DODGE TO CATL'H GREEN HORNS.

Hereis a 'good dodge,' of which let seerdy greenhorns beware. A gentleman of prepossessing appearance arrives at a well-patronized country hotel. He drives a fine horse, which he delivers into the hands of the ostler. While the animal is feeding, he takes his ease in the bar room and is soon on terms of familiarity with the other guests. It is soon evident that he has a weakness. He drinks freely and a few glasses serve to fuddle him. He grows friendly and hilarous; treats generously; and indulges in various extravagances indicative of intoxication.

In the meantime, another traveller drops in, and gravely witnesses hisperformances. 'It's a shame,' he says, to see a well-dressen man dehave in that way, He looks like a gentleman-if he was only sober. He has money, but he will lose it; and he ought to lose it.

Sure enough, the first traveller soon shows symptoms of parting with his funds THE LATEST RETURNS. thows symptoms of parting with institutes in the most foolish manner He would light his cigar with a bank note, but the so-ber traveller prevents him, with a just rebuke for his folly. "Come. then,' said the tipsy one,'tell ye

'Come, then,' said the tipsy one,'tell ye what I'll do. I'll make a bet with any man that's willing. Here's a half-sovereign'-he takes the coin from his pocket, and places it under his heel on the floor-I'll bet there's a half-sovereign under my heel—hurrah for a wager !'

He gives a drunken whirl on his foot. The half-sovereign slips from under it .--The moral traveller, observed by every one except the tipsy man, picks up the coin and passes it to the bar-tender, with the remark-T'would serve him right to bet with him now, and win his money.

At that bait avarice and simplicity easily snap. The inebriate once more stamps his foot on the floor, and offers to bet large sums that there is a half-sovereign under his heel. The bet is taken-two or three spectators, willing to turn an honest penny putting up their money in sums from five to twenty soverigns. The bar-keeper holds the stakes. Then the drunken man, instantly sobered seats himself, pulls off his boots and takes from under hisstocking a second half-sovereign. Of course. he pockets the stakes, and he and the moral trave ler ride off together.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

The proprietors and manufacturers of HOS TETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BIT-TERS can appeal with perfect confidence to physicians and citizens generally of the United States, because the article has attained a repuoutres, occurse the article has attained a repu-tation heretofore unknown. A few facts upon this point will speak more powerfully than volumes of bare assertion or blazoning puffery. The consumption of Hostetter's Stomach Bit-Manufactured for the Grover & Baker S. M. Co. by the ters for the last year amounted to over a halfmillion bottles, and from its manifest steady increase in times past, it is evident that during the coming year the consumption will reach near one million bottles. This immense amount could never have been sold but for the rare medicinal properties contained in the prepara-tion, and the sanction of the most prominent physicians in those sections of the country where the article is best known, who not only recommend the Bitters to their patients, but are ready at all times to give testimonials to its efficacy in all cases of stomachic derangements and the diseases resulting therefrom and the diseases resulting therefrom. This is not a temporary popularity, obtained by extraordinary efforts in the way of trum-peting the qualities of the Bitters, but a solid estimation of an invaluable medicine, which is destined to be as enduring as time itself. Hostotter's Stomach Bitters have proved a Godsend to regions where fever and ague and various other billous complaints have counted their victims by hundreds. To be able to state confidently that the "Bitters" are a certain cure for the Dyspepsia and like diseases, is to the proprietors a source of un-alloyed pleasure. It removes all morbid matter from the stomach, purifies the blood, and imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving it that tone and energy indispensable for the restoration of licalth. It operates upon the stomach, liver, and other digestive organs, mildly but powerfully, and soon restores them to a condition essential to the healthy discharge of the functions of nature.

Elderly persons may use the Bitters daily as per directions on the bottle, and they will find in it a stimulant peculiarly adapted to comfort declining years, as it is pleasant to the palate, invigorating to the bowels, excellent as a tonie, and rejuvenating generally. We have the evi-dence of thousands of aged men and women who have experienced the benefit of using this preparation while suffering from stomach de-rangements and general debility; acting under rangements and general dennity, acting under the advice of physicians, they have abandoned all deleterious drugs and fairly tested the merits of this article. A few words to the gentler sex. There are certain periods when their cares are so harassing that many of them sink under the trial. The relation of mother and edited is an absorbingty funder that the and child is so absorbingly tender, that the mother, especially if she be young, is apt to forget her own health in her extreme anxioty for her infant. Should the period of maternity arrive during the summer season, the wear of body and mind is generally aggravated. Here, then, is a necessity for a stimulant to recupe-rate the energies of the system, and enable the mother to bear up under her exhausting trials and responsibilities. Nursing mothers generally prefer the Bitters to all other invigora-tors that receive the endorsement of physicians, because it is agreeable to the taste as well as certain to give a permanent increase of bodily strength.

All those persons, to whom we have particu-larly referred above, to wit: sufferers from farer referred above, to wit: sufferent from fover and ague, caused by malaria, diarrhœa, dysentery, indigestion, loss of appetite, and all diseases or derangements of the stomach, superannuated invalids, persons of sedentary occupation, and nursing mothers, will consult

nd Head THE HORSE AND HIS DISEASES

THE HORSE AND HIS DISEASES Will Tell You Of the causes, symptons and Treat-ment of Fittula, Poll Eril, Glauders, Farcy, Scarlet Fever, Mange, Surfeit, Locked Jaw, Rheumatism, Cramps, Galls, Discuss of the Eyo and Heart, Ac., 4c., and how to manage Castration, Bleeding, Trephinolng, Rdwelling, Fir-ing, Hernia, Amptation, Tapping, and other surgical operations. THE HORSE AND HIS DISEASES Will Tall You Of Rarey's method of Taming

THE HORSE AND HIS DISEASES Will Tell You Of Rarey's method of Taming Horses; how to Approach, Malter, or Stable a Colt; how to accustom a horse to strange sounds and sights, and how to Bit, 'Saddle, Ride, and Break him' to Harness; also, the form and law of WARKANTY. The whole being the re-sult of more than fifteen years' careful study of the habits, peculiarities, wants and weaknessas of this noble and uso-ful animul.

bug is never to be found. The insect made its appearance in England as early as the year 1503, when two noblemen ware immediated workman is before a found that he can give general material and in a workman is before a found of the best practical workman is before a found of the best material and in a workman is before a found of the best practical workman is before a found of the best material and in a workman is before a found of the best practical workman were "punctured" by them, and the physicians called in great haste. The bug is sicians called in great haste. The bug is a parasite of the bat family, and is so te-nacious of life that no degree of heat or cold can effect it. Freeze one until you can break it in two; thaw the pieces and they is not the provide they will revive. Freeze the eggs until they are congealed in ice; let them thaw, and they will hatch again as usual. Boil both insect and egg and they will revive as soon as cool. If they get nothing to eat, they will live and propagate on what nourishment they may derive from the atmosphere.

-Whoever undertakes to put a joke on the rasor strop man is sure to get floored in the long run. Recently, while selling his strops at Plymouth, and expatiating the time on the evils of rum drinking, a tipsy fellow cried out, "If drinking rum made me lie as fast as you do selling your strops, I'd quit it to day."

"Very well," replied the strop seller; "the only difference between your lying and LIST OF GOODS INCLUDED IN THE DISTRIBUTION mine is this: my strops enable me to lie in a good warm bed, while rum makes you lie in the gutter."

-"CHARLEY, what would our wives say if they knew where we were ?" said the Captain of a schooner, when they were beating about in a thick fog, fearful of going on shore and being wrecked.

"Humph! I should'nt mind that," replied the mate, "if we only knew where we were ourselves."

-A soldier who was once wounded in a battle, set up a terrible bellowing. An Irishman who laid near, with both legs shot off, immediately sung out-"Bad luck to the likes of ye-do ye think that no-body is kill but yourself?"
