WHAT IS RELIGION? BY HERER.
Is it to go to church to-day, To look devout and seem to pray, And ere to-morrow's sun goes down Be dealing slander through the town? Does every sanctimonious face Denote the certain reign of grace? Does not a phiz that scowls at sin Oft veil hypocrisy within?

Is it to make our daily walk. And of our own good deeds to talk, Yet often practice secret crime, And thus mis-spend our previous time?

Is is for sect and creed to fight, To call our zeal the rule of right. When what we wish is at the best; To see our church excel the rest?

Is it to wear the Christian dress, And love to all mankind profess, To treat with scorn the humble poor, And bar against them every door? Oh, no! religion means not this,

Its fruit more sweet and fairer is-'Its precept this-to others do, As you would have them do to you. It grieves to hear an ill report,

Ot others' deeds it speaks no ill, But tells of good, or else keeps still. And does religion this impart? Then may its influence fill my heart,

And scorns with human woes to sport,

Oh! haste the blissful, joyful day. When all the earth may own its sway.

MRS. ANN WALLINGFORD, who, when Anne Rochford, was madly beloved by George the Fourth, then Prince of Wales, died lately in London. The Court Circular says she was also asked in marriage by the Duke of Bfor his son Marquis of C---s; while the Prince of Whales solicited her to bestow her band on himself, backing his suit by an offer of a private marriage, princely settlement, &c. The young laby, wavering and somewhat perplexed between these noble offers which courtfed her acceptance, requested Lady Jersev. to g ve her advice how she should act. The Countess recommended her not to consult her heart upon the occasion, but St. Nicholas, who was the patron saint of virgins. The saint scoord lingly appeared to her, but whether when eleeping or waking history is silent, and decided against both. Soon after, Mas Rachford met Mr. Henry Wallingford, then the handsomest man of the day. A mutual passion sprang up between them, and in due course they were united. Mr. Willingford died in 1810, so that his wife survived him for the long term of 40 years.

OAR SPLITS .- A correspondent of the Monigomery (Ala.) Advertiser writes as follows:

I was recently conversing with a young lady of this county, noted for good sense and originality, who was earnest and eloquent in praise of the patriotic resolutions adopted by the ladies of Richmond, that they would not PAPER HANGINGS. wear any article of dress manufactured at, or brought from the North; that soon. er than do so, they would learn to weave cloth with the old fashioned loom, &c. I, of course, agreed with my young lady friend in everything she said, but I was, I must confess, puzzled to know what he dear ladies would do for hoops, so, I rather hashfully asked the question "what will you do for steel and brass?" Imagine my discomfiture at her charac- Stationary, Paper Hangings, splits forever." Let the Virginia ladies take courage.

HOW THE THISTLE SAVED SCOTLAND. The following is related as the origin of the use of the thistle as the national emblem of Scotland.—When the Danes invaded Scotland, and availed themselves of the pitch darkness of night to attack the Scotlish forces unawares. In approaching the Scotlish forces unabserved, and marching bare foeted to prevent their tramp being heard, one of the Danes trod upon a large prickly thistle, and the sharp cry of pain which he instantly uttered suddenly apprised the Scots their danger, who immediately ran to their arms, and defeated the foe with great slaughter. The thistles was thenceforward adopted as the national insignia of Scotland.

Life of Chri of the use of the thistle as the national

A trapper in Oregan was pursued, not long since, by five grizzly bears, and climfied a tree for safety. From his Street, Leband secure perch, he attacked the bears in return with rifle and ball, and soon stretched three of them on the ground ; but the other two, as if under the goldance of reason, took up a position out of the reach of his fire, and patiently waited all day and all night for him to come down, which he did not do, On the morning of the second day the bears again came within range, when the trapper soon gave them their quietus.

A country captain, desiring to cross a field came to an opening in the fence too small to permit two persons to pass abreast. Unfortunately he Was-deficient in military tactics, and could not remember the order which would have accomplished the difficult task of filing through, but his ingenuity did not desert him, and therefore he ordered a halt, and then said : "Gentlemen, you are dismissed for one minute, when you will fall in on Cother side of

SCROFULA, OR KING'S EVIL SCROFULA, OR KING'S EV'L,

Is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrodions taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unlicality food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its crigin, it is hereditary in the constitution, decending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by disposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in tue lungs, liver, and internal organs is termed tubercles; in the glands swellings, and on the surface, cruptions or sores.—
This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous! their persons are invaded by this lurking in ection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we simply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not oely scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as ERUPTIVE and SEXT DISEASES. ST. ANTIONY'S F.E.E., ROSE, or ENYSTPELAS. are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties: the invalid whe is bowed down with pain or physical debility is as tonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once we simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every-body, but also many formidacle and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanae, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Hearthurn. Headache arrising from disordered Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Pain in and Morbid Inaction of the Bowes Fluidency, Loss of Appetite, Journilee, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Coughs, Golds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipent Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the cantry abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and cangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior renedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.
