

LEBANON, PA.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1861.

DEMOCRATIC & REPUBLICAN UNION TICKET.

President Judge: John J. Pearson, Dauphin County.

Associate Judges: William Rank, Swatara Township; Thomas Kramer, Londonderry Township.

Assembly: Isaac Hoffer, Lebanon Borough.

Sheriff: Jonathan Bender, Jackson Township.

Prothonotary: Henry Siegrist, Lebanon Borough.

Treasurer: John Allwein, South Annville Township.

Commissioner: Jacob Bucher, South Lebanon Township.

Director of the Poor: Elias Walborn, Bethel Township.

Auditor: Jacob Zug, Millersick Township.

Next Tuesday is election day. The present condition of our National affairs makes this election, which under other circumstances would be but an ordinary one, of considerable importance.

In Pennsylvania no State election takes place this year, but the opinion of the people will have to be gathered from the votes cast for the various county offices and members of the Legislature.

In Lebanon county we have two tickets presented to the voters for their endorsement—one made by a partisan assembly and of the usual partisan character; the other by a Union Convention of all parties, and which will be supported by Democrats, Republicans and Americans indiscriminately.

There need be no appeal to the voters "to come out." All who appreciate the importance of the present election will rally to the polls with an unusual enthusiasm.

Gov. Curtin has issued a proclamation prohibiting citizens of Pennsylvania from enlisting in companies or regiments raised for or in other States, under any authority but such as may be authorized by this State.

Gov. Curtin has issued a proclamation prohibiting citizens of Pennsylvania from enlisting in companies or regiments raised for or in other States, under any authority but such as may be authorized by this State.

THE UNION TICKET.

Mr. Editor.—The people in this part of the county, all want to unite on the Union ticket, because in supporting that they can give the administration the most effective support.

But the Union ticket is opposed by what is known in the county as the "Court House Clique," because it was formed by the people, and if it succeeds, their own ticket, formed by them, in the main more than a month before the convention met, will have to go down.

It is a fact well known through the county, that no honest man can be nominated for any county office worth having, if he does not at first secure the good will of this clique, and do this he must surrender his manhood and consent to become a willing instrument in their hands for any purpose they choose to use him for.

By supporting the Union ticket, we can therefore accomplish two objects, viz: unite and harmonize the people, and secure their unanimous support of the administration, and in favor of a vigorous prosecution of the war, and smash the "Court House Clique," the latter being but a mere consequence of the former, but still is very much desired by the people.

It was well known for months before the convention met, that those of this borough who compose what is commonly known as the "Court House Clique" throughout the county, were determined to nominate Mr. Shantz for Sheriff.

On the day of the convention, those candidates who were in the ring brought their delegates for themselves only, and these were then combined by the wire-pullers here, and the ticket they have nominated is the result of their action.

The principle of "rotation in office" is strongly urged against this gentleman by the straight voters. They will of course resort to anything to help their ticket, but this argument, we think, does not make much in their favor.

The offices are made for the public benefit and not for office seekers, and whenever the community has a competent and faithful officer, it is bad policy to turn him out to make room for another who has had no such experience.

There need be no appeal to the voters "to come out." All who appreciate the importance of the present election will rally to the polls with an unusual enthusiasm.

Gov. Curtin has issued a proclamation prohibiting citizens of Pennsylvania from enlisting in companies or regiments raised for or in other States, under any authority but such as may be authorized by this State.

become divided—would unduly isolate their passions, and beyond their own territories the local and bitterness of political opinion in a single district and alienation among them, and that demagogues, taking advantage of the excitement thus occasioned, might lead them to their ruin.

This was the source of endless trouble, and proved the ultimate ruin of the Republic of antiquity. Our Statesmen of revolutionary memory saw the danger to which we would be subjected from these causes, and they have provided every occasion to admonish us against them.

The temper and disposition of the American people was never fully tested until the present National Administration came into power. The political campaign which preceded the election, was peaceful and without bloodshed, which they had never passed.

On the 21st Gen. Lane's force surprised a large body of rebels at Pappsville, Mo. After a severe fight the latter were routed. A hero's loss was 17 killed and a number wounded; that of the rebels was 40 killed, and 100 captured.

A skirmish occurred on Thursday, Sept. 19, at Black River, Missouri, between two companies of Indiana volunteers, under Major Gavitt, and a cavalry body of rebels, under Ben Talcot, in which five of the rebels were killed and four taken prisoners, and thirty five horses and a quantity of arms captured.

It is stated that a fight occurred at Mariatow, Mo., on Tuesday, the 17th ult., between 600 National troops, under Col. Montgomery and Johnston, and 400 Rebels. The latter were completely routed, with the loss of seven killed, 100 horses and all their tents and supplies were captured.

Five hundred of the Fourth Ohio regiment, with 50 pieces of artillery, and the Ringgold Cavalry, seven, five in number, under Col. Cantwell, and four hundred of the Eighth Ohio regiment, Col. Harts, made an advance from New Creek on Monday, toward Romney.

The Rebels procured a large number of hemp bales and rolled them in advance, and under their cover gradually succeeded in securing a position in the rear. They then cut off the supply of water and had the fort completely surrounded.

The Rebels procured a large number of hemp bales and rolled them in advance, and under their cover gradually succeeded in securing a position in the rear. They then cut off the supply of water and had the fort completely surrounded.

The Rebels procured a large number of hemp bales and rolled them in advance, and under their cover gradually succeeded in securing a position in the rear. They then cut off the supply of water and had the fort completely surrounded.

of any kind; in fact you of Lebanon are better than we are to the movement, going on, as we are not allowed to pass out of camp on any pretense, except for duty, without a pass from the commanding officer.

After his return from Washington he was elected Captain of the Shield's Guards. On the news arriving of the bombardment of Fort Sumter, he threw his soul into the national cause. The Irish American companies held a meeting of which he was Chairman.

After his return from Washington he was elected Captain of the Shield's Guards. On the news arriving of the bombardment of Fort Sumter, he threw his soul into the national cause. The Irish American companies held a meeting of which he was Chairman.

The Rebels procured a large number of hemp bales and rolled them in advance, and under their cover gradually succeeded in securing a position in the rear. They then cut off the supply of water and had the fort completely surrounded.

The Rebels procured a large number of hemp bales and rolled them in advance, and under their cover gradually succeeded in securing a position in the rear. They then cut off the supply of water and had the fort completely surrounded.

The Rebels procured a large number of hemp bales and rolled them in advance, and under their cover gradually succeeded in securing a position in the rear. They then cut off the supply of water and had the fort completely surrounded.

The Rebels procured a large number of hemp bales and rolled them in advance, and under their cover gradually succeeded in securing a position in the rear. They then cut off the supply of water and had the fort completely surrounded.

The Rebels procured a large number of hemp bales and rolled them in advance, and under their cover gradually succeeded in securing a position in the rear. They then cut off the supply of water and had the fort completely surrounded.

The Rebels procured a large number of hemp bales and rolled them in advance, and under their cover gradually succeeded in securing a position in the rear. They then cut off the supply of water and had the fort completely surrounded.

The Rebels procured a large number of hemp bales and rolled them in advance, and under their cover gradually succeeded in securing a position in the rear. They then cut off the supply of water and had the fort completely surrounded.

Senator Fitch, of Indiana, tendered him a clerkship in the Department of the Interior. He accepted the position and spent the winter at Washington. During his residence in Washington he corresponded with the Lexington Telegraph.

After his return from Washington he was elected Captain of the Shield's Guards. On the news arriving of the bombardment of Fort Sumter, he threw his soul into the national cause. The Irish American companies held a meeting of which he was Chairman.

The Rebels procured a large number of hemp bales and rolled them in advance, and under their cover gradually succeeded in securing a position in the rear. They then cut off the supply of water and had the fort completely surrounded.

The Rebels procured a large number of hemp bales and rolled them in advance, and under their cover gradually succeeded in securing a position in the rear. They then cut off the supply of water and had the fort completely surrounded.

The Rebels procured a large number of hemp bales and rolled them in advance, and under their cover gradually succeeded in securing a position in the rear. They then cut off the supply of water and had the fort completely surrounded.

The Rebels procured a large number of hemp bales and rolled them in advance, and under their cover gradually succeeded in securing a position in the rear. They then cut off the supply of water and had the fort completely surrounded.

The Rebels procured a large number of hemp bales and rolled them in advance, and under their cover gradually succeeded in securing a position in the rear. They then cut off the supply of water and had the fort completely surrounded.

The Rebels procured a large number of hemp bales and rolled them in advance, and under their cover gradually succeeded in securing a position in the rear. They then cut off the supply of water and had the fort completely surrounded.

The Rebels procured a large number of hemp bales and rolled them in advance, and under their cover gradually succeeded in securing a position in the rear. They then cut off the supply of water and had the fort completely surrounded.

The Rebels procured a large number of hemp bales and rolled them in advance, and under their cover gradually succeeded in securing a position in the rear. They then cut off the supply of water and had the fort completely surrounded.

The grave of the late Major Ringgold who fell in the battle of Palmetto, in Greenwood Cemetery, in Baltimore. It is marked by a monumental stone, but it is surrounded simply by a stockade of Mexican muskets with fixed bayonets which were taken in the battle named.

Thomas J. Jeffries, Esq., of Philadelphia, paid a visit to Washington, a few days since at the request of the War Department, to make arrangements for organizing a huge blacksmith shop for the Department. The amount of work is very large.

The oak tree lives in a state of nature one thousand five hundred years. A good one is told of a Quaker Volunteer who was in a Virginia skirmish. Coming in pretty close quarters with a rebel he remarked "Friend, it's unfortunate, but these stands just where I am going to shoot," and blazing away down came the Scotch.

A good one is told of a Quaker Volunteer who was in a Virginia skirmish. Coming in pretty close quarters with a rebel he remarked "Friend, it's unfortunate, but these stands just where I am going to shoot," and blazing away down came the Scotch.

The Rebels procured a large number of hemp bales and rolled them in advance, and under their cover gradually succeeded in securing a position in the rear. They then cut off the supply of water and had the fort completely surrounded.

The Rebels procured a large number of hemp bales and rolled them in advance, and under their cover gradually succeeded in securing a position in the rear. They then cut off the supply of water and had the fort completely surrounded.

The Rebels procured a large number of hemp bales and rolled them in advance, and under their cover gradually succeeded in securing a position in the rear. They then cut off the supply of water and had the fort completely surrounded.

The Rebels procured a large number of hemp bales and rolled them in advance, and under their cover gradually succeeded in securing a position in the rear. They then cut off the supply of water and had the fort completely surrounded.

The Rebels procured a large number of hemp bales and rolled them in advance, and under their cover gradually succeeded in securing a position in the rear. They then cut off the supply of water and had the fort completely surrounded.

The Rebels procured a large number of hemp bales and rolled them in advance, and under their cover gradually succeeded in securing a position in the rear. They then cut off the supply of water and had the fort completely surrounded.

They go Right to the Spot! INSTANT RELIEF! STOP YOUR COUGH! PURIFY YOUR BRONCHIAI! STRENGTHEN YOUR VOICE! SPALDING'S THROAT CONFECTIONS, ARE GOOD FOR CLEBRAYS, GOOD FOR LECTURERS, GOOD FOR PUBLIC SPEAKERS, GOOD FOR SINGERS, GOOD FOR CONSUMPTIVES.

CEPHALIC PILLS, CURE NERVOUS HEADACHE, ALL KINDS OF HEADACHE. By the use of these Pills the periodic attacks of Nervous Headache can be prevented.

THE STRENGTH OF THE REBELS. A Confederate officer, lately taken prisoner, says that the strength of the rebel armies before Washington, under Beauregard and Johnston, is not less than the highest estimate has been made.

THE WAR IN MISSOURI. The Surrender of Lexington. Hunsco, Mo., Sept. 23.—The following account of the siege of Lexington is furnished to the St. Louis Republican by Henry Bradburn, one of Col. Mulligan's soldiers, who left Lexington on Saturday morning.

FROM KENTUCKY. Forty Thousand Troops to be Raised. FRANKFORT, Sept. 25.—In the House to day Mr. Underwood reported an amended bill from the Committee on Military Affairs, calling out 40,000 volunteers for service from one to three years.

WHO IS COLONEL MULLIGAN? The Lexington Advertiser gives the following interesting sketch of the hero of Lexington.

UNION, FOR THE SAKE OF THE UNION. [Correspondence of the Lebanon Advertiser.] LETTER FROM CAPT. LANTZ'S COMPANY. CAPT. TENALAY, COMP. C., 7th Reg.

THE UNION TICKET. The great body of the American people love their government, and well they may, because its equal can nowhere be found since civil institutions have been known to exist among mankind.

FALL INTO RANGES!! THE REGIMENT authorized to be raised by the State, under the late Capt. J. M. McCallum, is now open for enlistment.

MARKET STREET HOTEL. Corner Market and Chestnut Streets, Lebanon. JOHN MATTHEWS, Proprietor.