactly, but by some of the saints he is said to have between 25 and 30. His cook says the family consists of 70 persons, who are to be previded for regularly, independent of the visitors who are said to be numerous. Brigham can

I attended Mormon worship yesterday, and mot one of the largest concourse of persons I ever met inside of any building, and all eagerly listening to one of the most foolish discourses to my mind, I have ever heard. A HAPSBURG AND A THRONE FOR MEXICO?-It has been intimated that the Emperor of France will not rest satisfied until he has placed his consin, Prince Jerome, on the throne of Etruria. But. then, it has been asked, what would become of ontered the Cheyenne pass. This brought us to the "Medicine Snow Mountains." After leaving these, we struck the Saramie Plains," and pass-Napoleon to disregard? The Washington States thinks that a ready solution is furnished to this difficulty in a great letter from a distinguished gentleman in Paris, which has been laid before the editor. The statement contained in the letter is of a somewhat startling character, and the editor of the States thus gives it, at the same time vouching for its truth :

It is well known that a monarchical party has r many years existed in Mexico, sustained prinipally by the clergy, with a view, to the estab. ishment there of a throne under a European Pro tectorate. Mr. Guiterrez Estrada, a Mexican of considerable ability, is the secret agent of this party in Europe, where he has for several years solicited the assistance of various reigning houses At one time he obtained the countenance of Lous Phillippe, who saw in the plan a means of ag-gradizement for one of his sons. That Estrada as not been idle of late, and that the high clergy Padre Miranda, the originator of the present Miamon faction, which was intercented and published some months ago, both in Mexico and in this country.

Guiterrez Estrada has, it is supposed, at last succeeded in obtaining a favorable consideration of his scheme by Austria, who now begins to perceive the impossibility of re establishing her Arch-Dukes. At all events, Prince Richard Met ternich, the Austrian Ambassor at Paris, was re cently instructed to proceed to St. Sauveur and present Guiterrez Estrada to the Emperor.— What transpired at the interview is a secret to what transpired at the interview is a secret to mention. Echo Kanyon bears its the world; but the high authority from whom we ame from the manner in which any sound is reposed to the Emperor the establishment by France and Austria of Ferdinand IV, the young Grand Duke of Tuscany, on a throne to be creeted in Mexico. They assured the Emperor that such an arrangement would require but little outlay, and would meet with no opposition in Mexico, as Miramon was prepared to resign his Dietatorship in such a contingency.

Enlightened public opinion in Europe would be satisfied with this scheme, as it would effectually secure the people of Tusenny against the re-establishment of the hated Hapburgs., The re-establishment of the flaten hapsourgs. The French Emperor has long entertained a similar monarchial design upon Moxico, as manifested by the acts of his minister, Gubriac. The plan submitted to him now cannot otherwise than meet with his favor, inasmuch as it removes another obstacle in the way of his ambitious cousin. Austrian pride would be soothed by the comfort able berth thus provided for one of her Arch-Dukes, and the young Ferdinand IV. himself may be well enough pleased to exchange a petty duchy for the splendid throne of the Montezu-

But, however devoutly Louis Napoleon and Francis Joseph may desire such a consummation, ble opposition before realizing their wishes. The people of the United States will not willingly permit a despotism to be erected at their very doors, -as a stumbling block for the present and a menace for the future. .
