THE LITTLE GIRL THAT MEETS ME. There's a little girl that meets me, And with laughter ever greets ma, And to kiss her oft entreats me,

An to kiss her of entrests may As I stray "Long the path of life so droary, Where the saidened heart and weary, Shades the sunlight, shining near ma, On my way.

Che has eyes as blue as heaven, Only aged about eleven; But unto her God has given Such a heart, That forevor she is singing, And her sweet voice ever ringing, Beauty o'er the wrapt heart bringing, Sweet as art.

With her sunny hair, so curly; With her teeth so white and pearly, I have mut her late and early

May the world smile kindly on her, May the world spile simily on any, Benedictors fall upon her, Angels be her guard of honor, As she goes Through this world of ours, singlag, Peace to troubled spirits bringing, No grief her pure heart wringing With its woes.

May the sweetest harp in heaven— Brightest crown that ore was given, Where the waves of life are driven Past the throne, Beho to her dainty tinger, "Pon her pure brow ever linger, Which each angel be a singer, Calling home!

Going flome with the Girls .- The entrance into society may be said to take place immediately after boyhood To Farmers and Gardeners, take place immediately after boyhood has passed away, yet a multitude take an initiative before their beards aré pre-sentable. It is a great trial either at a tender or a tough age. For an over-grown boy to go to a door, knowing that there a dozen girls inside, and to knock or ring with absolute certainty that in two minutes all their eyes will be upon him, is a severe test of courage. To go before these girls and make a satisfactory tour of the roem without stepping on their toes, and ait down and dispose-of ane's hands without putting that in one's pockets, is an achieve-ment which few boys can beast of. 'If a boy can go so far as to measure off ten yards of tape with one of the girls, ten yards of tape with one of the girls, and cut it short at each end, he may stand a change to pass a pleasant evening; but let him not flatter himself that all the trials of the evening are over. Then comes, at last, the breaking up.

The dear girls don their hoods, and put on their shawls, and look so saucy, and mischievous, and unimpressible, and independent, as if they didn't want any. body to go home with them. Then comes the pinch, and the boy that has the most pluck makes up to the prettiest girls, his heart in his throat, and his tongue clinging to the roof of his mouth, and crooking out his elbow, stammers out the words, "Shall I see you home?" She touches her fingers to his arm, and they walk home a foot apart, feeling as Awkward as two goslings. As soon as she is safe within her own door, he struts home, and really thinks he has been, and gone, and done it. Sleep comes to him at last, with dreams of Caroline, and calico, and he wakes in the morning and finds the door of life open unto him, and the pigs squealing for their breakfast.

AN ARRANGEMENT FOR COUGHING IN CHURCH .--- A correspondent saves "1 once spent a Sunday at Lyons, on my way to Italy. I attended the French Portestant Church. The form of worship is very much like the Presbyterian, and the minister, after preaching for about fifteen minutes, stopped rather ab ruptly, pronounced a word which I took to be "allez" and sat down. Immediately the whole congregation, which had hitherto been extremely quite and at tentive, appeared to be seized with firs of coughing, sneezing, and expesiona. tion-some blow their noses, some took souff. By degrees the noises ceased, and after an interval of about five minutes the minister resumed his discourse, and finished it without interruption."
