THE CORNER.

A SINGULAR PROPHECY -- We clip from the New Orleans True Delta, of the 20th ult, the subjoined preface and republication. Perhaps the discerning reader will deem the fact that this "singular prophecy" is so complacently held up to view on the shores of the gulf as little less "singular" than the "prophecy" itself. "Straws show which way the wind blows."

A SINGULAR PROPHECY .- We find the following account of a most singular prophecy in a late issue of a Mobile Tribune:

Michael Nostradamus was a physician of Provence, France, known as an astrologer, in the time of Catharine de Medice .--He composed "Seven Centuries of Prophecies," in enigmatical rhymes, some of which are admitted to have been most exactly fulfilled. Among others, his prophecy (one hundred years before its occurrence) of the execution of Charles I, of England; and still more surprising, of the PHOTOGRAPH GALL'RY exact date of the French Republic, in 1792. He died A. D. 1566. (Cyclep. of Biography.)

The following is a translation from the Courier des Etats Unis of the 29th ult.:

"Although many of the predictions made by Nostradamus (cspecially those concerning the death of Henry IV and Louis XVI, of France) have been completely verified, they are generally discredited in our times. But in the Prophetics et Vatacinations of that great man, vol. 2 (edition of 1609,) we find the following, which would seem to deserve attention :

"About that time (1861) a great quarrel and contest will arise up in a country beyond the seas (America). Many poor devils will be hung, and many poor wretches killed by a punishment other than a cord. Upon my faith you may believe me. The war will not cease for four years, at which none should be astonished or surprised, for there will be no want of hatred and obstinacy in it. At the end of that time, prostrate and almost ruined, the people will embrace each other in great joy and love."

LEARNING BY SIGHT .--- A master of an evening school, in a village near Cheltenham, was endeavoring to beat the alphabet into the head of one of his scholars, but he found the task almost hopeless. The master enraged at the boy's stupidity, showing him the letter A, asked him whether he knew that letter.

"Yes, zur," was the reply. "What is it, then ?"

" I doant naw, zur," answered the boy.

"How is that, sirrah; you said you knew it just this minute ?" "Ay, zur, so I does; I noze um very well by sight, but drot me if I can recollect his name.

A SHARP TRICK .- It is stated that 'Old Sharp,' the celebrated maker of articles from Shakspeare 'mulberry tree,' of which as many were sold as would have taken almost a small forest to supply, used, when disposing of a curious article, to place his hand upon a piece of the real tree, which was affixed to his bench, and say, 'I solemnly swear that I hold in my hand a portion of the tree which Shakspere himself planted.' This trick succeeded admirably, and Old Sharp died very rich, but on his death bed he confessed that he had deceived thousands.

ONE OF. ARABELLA'S .- 'How different you soldiers are from us,' said Arabella to the Captain; with us a conquest only begins, while with you it ends the engagement."
