The strain being groes, does not indicate an intention of their bloody use, we would like to know what they were intended for.

Brown's Republican apologists say that he committed no capital crime. We should like to know, if one dozen and a half of murdered men by an assassin and his companions, does not constitute a capital offence, how ma-. ny murders will?

One of our Republican cotempora-"ries says "Brown is the greatest moral hero the world ever produced."-If our friend who says the above, should have his throat cut some day by an assassin, he will probably form a different conclusion of the morality of the thing.

Massachusetts is all a-glow with sympathy for Brown and his fellow conspirators, traitors and murderers, white and black. Mrs. Child, a stail old lady, brim-full of piety and benevolence, and several other sisters of like inclinations, have traveled on to Virginia to sooth and comfort the convict prisoners.
