NATURAL CURIOSITIES OF CAL-IFORNIA.

Geysers in Plumas county. According to the Plumas (California) Argus, there is a cluster of boiling aprings, situated in the northeast portion of its county, which covers an area of ten acres. It says:

This area is almost flat, and surround. ed on its edge by large boulders, which neem to be fragments of lava. It would be safe to say that on this little spot of ground, one thousand hoiling steaming springs exist, and so loud is the sound produced by the escape of the steam, that it is impossible to distinguish the voice of a man ten feet from you. In some of these springs there is a kind of sediment, about the consistency of common mush, which simmers and gurgles, and, at times, entirely closes the aperture; which is invariably succeeded by a deafening explosion in the escape of the confined steam. Everything smells strongly of sulpher, which may be gathered, in some instances, in large pieces, but is mostly found adhering to the rocks in the shape of a palpable powder-the effect of crystalization.

There is also another mineral, produced in the same manner, resembling quining in its color and formation, but to the taste like alum, and there is no doubt that it is alumine. On one side of said flat there is a kind of chalk, white as snow, and resembling plaster of Paris, after having been prepared for casting. There is a little plain of this, about twenty yards long, and half that in width, as level as a floor. But what is the most remarkable feature, is a stream of cold, pure water running through the centre of the flat.

You can safely move among the prings, by submitting frequently to an envelope of sulphurous vapor. About one mile from this flat; at an elevation of three hundred feet above it, there is a round lake, in diameter about fifty yards, which is in a continual stir of agitation, resembling the boiling of a cauldron; the earth around it is almost a blood red. The springs are situated on the head waters of the North Fork of Feather River, near Lassen's Peak, and not fer from the (supposed) burning mountains.

A LUNATIO ON THE BENCH-The following incident in Court, at Hamilton, C. W., is mentioned by the Spectator:-Yesterday morning, while Mr. Freeman was addressing the jury, in one of the most elequent portions of his speech, to his horror he saw a broad grin on the faces of the jury, then they seemed involuntarily to burst out into s loud laugh. The learned counsel seemed for the moment nonplussed, not being aware of the cause of this unseemly proceeding. On turning to the Bench, however, the reason was solf-evident. The Chief Justice had retired to his room for a moment and there in the judicial chair, in all his majesty, sat no less a personage than Mr. Robert Innes, an insane man, well known here. Boh, as he is familiarly called, looked smilingly on the learned counsel, and said, "Go on, it is all right; I'll see justice done," amidst reare of laughter. At this moment his lordship returned, but the would be Judge did not feel inclined to vacate his prominent position, and it required. his prominent position, and it required three constables to remove him. It was some minutes before the Court settled down to its customary solemnity, and the learned gentleman was ablo to continue his speech.

THOMAS CROMWELL, the Lord Protector's great-grandson, was a grocer on Snowhill, and his son Oliver, the last male heir of the family, an attorney of London. Several of the Protector's granddaughtera' children sank to the lowest class of society. One, after seeing her husband die in the workhouse of a little Suffolk town died herself a pauper, leaving two daughters, the elder the wife of a shoemaker, and the younger of a butcher's son, who had been her fellow servant. Another of the Great Oliver's great granddaughters had two children, who earned their scanty bread by the humblest industry, the son as a small jeweler, and the daughter as the mistress of a little school at Manchester.

A MOTHER'S INFLUENCE. How touching that tribute of the Hon, T. H. Benton to his mother's influence:

"My mother asked me never to use tobacco. I have never touched it from that to the present day; she asked me not to game, and I have never gambled. and I cannot tell who is winning and who is losing in games that I see played. She admonished me, too, against hard drinking; and whatever capacity for endurence I have at present, and whatever usefulness I may attain in life. I have attributed to having complied with her pious and correct wishes When I was seven years of age she asked me not to drink, and then I made a resolution of total abstinence, at a time when I was sole constituent, member of my own body, and that I have adhered to it through all time, I owe it to my mother."

ONE DEMOCRAT SHORT,-It is said that John T. Brown, Democrat, elected to the House of Representatives from the Fifth Congressional district of Kentucky, will not take his seat at the opening of Congress, he being under the constitutional age. The second section of article 1st of the Constitution declares "No persen shall be a Representative who shall not have attained the age of twenty-five years." Mr. Brown lacks a few months of the required age-

HOSTETTER'S STOWACH BITTERS.

The proprietors and manufacturers of HOS-TETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BIT-TERS can appeal with perfect confidence to physicians and citizens generally of the United tation heretofore unknown. A few facts upon this point will speak more powerfully than volumes of bare assertion or blezoning puffery. The consumption of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for the last year amounted to over a half-million bottles, and from its manifest steady increase in times past, it is evident that during the coming year the consumption will reach near one million bottles. This immense amount could never have been sold but for the rare medicinal properties contained in the preparation, and the sanction of the most prominent physicians in those sections of the where the article is best known, who not only recommend the Bitters to their patients, but are ready at all times to give testimonials to its efficacy in all cases of stomachic derangements and the diseases resulting therefrom.

This is not a temporary popularity, obtained by extraordinary efforts in the way of arum-peting the qualities of the Bitters, but a solid stimation of an invaluable medicine, which is destined to be as enduring as time itself.

Hostelfer's Stomach Bitters have proved a Goddend to regions where fever and ague and various other bilious complaints have counted their victims by hundreds. To be able to state confidently that the "Bitters" are a certain cure for the Dyspepsia and like diseases, is to the proprietors a source of unalloyed pleasure. It removes all morbid matter from the stomach, purifies the blood, and imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving it that tone and energy indispensable for the restoration of health. It operates upon the stomach, liver, and other digestive organs, mildly but powerfully, and soon restores them to a condition essential to the healthy discharge of the functions of nature.

Elderly persons may use the Bitters daily as per directions on the bottle, and they will find in it a stimulant peculiarly adapted to comfort declining years, as it is pleasant to the palate, invigorating to the bowels, excellent as a tonic, and rejuvenating generally. We have the evidence of thousands of aged men and women who have experienced the benefit of using this preparation while suffering from stomach de-rangements and general debility; acting under the advice of physicians, they have abandoned all deleterious drugs and fairly tested the merits of this article. A few words to the gentler sex. There are certain periods when their cares are so harassing that many of them sink under the trial. The relation of mother sink under the trial. The relation of mother, and child is so absorbingly tender, that the mother, especially if she be young, is ant to forget her own health in her extreme anxiety for her infant. Should the period of maternity arrive during the summer season, the wear of body and mind is generally aggrayated. Here, then, is a necessity for a stimulant to recuperate the energies of the system, and enable the rate the energies of the system, and enable the mother to bear up under her exhausting trials and responsibilities. Nursing mothers generally prefer the Bitters to all other invigorators that receive the endorsement of physicians, because it is agreeable to the taste as well as certain to give a permanent increase of bodily strength.

All those persons, to whom we have particularly referred above, to wit: sufferers from fever and ague, caused by malaria, diarrhoea, dysentery, indigestion, loss of appetite, and all diseases or derangements of the stomach, superannuated invalids, persons of sedentary occupation, and nursing mothers, will consult their own physical welfare by giving to Hos-tetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters a trial. CAUTION .- We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for Hostetten's Celebraten reits, but ask for Hostetter's Celebraten Stomach Bitters, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the abel.

Prepared and sold by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa., and sold by all druggists, grocers, and dealers generally throughout the United States, South America, and Germany.
