"Love me little, love me long," That may do for book and song, But for wonad's fond heat-never! She loves deeply, and forever. Love me much; and love me long, 1s the parden of her song.

Trusting all her soul's devotion On love's wild, incertain ocean-Hoarding dream, nor hope, nor prayer, But your image mingles there. Thinkest theu she e'er can be Content, with any loss from 'thee?

Little knows be woman's heart, Who deems her half content with part-Content with a divided treasure-Wooed by rule and loved by measure. Love me nuch, and love me long, Is the burden of her song.

Love her wholly, love her ever-Love her thus, or from her sever, Ero her beart his twined around thee, Ere she curses the hour she found thee. Ere to breathe the word furewell Be to her like funeral knell.

The sudden love may burn to waste, And sudden rows repent their haste; So let it be, ere thou dost bring A cool and cautions offering. Love mg much, and love me long, Is the burden of her song.

And in your poverty or wealth-or in your sickness or in health-llight on the pinnacle of fame, Or in the lowest depths of shame. Where thou art, there will she be, Clieging fondly still to thee.

Let no icy caution, stealing O'er your heart congeal its feeling, Fear you not to trust too much, Woman shrinks from jealons touch, Love me trustingly and long, Is the burden of her song.

Such the love that she would gain; All cooler feeling comes in vain, Or. coming, breaks a blissful spell, And true love weeps her hast farewoll, Love me deeply, love me long, Is the burden of her song.

When hope is young, and life is new, And pleasures many—sorrows few, We lightly meet. and lightly part, With many a fond and faithful heart. But memory brings, in after years, Regret, remorse, and bitter tears.

When Alexander, Empareor of Rus-sia, came to the throne, few Bibles were found in his Empire, and great earelessness in reference-to religion generally prevailed. A high place in the Church became vacant and the Emperor appointed his favorite, Prince Galitzin, to fill it. Its at first declined the appointment, on the place of entire ignorance of Religion, but the Emper-or overruled the objection as of no weight. The Prince, on his first interview with the venerable Arch Bishop Platoff, requested him to point out some book which would give Lima concise view of the Christian Religion. The Arch-Bishop, rance of religion, recommended "the Bible."— The Princes and he could not read that book.— Well, replied the Arch-Bishop, that is the only book there is, or ever will be, that can give you a correct view of the Caristian Religion. Then I must remain ignorant of it, reading of the Bible is out of the question, was his reply. The words Induce Shaws.

Observation, moreover, has shown that the quantity of caloric lot at the south pole in the course of a year, is equal to the surplus absorbed at the north pole.-Now let us, with the author, mentally represent to ourselves the earth at the momont of its creation, when its whole surface was covered with water, and its center of gravity coincided with it geometrical center. From that moment its revolution around the sun commenced, and all those causes which have led to the inequality of the temperature between the two hemispheres began to operate. In the course of a few centuries the ice at the south pole became, in consequence, heavier than that accumulated at the north pole, and the center of gravity was displaced south. wards. Mathematicians, in fact, state the distance between the latter and the geographical center to about one would renture to be pious, for be allows this "inthousand seven hundred metres. Under these circumstances, what could the liquid surface of the globe do but flow south-ward, leaving all the con- a life of prayer." She listened respectfully, and the liquid surface of the globe do but ered? Here Mr. Julien observes that all the regious of the southern hemi-spero hear unmistakeable marks of tinent we are so familiar with uncovsubmersion; that America, Africa ed an interest in his prayers. the earth is furthest from the sun, that the solar rays must lose in strength what they gain in durn. tion. To this cause of diminution of tem-perature must be added the loss of caloric by radiation, and it will then be easy to perceive the reason of the difference of temperature between the temple; the Master Builder will fit the to be lively stones in that spiritual temple whose be lively stones in that spiritual temple whose corner stone is Christ. Ease in Zion, there is none. Yours is a constant warfare ; your weapon, the "sword of the spirit;" your Captain, "Prince Emanuel." With this weapon the pru-ning is done; and the excrescences, hurtful and dendly, removed. We enumerate as excrescences: Intemperance, and all abettors; the Dance, a falsely called innocent amusement; gaming for pleasure, unless restricted, or gain ; theatres, op-era houses, &c., are a few of your labers. Pa-rents too often injure their children and hope to screen themselves with the excuse that they allow their children to go to dancing school to become graceful-and dancing at home to polish their manners; it is sociable ! Forgetting that in "putting grace on the feet they take grace from the heart." In illustration : Mary Ann was a beautiful girl, 18 or 19 years of age, of an esteemed intelligent family. Though acknowledging some regard for religion, she believed with some of its worldly professors, that it was right to indulge in fashionable amusements. She was very fond of balls and dances. In the time of a revival, when her young friends were becoming pions, she was urged by her family physician to dedi-cate her soul to God. "How can I think" said she "of becoming pious, when in doing so, I shall debar myself of the privilege of attending nocent anusement." "It was in vain that I tri-ed" said the physician "to convince her of this delusion, and solemnly reminded her, that she would not without a tear, but still clung to her favorite and 1 round, ond in pointes and turned is every norms are returned, and found her on the brank of discolution. The Emperor demanded upor what principle he remained calm and unmoved,

WHOLE NO. 557.

In the report of the Grand Jury of the Inte term of 1860, they say they disposed of 799 bills, as follows: Murder, 7. Malicions Mischief, 27.

Malicions Mischief, 27. Carrying concealed deadly weapons, 13; Lar-ceny, 160; Nuisance, 28; Assault and Battery, 373; Misdemeanor, 39; Passing Counterfeitmoney, 26; Forgery, 14; False Pretence, 14; Burglary, Ar-son, Gambling, Selling Lottery tickets and other minor offences, 64. They refer to Intemperance as the occasion of a large nu aber of petty enses before them. Even in some cases of larceny, the evidence before them showed that the crime would not have been committed but for the bewould not have been committed but for the be-wildered condition of the offender from Intexica-tion. They give 2300 as the number of licensed law and the moral sense and feeling of the peu-ple. Such say they is the seed of Evil sown ple. Such say they is the seed of Evil sown broad cast. Such do they call upon for aid in suppression. Yet it must be remembered that the country is the "great feedor," and in proportion as you exercise a vigilant supervision over the young and train them to correctness of life, and in the religion of our Saviour, in that proportion, you cleanse these sinks of much that now defiles them, and add to the strength of the Church. With such a view of the work to be done, will any one deny the necessity of Chris-tian associations. Man must be persuaded from the paths of sin and brought to the feet of Jesus. A survey of our S, bhaths—the thousands of children openly violating God's boly day! 4_{τ} 000,000 children who have never been inside countenance in the trade that miserable method of obtaining custom, called familiarly, "drum-ming." They give 2300 as the number of incensed houses, and think it probable that there are ma-ny more where liquor in its vilest form is self and it. A short time after, the Emperor having a without license. They refer to high crimes com-mitted which obtain encouragement and secure a stronghold in the community, in utter defance of haw and the moral sense and feeling of the peoror, "who told you to read that?" "God, repli-ed the Chaplain," "How," exclaimed Alexander. Surprised at your sending for me, continued the Chaplain, "I fell upon my knees before God and besought Him to teach my weak lips what to speak. I felt that part of the holy word which I have begun to read plainly pointed out to me, why your majesty interrupted me I know in not." The result was a great alteration in the Emperor's conduct, and the manifestation of great zeal in the circulation of the Scriptures. The Christan Association should reverence this boon for which our ancestors ided and died; it is the lamp to enlighten you in your durkness; it is the beacon when Shipwreck and destruction would overwhelm you. Let its halo cheer you when weary and heavy lades. and encouring you 600,000 children who have never been inside of a Sabbath School! The increasing spread of Infidelity; these present new ramifications for your carnest ears and solicitude. It should be standing rule with associations, always to in-struct the young leaving the fold, immediately to connect with the church of his persuasion and the Sabbath School whither he goes. He should be kept continually within the Church; he will then despise the ways of sin, and shun the seat of the scorner. Associations should dis-conntenance in the trade that miserable method tory and unimportant in the confederation, in special focal cases may be requisite. When Dem-agogues spring up and strike at your Bible, hold them to the scorn they deserve. You need no second call. Bring a solid Phalanx against the foe! God is your strength! the God of the Biall religious uses, might bring him to his senses. How many a mother's heart now bleeds with the ble is your God.

You should make your rooms centres of attrac-tion-they should combine elegance, comfort and knowledge that the first seeds of vice in her dar-ling child were sown in this detestable way; the firm conniving, or indirectly asquiescing! The example may flow in a measure from the consti-tution and character of the firm. It is no new thing in a firm of three to see each dissimilar; the a fashionable drinker; he acts as the best te the lower of the glass. A mather grave are set to be body we apons and with this aduitional advantage, our weapons and with this aduitional advantage, our chairs; every thing to attract the eye and ease the body. You must fight them with their own weapons and with this additional advactage, our the layer of the glass. Attorne, gay and have a pair of fast horses and the race course is a necessity; anoth or has an uppermost seat in the Sancetary! What rottenness ! This is the whirlpool in which so many founder ! It becomes your imperative duty to rescue by setting your face against them. We relierate—this system in the marts of trade is the cause of more destruction of your youth than the tore of the face against them. We there are pleasures ever more and falness of joy. This responsibility rests with you; thecommuni-ty looks upon you; every act is criticized; every motive scanned; and public opinion is a sentinel at every mar's door. You must withstand this, the you can faarlessly encounter them. When principles and the cause of our Saviour call to duty, the follower is strong in the Master. With due defierence to public opinion, we are bound due deferences to public opinion, we are bound only so far as that opinion accords with the prin-ciples of our holy Religion; and when its chan-nel is so polluted as tobe an offence we are ex-pected to stand within the stream and cleanse the waters. Single handed the Christian can do nothing ; but united to and led on by the Capto the Santuary it should follow him in business and throughout his life! Let the church be of his persuasion. The community may not commend your zeal—but higher honors await from Him who awardeth not as man!
