MISCELLANEOUS.

THE AMALGAMATION OF LANGUAGES.—There is a growing tendency in this age to appropriate the most expressive words of other languages, and after a while to incorporate them into our own; thus the word Cephalic, which is from the Greek, signifying "for the head," is now becoming popularized in connection with Mr. Spalding's great Headache remedy, but it will soon he used in a move general way, and the word Cephalic will become as commion as Electrotype and many others whose distinction as foreign words has been worn away by common usage until they seem "native and to the manor born."

'ardly Realized.

Hi 'ad 'n 'orrible 'eadache this hafternoon, hand I stepped into the hapothecaries hand says hi to the man, "Can you hease me of an 'eadache?" "Does it hache 'arı," says 'o. "Hoxceedingiy," says hi, hand upon that 'e gave me a Caphalic Pili, hand 'pon me 'onor it cured me so quick that I 'ardly realized I 'ad 'ad an 'esdache, HEADACHE is the favorite sign by which nature makes known any deviation whatever from the natural state of the brain and viewed in this light it may be looked on as a sareguard intended to give notice of disease which might otherwise escape attention, till too late to be remedled; and its indications should never be neglected. Headaches may be classified under two names, viz: Symptomatic and Idiopathic. Symptomatic Headache, is exosédingly common and is the precursor of a great variety of diseases, among which are Apoplexy, Gont, Rheumatism and all febrile diseases.— To its nervous form it is sympathetic of disease of the stomach constituting sich headache, of hepatic disease constituting bilious headache, of worms, constipation and other disorders of the bowels, as well as ronal and uterine affections. Dissuses of the heart are very frequently attended with Headaches; Anæmia and plethora are also affections which frequently occasion headache. Idiopathic Headache is also very common, being usually distinguished by the name of nervous headache, sometimes coming on suddenly in a state of apparently sound health and prosparting at once the mental and physical energies, and in other instances it comes on slowly, heralded by depression of spirits or accribity of temper. In most instances the pain is in the front of the head, over one or both eyes, and semetimes provoking younding; under this class may also be nained Neuralgia.

For the treatment of either class of Headache the Cephalle fills have been found a sure and safe remedy, relieving the most acute pains in a few minutes, and by its subtle power cradicating the diseases of which Headache is the unerring index.

Bridger.—Missus wants you to send her a box of Cephalic Glue, no, a buttle of Prepared Pilis,—but I'm thinking that's just it naither; but perhaps ye'll be afther knowing what it is. Ye see she's nigh deal and gone with the Sick Headache, and wants some more of that same as relaived her before.

Druggist.—You must mean Spalding's Cephalic Pilis.

Bridget.—Och! sure now and you've sed it, here's the quarther and giv me the Pilis and dont be all day about it aither.

Constipation or Costiveness.

Constipation or Costiveness.

No one of the "many ills flesh is heir to" is so prevalent, so little understood, and so much neglected as Costiveness. Often originating in careless, or sedentary habits; it is fregarded as a slight disorder of too little consequence to excite afaxiety, while in reality it is the precursor and companion of many of the most fatal and dangerous diseases, and unless early eradicated it will bring the sufferer to an untimely gifter. Among the lighter ovils of which costiveness is the usual attendant, are Headache, Colic, Rheumatism, Foul Breath, Piles and others of like nature, while a long train of frightful diseases such as Malignant Fevers, Abecsses, Dysentary, Diarrhean Dysepesia, Apoplexy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Hysteria, Hypochondriasis, Mclancholy and Insanity, first indicate their presence in the system by this shuming symptom. Not unfrequently the diseases named originate in Constipation, but take on an independent existence unless the cause is eradicated in an early stage. From all these considerations it follows that the disorder should receive immediate attention whenever it occurs, and no person should neglect to get a box of Cephalic Pills on the first appearance of the complaint, as their timely use will expel the insidious approaches of disease and destroy this dangerous foe to human life.

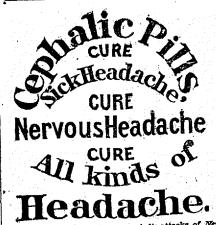

TWENTY MILLIONS OF DOLLARS SAVED.—Mr. Spalding has sold two millions of bottles of his celebrated Prepared Glue and it is estimated that each bottle saves at least ten dollars worth of hipken furniture, thus making an aggregate of twenty millions of dollars reclaimed from total loss by this valuable invention.—Having made his Glue a household word, he now proposes to do the world still greater service by curing all the aching heads with his Cophalic Pills, and if they are as good as his Glue, Headaches will soon vanish away like snow in July.

AS OVER EXCITEMENT, and the mental care and anxiety incident to close attention to business or study, are among the numerous causes of Nervous Headache. The disordered state of mind and body incident to this distressing complaint is a fatal blow to all energy and ambition. Sufferers by this disorder can always obtain speedy felief from these distressing attacks by using one of the Cephalic Pills whenever the symptoms appear.—It quiets the overtasked brain, and soothes the strained and jarring nerves, and relaxes the tension of the stomach which always accompanies and aggravates the disordered condition of the brain.

FACT WORTH KNOWING.—Spalding's Cephalic Pills are a certain core for Sick II endache, Bilious Headache, Nervous Headache, Cestiveness and General

GREAT DISCOVERY.—Among the most important of all the great medical discoveries of this age may be considered the system of vaccination for protection from Small Pox, the Cephalic Pill for relief of Readeche, and the use of Quinine for the prevention of Fevers, either of which is abure specific, whose benefits will be experienced by suffering humanity long after their discoverers are forgotton.

DID you ever have the Sick Headache? Do you remember the throbbing temples, the fevered brow, the leathing and disgust at the sight of food. How totally until you were for pleasure, conversation or study.—One of the Cephalic Pills weuld have relieved you from all the suffering which you then experienced. For this and other purposes you should always have a box of them on hand to use as occasion requires.

By the use of these Pills the periodic attacks of Nervous or Sick Headache may be prevented; and if taken at the commencement of an attack immediate relief from pain and sickness will be obtained.

They seldom fail in removing the Nausea and Headache to which females are so subject.

They act gently upon the bowels,—removing OOSTIVENESS.

FEILTERARY MEN. STUDENTS, Delicate Females, and all persons of SEDENTARY HABITS, they are valuable as a LAXATIVE, improving the APPETITE, giving TONE and VIGOR to the digestive organs, and restoring the matural elasticity and strength of the whole system.

The CEPHALIC PILLS are the result of long investigation and carefully conducted experiments, having been in uso many years, during which time they have prevented and relieved a vast amount of pain and suffering from Headache, whether originated in the nervous system or from a deranged state of the stomach.

They are entirely vegetable in their composition, and may be taken at all times with perfect seafety without making any change of diet, and the absence of any disagreeable taste renders it easy to administer them to children.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

The proprietors and manufacturers of HOS-TETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BIT-TERS can appeal with perfect confidence to physicians and citizens generally of the United States, because the article has attained a repu-tation heretofore unknown. A few facts upon this point will speak more powerfully than this point will speak more powerfully than volumes of bare assertion or blazoning puffery. The consumption of Hostetter's Stomach Bit ters for the last year amounted to over a halfmillion bottles, and from its manifest steady increase in times past, it is evident that during the coming year the consumption will reach near one million bottles. This immense amount could never have been sold but for the rare medicinal properties contained in the prepara-tion, and the sanction of the most prominent physicians in those sections of the country where the article is best known, who not only recommend the Bitters to their patients, but are ready at all times to give testimonials to its efficacy in all cases of stomachic derangements and the diseases resulting therefrom.

This is not a temporary popularity, obtained by extraordinary efforts in the way of trum-peting the qualities of the Bitters, but a solid estimation of an invaluable medicine, which is destined to be as enduring as time itself.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have proved a Godsend to regions where fever and ague and various other bilious complaints have counted their victims by hundreds. To be able to state confidently that the "Bitters" are a certain cure for the Dyspepsia and like diseases, is to the proprietors a source of un-alloyed pleasure. It removes all morbid matter from the stomach, purifies the blood, and imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving it that tone and energy indispensable for the restoration of health. It operates upon the stomach, liver, and other digestive organs, mildly but powerfully, and soon restores them to a condition essential to the healthy discharge of the functions of nature.

Elderly persons may use the Bitters daily as per directions on the bottle, and they will find in it a stimulant peculiarly adapted to comfort declining years, as it is pleasant to the palate, invigorating to the bowels, excellent as a tonic, and rejuvenating generally. We have the evidence of thousands of aged men and women who have experienced the benefit of using this preparation while suffering from stomach de-rangements and general debility; acting under the advice of physicians, they have abandoned all deleterious drugs and fairly tested the merits of this article. A few words to the gentler sex. There are certain periods when their cares are so harassing that many of them sink under the trial. The relation of mother and child is so absorbingly tender, that the mother, especially if she be young, is apt to A Real Blessing.

The queerest little dresses
My eyes have ever seen.
I semetimes catch a glimpse of,
And wonder what they mean.

All folded up so neatly.
And feshioned out with grace,
With little bows of ribbon,
And little bits of lace.

I gaze on these with wonder, And in Viola's eyes I try to read the secret— But she is all too wise.

And unto all my questions
She makes but this reply:
"If you'll have patience, dearest
I'll tell you—by and by!"

FLEET MARRIAGE.

BY AN IRISHMAN.

Lady C. was a beautiful woman, but Lady C. was an extravagant woman. She was yet single, though rather passed extreme youth. Like most pretty females, she had looked too high, and estimated her own loveliness too dearly, and now she refused to believe that she was not as charming as ever. So no wonder she still remained unmarried.

Lady C. had about five thousand pounds in the world. She owed about forty thousand pounds; so, with all

All those persons, to whom we have particularly referred above, to wit: sufferers from ling, when Philan was dressing her for him. It ran thus:

'Niver an inch! your honor's lady-ship,' says he. 'And, wouldn't you like to be married?' again asked she. 'Would a duck swim?'

'Is there any one you'd prefer?'
'Maybe, madame,' says he. 'You husband, of the lovely Lady C. 'That will do,' says she to her husband, as he gave her a hearty kiss;

'that'll do. Now, sir, give me my marriage certificate.' The old gen. tleman did so, and bowing respect. fully to the five pound note she gave him, he retired with his clerk; for sure enough, I forgot to tell you that he was a parson.

'Go and bring me the warden,' says my lady to one of her servants. 'Yes, my lady,' says she; and presently the warden appeared.

Willsyou be good enough, said lady C., in a voice that would call a bird off a tree, will you be good enough to send and fetch me a hackney eoach? I wish to leave this prison immediately.

'Your ladyship forgets,' replied he 'that you must pay forty thousand pounds before I can let you go.' 'I am a married woman. You can detain my husband, but not me.'

And she smiled at Philan, who began rather to dislike the appearance of thing's. 'Pardon me, my lady, it is well known you are single.' 'I tell you I am married.'

'Where's your husband?' 'There, sir l' and she pointed to the astonished barber; 'there he stands. Here is my marriage certificate, which you can peruse at your leisure. My servants yonder were witnesses of the ceremony. Now detain me, sir, at your peril.'

The warden was dumb founded, and no wonder. Poor Philan would have spoken, but neither party would let him. The lawyer below was consulted. The result was evident. In half an hopr Lady C. was free, and Pat Philan, her legitimate husband, a prisoner for debt to the amount of forty thousand. Well, sir, for sometime, Pat thought he was in a dream, and the creditors thought they were still worse. The following day they had a meeting, and finding how they had been tricked, swore they'd detain poor Pat forever. But as they well knew that he had nothing, and wouldn't feel much shame in going through the Insolvent Court, they made the best of a bad
