THE LEBANON ADVERTISER.---A FAMILY NEWSPAPER.

The Corner.

A lady in Iron Valley, Ohio, advertises that she always goes armed, will kill any man who looks at her, or otherwise insults her. It is not probable that her announcement will terrify any of the men creatures of Iron Valley,—there's nothing very ralarming in the thought of a woman i in arms.

A'man in Iowa was bitten by a very venomous snake called a masseauger. Happening to have a flash whisky at hand, and bethinking him self of the fame which attaches to that fluid as an antidote in such cases, he allowed a pint to trickle down his throat by way of "experiment. It was a perfect success; one poison nul--lified the other. Had he drank the whisky before being bitten, however, nothing could have saved the snake.

05 A new craft is in the offing of Heaven. One of that light sparred fleet which lies moored beyond the reach of our best glasses has tripped its anchor, and is now careering about the Blue within sight of our decks, if not within hail. Every one remem-bers the stranger, with red lights, that loomed up in the Northwestern sky one night in the Fall of 1858, breasting the billowy clouds, and bear. ing down direct upon our double. 'decked Earth. . The fear which many apprehensive souls entertained of "an irrepressible conflict," collision, and consequent distribution of organic matter through space, cannot well be forgotten. Happily, however, science has discovered much since then to allay all apprehensions on this score.-It is now well understood that our eccentric visitors come to us with emp ty tales. And though one were dis. covered switching its tail among our steeples, and threatening to run afoul of us without heeding our right of way, the philosophers that pace our quarter-deck observatories would put their telescopes to their eye, and remark to the stranger, You can't, Comet.

In the local pains, loss of fiesh and strength, debilita-ting cough, and remittent heetic, which generally indi-cate TROIPLENT CONSUMPTION, this remety has al-layed the slarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances. In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated irro has had far more than the good effect of the most cautously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well known liabilities. The attoution of females cannot be too confidently in-vited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases pocali-ary affecting them. In RHEUSPATISM, both chronic and inflammatory— in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been in-visiably well reported, both as alloviating pain and re-ducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and mis-cles.
