HOME AFFAIRS.

Why John, where are you going to in such a hurry? Why, I am going to LAUBACH'S, in Market etreet, to buy a nice lot of Furniture. Well, John, can you tell me the reason why LAUBACH sells so much more Furniture and Chairs than all the Cabinet-makers in Lebanon together?

Yes, John, I think I can tell that reason very plainly;

he has always got by far the largest and best assortments of all kinds of Furniture and Chairs on hand. which he also sells a great deal cheaper than any other Cabinet-maker; besides he has an excellent cushioned Furniture Wagon with which he delivers all Furniture and Chairs sold by him, free of charge; these I think to the very good and advantageous reasons.

As the 93d Regiment will leave for the seat of war this week, the public will please bear in mind that the best and oldest CABINET MAKING ESTABLISHMENT, in Lebanon, is that of C. BROTHERLINE's. Any person in want of good made work will please call on him, before buying elsewhere. C. BROTHERLINE. Lebanon, Nov. 20, 1861 .-- 6mo.

We have been requested to state that there will be a Special Meeting of the Lebsnon County Agricultural and Horticultural Society on Saturday, December 21, 1861, at 1 o'clock P. M., at the Court House, when business of importance will be transacted.

LETTER FROM LIEUT. ROGERS.

CAMP MARY, Company C,

Washington, D. C.

Saturday, December 7, 1861.

MR. Breslin — This evening I sit down to write you a few lines, hoping that my humble effort may be acceptable to your readers. The boys are now going through the cleaning process necessary to a favorable inspection to morrow.—Blacking brushes, soap and all the necessities of Saturday night are now brought into full requisition, and by to morrow's dawn we may expect to see a cleanly and respectable set of soldiers.

We are now located upon a hill about 3 miles from Washington. A rayine limits its eastern and southern slopes, which also has its boundary in another large hill, and thus, as we stand upon the summit of our own, the eye meets a series of rugged scenes whose beauty charms the sight and gives us an apt theme for many an hour's gazing. Our location has been changed three times since Our location has been changed three times since we left Lebanon, and, as the certainty of our remaining here is so much in doubt as our previous marches were unexpected, perhaps before this reaches you we will no larger enjoy the pleasures of Camp Mary. Two fine springs near by afford us a plentiful supply of water, and in a convenience like this we have ample cause for congratulation, as nothing is so mylessant as to be lim. lation, as nothing is so unpleasant as to be limited to a small quantity of this refreshing element.

After the duties of the day are over, a diversity of amusements relieve the dreary hours of ber.

All the officers of the Regiment have received their commissions which were presented, with appropriate remarks by Col. McCarter. The pay rolls have already been prepared and it is to be hoped will be soon cashed by the proper authorities. The boys stand in need of the "dough," and the sooner it is forthcoming the better pleased they will be. Our arms are also expected next week, and it is carnestly desired that we may receive a good weapon for the long waiting to which we have been subjected.

The weather for the past few days has been exceedingly mild, and we presume that "Indian Summer" has paid as a visit, to warn us that the

The Banks will be closed pext by the seem of kindness received from those in whose pathway we have been thrown. To do this—to name them all—would be a pleasant task indeed, but one impossible for me to perform worthily. It is pleasto David Baney and Dr. Gloningst, and some ant after all to one, who can appreciate the fund flaund at Henry & Stine's Store. He was arround the heart, when he hears fall-from the lips of "friends since days of yore," that word so full of meaning, adieu!—days too, that are revered by all who can recollect when the first dawn of inand pen a few lines to you.

We, as messmates, sit together and talk of sweet home, and reflect upon the many scenes of our childhood, which gives me a pleasure to write. After some changes we pitched our tents at the above named Fort. The situation is a very pleasant one, on a high hill, about three miles from Washington. It must be a care deligation After the duties of the day are user, a utversity of amusements relieve the dreary hours of night. Here a group of negro screenaders are sounding the tambourine and bones, while the musical scratching of cat-gut greets the ear from all directions. There a sontimental young man is singing a song of the same kind, while his supple fingers are picking an accompaniment on the banjo. Then in another quarter you may be hold a party of conscientious young men, whose pleasure consists in singing hymns of praise, while still others derive enjoyment in relating and listening to the stories of some modern Baron Munchausen, whose mind is equal to all emergencies in inventing what he cannot remember.

All the officers of the Regiment have received their commissions which were presented, with and were praised for having our knapsacks, &c., so well adjusted: I am glad to inform you that every man in the regiment has received another every man in the regiment has received another blanket. I was down at a beautiful little creek yesterday, and washed my shirts; you may think, they were not clean, but I tell you that I can do it pretty well for a greenborn. I got them clean at any rate. To morrow we will get our arms, and then I think, we can strike a blow for our country. We were pleased to see some of our Lebanou friends; they were reremaded by our band, which cannot be taken down by any band about here.

I have heard that the drummers will get only $12 per month; but I hope it is not true, for we ast, after which we have a company drill from 9 ll o'clock; then we have our dinner; at 1 o'k we bave the same drill till 3 o'clock; then ave recess of one hour, which brings us to 4 pck, when we have our dress parade; then at $4. There, and at 8 o'clock we rattle off in good carnbe tattoos, after which we retire to our quar-te think of home—some think of their wives, it rame of their sweethearts, &c., and so we think and talk till we fall asleep. I wrote a few lines to my friend, Samuel Shirk, and received his answer last Thursday, and I was glad to hear that you were well. CAMP MARY, FORT GOOD HOPE, MARYLAND,) December 12th, 1861.
EDITOR ADVERTISER: - Another week has passed and I scarcely know what to do to fulfil my promise. There is nothing of any importance to write; atili to satisfy your numerous readers, I will endeavor to write you a letter.

"Never hallo until you are out of the woods," is a good motto, and I will endeavor to follow it bereefter as my last letter was basili mailed in hereafter, as my last letter was hardly mailed be-fore we had orders to go to work in the Fort,— Well, we went, and we worked also, and by even

On Monday last we were in the United States Arsenal at Washington, and got our arms. They are called the "Belgium Rifle" and are said to be very good, but rather heavy for Infantry drill. But we must try and manage them for the sake of the glorious "Stars and Stripes." During this week I paid a flying visit to Gen.
McGall's division of the army, across the Potomso, but my steps were more particularly directed to the Camp of the 7th Reserve Regiment, to see the Lebanon boys in Capt. Lantz's company. I found them all well and hearty, and enjoying soldier's life to the Etwork. As they have an idea that they will remain in their camp during the winter, they have precise for themselves ing luts, over which they use the canvass tent as a roof.— I slept in one of them, and found it quite comfortable in comparison with my camp tent, I also stopped a short time in the 1st Regiment, Reserve Cavalry, and found the Lebanonians, with one exception, all well and comfortable.—

Gen. McCall's Rivision is now on the advance, being within one and a half miles of the outer picket lines.

Among the notable places I saw in my visit, was the residence of Mr. Patterson Jones, late Commodore in the U. S. Navy, but now in the service of the rebels. It is a fine place, and in tolerable good order, but the furniture, &c., of the house has been removed by the soldiers. The buildings are now guarded to save them from demolition. At several places I saw where whole buildings had been carried away by pieces, nothing being left but the chimneys and cellar walls.

There is nothing of interest to write about in this camp. It is generally believed that we will be paid off on Monday next, up to the 1st of November. I hope it may be so, as pocket-change is getting scarce with us.

The health of the Regiment is exceedingly good, not a single one being in the Hospital who is not able to walk about on a pleasant day.

The changes in the weather here are very sudden. On Monday and Tuesday lust it was very den. On Monday and Tuesday last it was very warm, while on Wednesday morning at was cold, and to day it is again very pleasant.

MILITARY UNIFORMS.—There is, per-MILITARY UNIFORMS.—There is, perhaps no department of military business in which there has been a more marked improvement than in the clothing of the soldiers. Not many years since officers and privates were clad in garmonts which were almost skin-tight. They wore leather stocks, which were worthy of the name, for they, kept the wearer in tribulation; while their padded breuets and tight sleeves amade volition a matter of great difficulty. During the present war, such of our volunteers as procure their uniforms at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth, Philadelphia, obtain clothing that is perfectly easy, substantial and becoming. The firm namedshave gone largely into the business of making Military Clothing, and their facilities enable them to fill the largest orders in the shortest possible time.

Esq., County Superintendent of Delaware county, are expected to be present to deliver lectures in the evenings.

The exercises throughout will be interspersed with Vocal MUSIC. In short, everything will be done by the Executive Committee, in connection with the undersigned, that will have a tendency to interest and instruct the Teacher. Is it asking too much in return that each Teacher in the county be present during the entire session, to avail himself of the means for improvement that will be presented? It is considered needless to speak at length of the importance of Teachers' Institutes, and the good they have already accomplished. The experience of the last five years clearly demonstrates their usefulness, for it is they that have been mainly instrumental in elevating the Teacher's profession to its present position, and in bringing about the "happy Union of hearts and Union of hands" everywhere manifested in the great education cause.

It is believed that Directors would act in conformity with the best interests of the schools, by granting Teachers the privilege of attending Institutes without loss of time or reduction of salary. The Directors in quite a number of districts have already granted the time. Let their good example be followed by every District in the courty; and where the time will not be granted it can hardly be deemed a sufficient reason for Teachers' absence.

Teachers' absence.

The Hotel keepers have consented to make a liberal reduction in prices of fare. Ladius will be entertained gratuitously. Let there be a turn out worthy of the good cause. By order of HENRY HAUCK,
