him to call it together, and then goes on to Say:

The mexampled promptness and entimisasm with which Pennsylvania and the other loyal States have responded to the call of the President, and the entire manimity with which our people demand that the integrity of the Government shall be preserved, flintstrate the duty of the Government shall be preserved, flintstrate the duty of the several States and National Governments, with a distinctness that connot be disregarded.

The shaughter of Northern troops in the city of Baltimore, for the pretended oftence of marching, at the call of the Federal Government, pencenbly, over soil admittedly in the Union, and with the ultimate object of defending our common Capital against an armod and rebellious invasion, together with the obstruction of our Pennsylvania troops when despatched on the same patriotic mission, impose new duties and responsibilities upon our state Administration.

At last advices the General Government had military possession of the route to Washington through Annapolis; but the transit of troops had been greatly endangered and delayed and the safety of Washington hiself imminently threatened. This cannot be submitted to. Whether Harryland may profess to be loyal to the Union or otherwise, there can be permitted no hostile soil, no obstructed thoroughfare between the States that undombtedly are loyal and their National seat of Government. There is reason to hope that the route through Baltimore may be no longer closed against the peacentle passage of our people, armed and in the service of the Federal dovernment. But we must be fully assured of this, and have the uninterrupted enjoyment of a passage to the Capital by any and every route essential to the purposes of the Government. This must be attained: peacently, if possible, but by force of arms if not accorded.

The time is placed to the morrising or forbearing with peaceably, if possible, but by force or trins it not accorded.

The time is past for temporizing or forbearing with this rebellion—the most causeless in history. The North has not invaded, nor has she sought to invade, a single guarantied right of the South. On the contrary, all political partness and all administrations have fully recognized the binding force of every provision of the great compact between the States; and, regardless of our views of State policy, our people have respected them. To preclicate a rebellion, therefore, non any alleged wrong inflicted, or sought to be inflicted upon the South, is to offer faischood as an apology for treason. So will the civilived world and history judge this mad effort to overthrow the most beneficent structure of human government over devised by man. by man.

The leaders of the rebellion in the Cotton States, which Highest Premium $100, Lowest Premium $2.

The leaders of the rebellion in the Cotton States, which has resulted in the establishment of a Provisional organization; assuming to discharge all the functions of Governmental power, have mistaken the forbearance of the General Government. They have accepted a fraternal indulgence as a weakness, and have insanely looked to a united South and a divided North to give success to the emmental power, have mistaken the forlearance of the General Government. They have accepted a fraternal institugence as a weakness, and have incomply looked to a mitted south and a divided North to give success to the wild ambition that that he led the wild anbition that that he led the success to the wild ambition that that he led the success to the wild ambition that that he led the success to the wild ambition that that he led the success to the wild ambition that that he led the success to the wild ambition that the led the success to the wild ambition that the led the success to the wild ambition that the led the success to the National Capital. The insurrection must now be most offered the leading of a complete of the led to the leading and sufficient to the proper and commerce of the Union in every action, the people of the loyal States demand as with one cole and will contend for as with one keeps and its beneficent histitutions.

King training there views, and anticipating that more treatment and its beneficent histitutions.

King training there views, and anticipating that more treatment and its beneficent histitutions.

King training there views, and anticipating that more treatment of a million of benefits and their children for ages to come the perpetuity of this Government. It was not mistaken. On Salurday last an additional requisition was made upon me for tenty-place to the United States.

In the anticipation I was not mistaken. On Salurday last an additional requisition was made upon me for tenty-place place and will be required them were ordered by the fortier of the United States army, were transported to Cockeyaville near Biltimper, at which my preparation, and the proper conduction of and accompanied by officers of the United States army, were transported to Cockeyaville near Biltimper, at which po Government, as I understand, to reach Washington, and were assaulted by armed men in the city of Baltimore; many of their number were seriously wounded, and four were killed. The larger part of this body returned directly to Philadelphia: but many of them were forcibly detained in Baltimore; some of them were thrust into prison, and others have rot yet reached their howes.

I have the honor to say that the officers and men behaved with the utmost gallantry. This bidy is now organized into a regiment, and the officers are commissioned; they have been accepted into the service, and will go to Washington by any route indicated by the Federal Government.

I have established a Camp at Pittsburgh, at which the troops from Western Pennsylvania will be mustered into service, and organized and disciplined by skillful and experienced efficers.

I communicate to you with great satisfaction the fact, that the banks of the Communwealth have voluntarily tendered any munited money that may be necessary for the common defence and general welfare of the State and the nation in this emergency; and the temporary loan of $500,00°, authorized by the Act of the General Assembly of the 17th April, 1961, was promptly taken at par. The money is not yet exhausted, as it has been impossible to have the accounts properly audited and settled with the accounting and paying officers of the Government, as required by law. An account of this expenditure cannot now be furnished. The Audit is General and State Treasurer have estrolished a system of settlement and payment, of which I entirely approve,—that providesmely for the prefection of the State, and to which all parties having claims will be obliged to conform.

A much larger sum will be required, than has been distinctively appropriated; but I could not recover and the segments for money, with been distinctively appropriated; but I could not receive nor make engagements for money, without authority of law; and I have called you together, not only to provide for a complete reor-ganization of the Militia of the State, but also, ganization of the Edition of the State, but also, that you may give me authority to pledge the faith of the Commonwealth, to borrow such sums of money as you may, in your discretion, deem necessary for these extraordinary requirements.

It is impossible to predict the lengths to which It is impossible to predict the lengths to which It is impossible to predict the lengths to which the madness that rules the hour," in the rebellious States, shall lead us, or when the calamities which threaten our hitherto happy country shall terminate. We know that many of our people have already left the state in the service of the have already left the state in the service of the General Government, and that many more must letween 10 o'clock in the forence already alternoon. By order of the Board,

A. MULL, Secretary. out, and to protect our borders, we should have a well regulated military force.

I therefore recommend the immediate organiza tion, disciplining, and arming of at least fifteen regiments of Cavalry and Infantry, exclusive of those called into the service of the United States. As we have already ample warning of the necessity of being prepared for any sudden exigency that may arise, I cannot too much impress this upon you.

I cannot refrain from alluding to the generous manner in which the people of all parts of the State have, from their private means, provided for the families of those of our citizens who are now under arms.

now under arms.

In many parts of the Commonwealth, grand juries and courts, and municipal corporations, have recommended the appropriation of moneys from their public funds for the same commendable purpose. I would recommend the passage of an act legalizing and authorizing such appropriations and expenditures.

It may be expected that, in the present derange-

It may be expected that, in the present derangement of trade and commerce, and the withdrawal of so much industry from its ordinary and productive channels, the selling value of property generally will be depreciated, and a large portion of our citizens deprived of the ordinary means of meeting engagements. Although much forbearance may be expected from a generous and magnanimous people, yet I feel it my duty to recommend the massage of a judicious law to prayers. mend the passage of a judicious law to prevent the sacrifice of property by forced sales in the collection of dobts.

You meet together at this special session, sur-rounded by circumstances involving the most solemn responsibilities. The recollections of the glories of the past, the reflections of the gloomy present, and the uncertainty of the future, all prosent, and the uncertainty of the future, all alike call upon you to discharge your duty in a spirit of patriotic courage, comprehensive wisdom, and firm resolution. Never in the history of our peace-loving Commonwealth, have the hearts of our people been so stirred in their depths, as at the present moment; and I feel that I need hardly say to you, that, in the performance of your duties on this occasion, and in providing the ways and means for the maintenance of our country's glory, and our integrity as ance of our country's glory, and our integrity ha a nation, you should be inspired by feelings of self-sacrifice, kindred to those which animated the brave men who have devoted their lives to the peril of the battle field in defence of our na-tion's flag.

Four hundred and sixty of our volunteers—the first to reach Washington from any of the States—are now at that city. They are now provided for by the General Government; but I design to send them clething at the earliest possible opportunity. Lam glad to be able to state that these men, in their progress to the National capital, received no bodily injury, although they were subjected to insult in the city of Baltimore—such as should not have been offered to any law-aboding cities, much less to loyal men, who, at the call of the President, have promptly left their own State is the performance of the highest duty, and in the service of their country.

COMMENDATIONS:

Fro a Hon. Lewis D. Campell. M. C., Ohio.

My family and friends all concur in the opinion that the (Newell) Picture is more life-like than any thing they ever saw. My likeness has been repeatedly taken by different Artists in various ways, but I have never yet had she which presents so true to nature, all the features and expressions of countenance as this.

From Hon. E. Joy Morals, late Minister to Italy.

The exquisite fluish, beauty and softness of your portraits, conjoined with their durability of color and faithfulness as likenesses, cannot fail to commend them to the attention and patronage of all who appreciate true art.

Inattle Creek, Mich., Dec. 21st. 1858.

Prof. Wood: Thee wilt please accept a line to inform thee that the lair on my head all fell off over twenty years ago, caused by a complicated chronic disease, attended with an cruption on the head. A continual course of suffering through life having reduced me to a state of dependence, I have not been able to obtain stuff for caps, neither have I been able to do thom up, in consequence of which my head has suffered extremely from cold. This induced me to pay Briggs's Hodges almost the last cent I had onearth for a two dollar bottle of thy Hair Rest reative about the first of August last. I have faithfully followed the directions and the bald spot is now covered with hair thick and black, though short, it is also coming in all over my head.—Feeling confident that another large bottle would restore it entirely and permanently. I feel anxious to preserve in its use, and being destitute of means to purchase any more, I would ask thee if thee wouldst not be willing to send me an order on thine agents for a bottle, and receive to thyself the scripture declaration—"the reward to those that are kind to the widow and the fatherless."

Thy friend.

Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir—In the latter part of the year 1852, while attending the State and National Law School of the State of New York, my hair, from a cause unknown to me, commenced falling off very rapidly, so that in the short space of six months, the whole upper part of my scalp, was almost entirely benefit of the covering and much of the remaining portion upon the side and back part of my head shortly after became gray, so that you will not be surprised when I tell you t forced to become reconciled to my late, until, fortunately, in the latter part of the year 1857, your Restorative was recommended to me by a drugglst, as being the most reliable Hair Restorative in use. I tried one bottle, and found to my great satisfaction that it was producing the desired effect. Since that time, I have used seven dollars' worth of your Restorative, and as a result, have a rich coat of black hair, which no money can buy. suff, have a rich coat of brace, man, who and skill in can buy.
