The only change in Teacher that has taken place in the borough is that of Male School, No 6., where Lieut. Lineaweaver. who has colleted in Capt. Weidman's Cavalry Company, is succeed by Mr. Geo. Houck, son of Sheriff Houck.

Gen. Weldman's company of Lebanon County Cavalry left Lebanon, on Thursday last, for Harrisburg to be mustered into the service of the United States. Although a numher pri fibers who had given their names backed their the boar of action arrived, we are satisfied that the General will speedily have a full commany, and one that, into whose ranky admisalon will be sought more eagerly by volunteers than for any other in the service. Wa all know Gen. Welders to be a good, kind, and, excellent man and officer in every respect, and that he will take the very best care of bis men. There will be no deception in him. We are pleased to learn that recruits are being forwarded every day from this county, by Lieut. Reinhold, of Myerstown, and Lieut. W. Lineaweaver, of this place. Several Regiments of Volunteers. from New York and Massachusetts passed through this place last week for the seat of war. Our road is generally preferred as a military route. It obviates the necessity of a change of cars and transhipment of munition. Once loaded at New York there is no change until arrival at Washington.

BLOODED STOCK FOR SALE.—The the purpose of nominating a ticket, as suggested stock bred on the Colebrook Estate, of the late by the address just read. William Coleman, dec'd., is advertised in anothes eclumn to be sold at public sale. This sale is worthy the attention of all who want stock of a superior hind, as such an opportunity to office it is not often presented.

It is said that at some of the Republican delegate elections on Saturday evening, although the call was for all parties to participate, none were allowed to vote without the enquiry whether he voted for Lincoln.

Meetings are held all over the county, this week, to recruit men for the Regiment of volunteers proposed to be raised here. Addresses will be delivered by prominent speakers of Lebanon, at the various meetings.

Want of time compels us to condense our remarks on the extraordinary movement which took place in this borough on Mo nday .--The opposition party, after on uninterrupted and successful career for upwards of 20 years, broke down completely and effectually. A large number of the delegates, and they are sustained we have reason to believe, by the large hody of their party, seceded from the Convention after its proceedings on the Union address and resolutions, offered by Mr. Coover. The object of the seceders now is to form a Union Ticket with the Democrate, and the subject being one of considerable importance will require the serious consideration of our Demogratic friends.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION. A Bolt and a New Convention. The above body sesambled in the Court House, Lepanon, on Monday morning. It was some time before the delegates could be brought to-gether, as caucussing, threatening, drilling and wife pulling, was going on in every corner.— There was no readiness at all for the work to be done. At about 11 o'clook, however, the hell rang and soon the Court room was filled. On metion, C. B. FORKEY, Eq., of North Lebanon township was appointed Chairman, and C. Henry, of Lebanon, and U. R. Tracy, of Cold Spring, Secretaries. Mr. Forney made a short speech to the delegates upon assuming the chair in which he expressed his sorrow do see a disposition an the part of some of the members to bolt if their can part of some of the memors to not if their candidates were defeated. He said that an indisposition on the part of the minority to yield to the majority was the cause of all our national troubles. He advised condidates who did not intend to submit to the decision of the convention tend to submit to the decision of the convention to show their patriotism by not submitting their names, but in the end hoped that things would have held by the party some time hence,—he probably meant in October when the ticket nominated would be elected. Mr. John George moved the appointment of a Committee of Resolutions. Agreed to. Mr. C. H. Borgner moved that the committee to draft resolutions be also a committee to exact bedoes from the candidates to mittee to exact pledges from the candidates to abide by the decision of the Convention.

Agreed to. Mr. C. H. Borgner moved that candidates be now placed in a nomination. Agreed to. Mr. Coover suggested that it would be to. Mr. Coover suggested that it would be proper to exact the plades first before nominating. The suggestion being deemed a wise one, no nominations were made for the time being.— A member moved that the convention vote by beild and not viva voce, as recommended by the standing committee. Agreed to, only six having the first standing that they were not afraid to let their constituents know how they represented them. On motion adjourned to 12 o'clook, P. M. The struggle in which we are engaged is one of life or death to the nation, and in the successful issue of which the people feel a universal and absorbing interest. Upon this question, public opinion should be unanimous, and however we may have been divided by party lines before this war was proclaitated upon the country, such divisions should be discarded, political lines should be obtiterated and all accretity of feeling engendered. We are requested to announce the by contests for local offices should be studiously

For this reason many who have hitherty been strict party men feel an unconquerable aversion to the support of a purely partizen ticket, no matter how excellent or well duslified the men who compose it, and they embrace this method to submit to your consideration the importance and practicability of uniting with the Democratic spity in the formation of a mixed ticket, to be supported by both parties at the coming election. That the Democratic party of Lebanon County That the Democratic party of Lebanon County would cheerfully agree to such an arrangement and approve of and subscribe to such a platform cannot be doubted, since the National Congress, composed of Democrata, Republicans, and Americans, with but a few melancholy exceptions, at its redent extra session, unanimously concurred in measures of the same character. We, as a party, are in the majority in this county, and the concessions here indicated, if made to the other side, while they invole no sacrifice of principles, will furnish indubitable tevidence of our patriotism and magnanimity.

No action on this question was had by the County Committee—the sall for a County Convention there which you have assembled, we understand was issued by the chairman, upon his own responsibility, and without consultation with the individual members of that body—and the subject therefore comes legitimately before

Should you think well of this suggestion, your party of the county to meet you in convention a week hence, when a licket acceptable to both parties might be put in commantion, and if they should decline to accept your magnanimous offer sufficient time would still be left to conduct the

In secolusion, gentlemen let us implore you to rise above all party projudices and political animosity, in this hour of our country's adversity. There was a time when a division of the Ameri-There was a time wind a division of the American people into parties was justifiable, and perhaps necessary.
