FEN. JACKSON'S COTTON BALES In a notice of the death of Gen. John B. Plauche, who fought in the battle of New Orleans, the New Orleans Delta An incident with which the name of General Plauche is connected has been made the text of one of the most evin-cible errors that ever crept into histhus disposes of the cotton-bale story : tory. It is a striking illustration of the difficulty of arresting a false statement | which happens to interest the fancy of mankind. Nothing was ever more transparently absurd than the idea embodied in nearly all the histories, poems, and pictures relating to the battle of New Orleans, than the assertion that the mound behind which Jackson's army was entrenched was composed of cotton bales. The only basis of this story Farmers Look to Your Interest. was the attempt of some young soldier, was the attempt of some young soldier, in the rivalry which sprang up after they had occupied the line of Rodriguez ca-nsł, to increase the height and breadth of the parapetin front of them by throw-ing in a few cotton bales. Others, too, were used to form the embrasures for the guns.

These bales had been thrown out of a fatboat which had come down to Jack-son's camp with flour, pork, and other supplies, and were lying on the levee.
They were a portion of a lot which had been consigned to Major Plauche, and had been sold by him to Vincente Nolte.
The speculative efforts of the latter fi-nancier no doubt contributed to give form and currency to this story. He nancier no doubt contributed to give is printers. Outerstore, and rate a carbor of form and currency to this story. He set the particular provides and a preposterous claim for his cotton after the war, and, to maintain it, set on foot the story of the great service it had rendered. We are pleased to see that in a recently published and highly. spirited poetical description of the bat-floe and particularly a Resper which, spirited poetical description of the bat-floe and highly. Spirited poetical description of the bat-floe and highly. Spirited poetical description of the bat-floe and software the patterns for all the Machines and sufficient for a sector of the state of the Sth of January, by Thomas Dunt English, this vulgar fiction is very effectually disposed of: No cotton bales before us, sector base of the state of the sta

HOW TO PLEASE IN COMPANY. - The true art of being agreeable is to appear well pleased with all the company, and rather to seem well entertained with them. A man thus disposed may not have much learning or any wit; but if he has common sense, it conciliates men's minds more than the brightest parts without this disposition; and when a man of such a turn comes to old age he is almost shure to be treated with respect. It is true, indeed, that we should not dissemble and flatter in company; but a man may be very agreeble, in strict consistent with truth and sincerity, by a prudent silence where he can not concirr, and by a pleasing assent where he can. Now and then we meet with operson so exactly formed to please that he will gain upon every one that nears or beholds him. This disposition is not merely the gift of nature; but frequently the effect of much knowledge of of the world, and a command of the

OF Aunt Dorothy had a wonderful fondness for singing in Methodist meet-ings, the negro meetings, especially the missionary meetings. Then her voice would be heard above all the rest, IF YOU WANT GOUD PICTURES GO TO screaming out, "From Greenland's icy mountings." or some other equally mo. ving hymn. But when the plates came round for the collection, Aunt Dorothy always sang louder, and still louder, with her eyes fixed on the wall, so that she never saw the collector till he had passed her seat. One night she was thus rapt it ecestacy, singing at the top of her voice and gazing at the ceiling. "Fly abroad, then mighty Gospel." when Jack Bones came along with the plate, and touch-ing the old woman with his left hand said. "Look a here, Aunty, you need'nt keep on singing 'fly abroad, don mighty the soil is somthing to make it ecstacy, singing at the top of her voice Gospel,' less you gib somthing to make by ALSO, BOND'S TEA AND OYSTER CRACK-
