Choice Poetry. I WAIT FOR THEE.

The hearth is swept, the fire is bright, The kettle sings for teat. The cloth is spreud, the lamp is light, The nuffus sunke, it, anykins white; And now I wait for thee.

Come home, love, some; thy task is done; The clock ticks infinity; The block are, shigh finity; The bay is on my finde.

Come home, love, come, his deep foud eye Looks round him setstfully; And when the whispering winds go by, As if thy welcome steps were nigh, He crows exultingly.

In vain-fid finds the welcome vain, Aud turns his glance on mine So earn estly, that yet again, His form into my heart I strain, That glance is so like thine.

Thy task is done with the here, Where'er thy footateps roam, No hearth will spread such kindly cheer, No beating heart, no listening ear, Like those who wait thee home.

Ah, now along the cross-walk fast, The well-known step doth come The bolt is drawn, the gate is past, The boy is wild with joy at last— A thousand welcomes home.
