A REBELLION-WOMEN IN ARMS.-The Chester (Ill.) Democrat states that great excitement exists in Liberty.-A number of women-stated to be eleven in number-have revolted against the grog shops, and tapped the barrels of several groceries. At a drinking establishment called the "Young America," the proprietor charged upon them, and they fled. The men of the town held a meeting the next day, at which it was the next day, at which it was Resolved, That we will defend our property at the risk of our lives against the "oleven" and all other women; that this is a free country, and men are allowed, under the laws, to do as they please; that women should not be allowed to smeak up "property," especially "spirits;" that wemen should be sent to the Penitentiary for rietous conduct as well as men; that we will give twenty five yents per head for the apprehension of the "sleven" and all others that talk that way; that we are under many obligations to the proprietors of "Bogue" and "Young America" for the "spirit" they have so liberally used in this effort to maintain law and order; that everybody should learn to mind their own business, espeolally women; that "Young America" is an established institution, and well-calculated tablished institution, and well-calculated to re-fine our tastes, and cannot be "dried up;" that we are not afraid of "women."

The "eleven" are still receiving reinforcements from the women around, and the war is not vet ended.

A HIGH-TONED DARKEY.—A colored gentlemen, somewhere in the State of fassachusetts, made a speech on the Fourth of July, in which he rebuked those friends of the Africans who assert the equality of the races. He scorned to be placed upon the same footing with white men, and proclaimed the superiority of the negro. He declared that he is "proud the negro race," and "thanked; God to-day there does not course in my (his) veins a single drop of Saxon blood," that he boasted was immortalized in song and story, at a time when the Saxon was wearing an iron collar, with the name of his master written thereon."

We are not informed as to the precise nature of those songs and stories which immortalized the Ethiopian at that early period; but suppose they were different from those which afford so much amusement to the civilized world at the present time, in colored operas and extravaganzas.-There has been for some time, an idea prevalent, that the "nigger" has gained more immortality by getting into American politics, than he has ever done at any former period of his existence, and we think there is very good foundation for it.

The Rochester Union relates the case of a child, two years of age, daughter of Mr. Davis, in that city, charmed by a snake. One day Mr. Davis found the snake in the arms of the little girl, who was fondling it as she would a kitten. The mother was naturally much alarmed by the apparent peril in which she saw her child, and seized a stick to destroy the reptile. The snake slowly retreated, showed its tongue, and hissed at the mother. The child cried, and begged so hard of its parent to desist, that she allowed the snake to retreat to its hiding place. The child apparently thinks of nothing else but her companion, the snake, and, under the fascination, is suffering a physical decline. She now weighs but 18 pounds. Physicians have advised that the meetings, which take place as frequently as the child can get out of the house, be gradually interrupted, until they be entirely broken off.

SUGAR IN DIARRHOEA. - Drs. Behrend and Sieber recommend the medicinal use of sugar as of great value in diarrhea-one in a child aged three years, and another in a child aged four wears—in which half an ounce of powdered white sugar given every hour soon gave a favorable turn to symptoms of extreme gravity, which had long resisted all the ordinary means of cure.

Typographical errors come in odd sometimes. The other day we were reading a description of enthusiastic demonstrations at a political gathering, when the type went on with—"the air was rent with the snouts of three thousand people!"

There is a man in Indiana so thin, that when the sheriff is after nim he crawls into his rifle and watches his severeary through the touch

A traveler tells us that he knows a fellow down South who was so fond of a young woman that he has rubbed his nose off kissing her shadow on the wall.

The meanest man in the world lives in London. He buttons his shirt with wafers and looks at his money through a magnifying glass.

Sworn statement of David M'Cresry, of Napier Town ship, Bedford county:

In April, 1858, as near as I can remember, a small pimple made its appearance on my lip, which soon became unlarged and sore. I used poultices of sorrel, and wash of bine vitrol, without effect. Finding the sore extending, I called on Dr. Ely, of Schellsburg, who pronounced it Cancers, and prescribed a west of sugar of lead and bread poultices. Finding these remedies of no avail, I called upon Dr. Bhaffer, of Davidville, Somerset county, who also pronounced the disease Cancer, and gave me internal and external remedies—the latter consisting principally of caustics; but all to no purpose, the disease continued spreading toward themore. I next used a preparation of arsenic, in the form of salve. This for a time checked the disease, but the inflammation soon increased. I next called upon Dr. Statler, of St. Claira ville, Bedford county, who also pronounced the disease Cancer, and applied a salve said to be an ever falling remedy, but it had no effect whatever in checking the spread of the sore. In December, of the same year, the disease had caten away a greater part of my upper lip, and had attacked the nose, when I went to Cincinnati, where I consulted Prof. R. S. Newton, of the Electic Medical College. He pronounced the diseases "cantane-ous Cancer, superinduced by an inordinate use of mercury." He applied mild zinc olutment, and gave me internal-reduces. My face headed up, but the findammation was not thoroughly removed. In February, 1857, he pronounced me cured, and I left for here. In April he disease again returned, and so violent was the pain that I could not restfa night! Late in May I returned to Clucinnati, and again placed myself under the charge of Dr. Newton, with whom I remained until Septembe both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pade and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried, it has proved absolutely corretive in each of the following compliants, viz:

In Debility, Nervous Affections, Emaciation. Dyspepsia, Constipution. Distributes, Theoreticsis, Salt Rheum, Mismenstruction, Whites, Chlorosis, Liver Complaints, Chronic Headnehes, Rheumatism, Intermittent Fevers, Pimples on the Face, &c., &c.

tender credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhood, have suddedly re-appeared in the busy world as if just returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female Sufferers, emachated victims of apparent merasums, sanguineous axhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERYOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this parameters, the operation of this proparation of from must necessarily be salutary, for unlike the old oxider, it is vigorously tonic, without below axciting and ever-heating; and gently regularly aperion, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, ameng others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeath-Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendent Costiveness.

OF SPERMATORRHOEA, or Seminal Weakness, Saxnal Deblifty, Nervousness and involuntary Emissions, producing Impotency, Consumption and Montal and Physical Deblifty. By ROB. J. CULVERWELL, M. D., The important fact that the awful consequences of self-abuse may be effectually removed without interpal medicines or the dangerous applications of caustics, instruments, medicated bougles, and other empirical deyices, is here clearly demonstrated, and the entirely new and highly successful treatment, as adopted by the celebrated author fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to cure himself perfectly and at the least possible cost, thereby avoiding all the advertieed nestrums of the day. This Lecture has prove a
