armies and resources were exhaustell, and their kingdoms mutally hid waste, it might bo well mough to consult about the preliminaries of peace; but, before this could be concluded a di-plomatic explanation was first needed of the in-sulting language which had formed the ground of the quarrel. "What could you mean," asked the second King of the first, "by saying 'cond me a blue pig with a black tail, or else ?"" "Why," said the other, I "meant a blace pig with a black tail, or else some other color. But," re-torted he "what could you mean by saying 'I have not got one, and if I had _?" "Why, of course, if I had I should have sent if;" an ex-planation which was entirely satisfactory, and Michael B. Horping, merchant 13 Wichael B. SUMPTUARY LAWS .- In England, in the year fifteen hundred and thirty-eight, it was enacted that "no lady or knight's wife should have more than one velvet or demask gown for the summer ; that all ladies should wear russet or culmut three ays in the week, under pennity of ten billings per day; and that a survoyor should examine the ladies ward-robes. Just fancy such a surveyor Cyrtis M. Krall, metchant in these days !

Last week, in the Gallery of the Louisi-ana Convention, ayoung gentleman unfortunato-ly sat down upon a portion of a lady's highly orimolined dress but in an instant arose and said "I beg your pardon Miss, but I hope I have'nt broken your umbrella." " Oh, no," said the young lady blushing very much.
