HOME AFFAIRS.

Why John, where are you going to in such a hurry! by, I am going to LAUBACH'S, in Market street, to buy a nice lot of Furniture. sells so much more Furniture and Chairs than all the Cabinet-makers in Lebanon together !

Yes, John, I think I can tell that reason very plainly he has always got by far the largest and best assortments of all kinds of Furniture and Chairs on hand, which he also sells a great deal cheaper than any other Cabinet-maker; besides he has an excellent cushioned Furniture Wagon with which he delivers all Furniture and Chairs sold by him, free of charge; these I think in profusion. But real snow storms have so far to be very good and advantageous reasons.

As the 93d Regiment will leave for the seat of war this week, the public will pleas? bear in mind that the best and oldest CABINET MAKING ESTABLISHMENT, in Lebanon, is that of C. BROTHERLINE's. Any person in want of good made work will please call on him, before buying elsewhere. C. BROTHERLINE. Lebanon, Nov. 20, 1861.-6mo.

LETTER FROM THE COUNTRY,

CORNWALL TOWNSHIP, Jan. 13th 1862. MR. EDITOR :- Good morning sir, my tile is side and you can imagine the graceful bow. I have been taking sights, and if found interesting, please give this to the devil for "copy." It appears to me the local department in our papers might be improved if the country reporters were not so dereliet in furnishing to the printers what transpires in their neighborhood. I am convinced that a great many events constantly occur within the limits of the county that would be read with interest but which the printers have ng means of obtaining except through the medium of persons residing in the different localities. Well, John, can you tell me the reason why LAUBACH Come friends, repent of your errors, and take an interest in enlightening your friends.

The dreadful gales and great snow storms, predicted by our almanac prophets (?) have not yet come to pass. It is true, that occasionally the bright beams from old Sol. find difficulty to get peep through the hazy clouds, and the downy flakes taking advantage of opportunities, fall proved a frizzle, and if no better illustrations will be furnished, our expectations of sleighride, and sleighing parties are slightly blasted.

The spelling school excitement in this district The spelling school excitement in this district is still running high and has been the means of sum up the occurrences of the last fortnight in making excellent spellers of some pupils. At these gatherings, I frequently see pupils, who come a distance of five or six miles-they can easily be known by the badges they wear.

The days are intensely short at each end, and t keeps on busy to keep up to time. True, the lights are longer, and one can make the rounds of all the loans, places that went the oreal fast alarm breaks the morning nap just as the red tints of the rising run appear in the castern horizon, and yet we are surprised to find before the morning meals conclude that the clock has told the hour of eight. I move for a change. The pride of the teachers' professions—the Lebanon County Teacher's Institute—will con-vene in the Court House, this week. A vast mount of instructive matter will be brought before the meeting, in the shape of Lectures, Class-Drills and Discussions. Past experience clearly demonstrates their usefulness of Institutes, and the hearty co operation of teachers, directors and other friends of education heretofore in sustaining them, is sufficient evidence that this means of improvement has been fully appreciated. I con-tend that the profession of teaching is second to not only the teachers in the county will be in at-tendance, but the directors, parents and others, associations. They deserve it. Our farmers are busily engaged at thrashing their grain, and it affords me pleasure to state that the yield on an average, proves unusually large.

Should anything of impertance transpire in our district. I will apprize you of it in due time. Yours truly, JOHN.

A DAY IN CAMP MARY. rode into Washington on Quartermaster Edwards' horse. The morning was cool and bracing and I enjoyed the ride. Alighting at the St. Charles, I took an omnibus for the Navy Yard, which is at least two miles distant. From this place I proceeded afoot towards the bridge over the Eastern branch of the Potomao, which it is necessary to cross in order to get to Camp Mary. I met A committee of three, consisting of Geo. Hoff- some of the men from the Camp who were reman, Samuel Erb, and Jacob Shaeffer, was ap- joiced to see me. the prospect afforded by being in the Camp. Camp Mary is situated on a high hill which mmands a view of the country for miles, on all sides, exceptin front, where there is a wood. The prospect is fine, and it is enhanced by the undulations of the surface, in which Nature has been profuse. Here a rolling field, there a wood; below you a deep bottom, beyond you, at scarce a stone's throw, a hill. The lover of nature might spend hours taking in the different prospects prosented at a single view. Such is a superficial each so that we can now sit in our tents, and each so that we can now sit in our tents, and the weat of the appearance of the country, and the weat of the appearance of the country, and two indictments. At noon the men returned from work and I life. The next thing in order was the statutes, bad an opportunity of seeing and conversing which aroused my admiration very much.

I dined with Captain Murray. Being captain of the day his duty took him over to the fort shortly after dinner and he invited me to call over during the afternoon and see the works. I was anxious to see the fort, and went over in company with Lieut. Dissinger during the afternoon. It'is about a half of a mile from the camp and was soon reached. Here; all was animation .-The number employed in such a small space, the novelty of the employment, besides, the fact that they work at the fort but one day in four, served to render it exciting, rather than tiresome. It was like a heliday to the men, being a change from their every day routine. Captain Murray. Lieut. Case, Lieut. Dissinger and myself visited a neighboring camp occupied, if I mistake not, by the 58th P. V. Rere the men had taken some pains to ornament the camp for Christmas. An arch formed from branches of cedar, tasofully decorated with wreaths of the same material, was extended across the main entrance. In other parts of the camp care had been taken to produce parts of the camp care nad been taken to produce a similar effect; and I was reminded of a pleas-ant heme scene—the Fourth of July colobrations in the woods. We proceeded to the marque of Capitain Ludington, where I met a number of the officers of the regiment, whom I found to be soldierly, whole-souled men; just the kind of persons I would choose to fall in with when a way from home. An hour was spent very socia-bly with them, when they were called to dress-parade. I was delighted with the display. It was the only dress parade I had the pleasure of witnessing while absent, and I was probably the better

A high wind had arisen and its rattling over the canvas cept me awake during the greater part of thenight, but my bedfellow, Capt. Murray slept soundly, the wind serving him as a lullaby. I arose early, and after broakfast visited the Hospital. There were but eight persons on the sick list, a small number certainly for the season. I could not help feeling deeply for the men lying there; away from home and friends, without a founde hand to smooth the pillow or to give the kind attentions so much needed by the sick. How much must a person feel the need of a mother, or a sister at such a time? Leaving the heavity I went the such a time? Leaving the hospital I went thro' the camp taking leave of my acquaintances pre-paratory to quitting the camp. The Sutler wag on being about to leave for the city, I embraced the opportunity offered of getting to Washington without walking. OUR ARMY CORRESPONDENCE. From the 93d Regiment.

CAMP MARY, FORT GOOD HOPE. ? January 10, 1862. }
FRIEND BRESHIN:—A concurrence of circum stances within the past week prevented me from writing for your last edition, but, as interesting one letter, and herewith submit it to your favor. Death has again east its dark shadows upon our Regiment, and removed from our midst another brother and fellow soldier. He was attached to Company "II," Capt. Rainsey, and is highly spoken of by the obituary resolutions that have been passed over his demise. He died in the hospital, and his remains were placed in the tent which he had formerly occupied, where a sentinel paced up and down in formal protection of this cold and lifeless body. On Sunday our wortby Chaplain had the soldiers convened at this place, and after the respective Companies had been flanked up, he preached one of those pathetic, yet practical sermons that never failt to find its way home to the heart, and leaves its impress there. He spoke so feelingly of how the to find its way home to the heart, and leaves its impress there. He spoke so feelingly of how the delightful truths of the Bible dawn upon the Christain's mind,—how its hopes and promises elevate the soul above the low concerns of earth, and bid him look forward to that blessed time when, released from the thraidom of this world, he may enter into the full snjoyment of Heaven's blessings. "In my flesh shall I see the Lord." How glorious this truth to the believer that, when his troubles and trials are all past he may reap the full fruition of all his latious in the land

the full fruition of all his latters in the land
"Where the wicked cease from troubling,
And the wenty are at rest."

He then spoke of the vast scope of salvation.—
its great inducements and the many privileges it gives to sinners. "Whosoever will, let him come, and purtake of life freely." What more could the Saying of makind gives to state the saying of makind gives to such as the saying of makind gives the saying the sayin the Savior of mankind give us,—not narrowing down the benefits of salvation to any particular ones, but including in its large bounds the whole race of mankind. Possessing this religion,—though called from home by the vicissitates of war in the battle field, or the soldier's hospital, it was still sweet to die with the consolation that the gospel affords. How it reconciles soldiers to all the hardships they may have to endure,—making its "sweet peace" a "sovereign balm for all our woes." After the great fight of life is o'er and Gabriel's trump sounds upon the dull ear of Death, then may these noble soldiers of the Cross come forth to reap the reward of all their labor in joy eternal. He closed by wishing that we may all be prepared when this "dread summons" comes. Who could not be profited by such a discourse? As word after word from the lips of this good old man, we thought how ap-propriate to the occasion, and how beneficial to A DAY IN CAMP MARY.

"Though among them, I was not of them."

pleasure on Christmas day. We received pulse-warmers for Christmas gilts from our lady friends at Lebanon; they were very thankfully received, known, and particularly, as they answered a double purpose-for we realize them, not only very com-fortable in keeping our hard wrists warm, but a consideration by whom they were sent, warms also our hearts, that we are not forgotten by those whom we left behind. We have also received from the Government, each a pair of new panta-Last Tuesday I went to Washington, and visited the Smithsonian Institute, which is the greatest place that I have ever seen; so that being a soldirection of Maryland without being effectually intercepted. From Camp Mary an enemy could be seen approaching for miles, and so from all the camps in the vicinity.

At noon the men returned from work and I had an opportunity of seeing and conversing with them. As a general serious within the building are indescribably are indescribably and birds of shells, snakes, and birds of every description, and nests with the eggs in them of every kind of birds that a person can think of. PROF. WOOD'S RESTORATIVE CORDIAL

Is precisely what its name indicates, for, while plensant to the tasto, it is revivifying, exhilarating, and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivifies, rethaulted and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renews the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combinined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly, adapted to as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe the weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its offects, and yet it is never followed by lassitude or depression of spiritle—It is composed entirely of vegetables and those thoroughly combining powerful tonie and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy-has-long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science, and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable.—Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, Bronethics, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Fraintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Metancholy, Hypochondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Giddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully final if unattoned to in time, called Hemale Willey and Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the unit of the dealers at able spoonful at l BLOOD RENOVATOR lore it be too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicitey, go down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal; for we are sure your never failing affection will unerringly point you to Professor Wood's Resterative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should be always on hand in time of need. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

The proprietors and manufacturers of HOS-TETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BIT-TERS can appeal with perfect confidence to physicians and citizens generally of the United States, because the article has attained a reputation heretofore inknown. A few facts upon this point will speak more, powerfully than volumes of bare assertion of leaving pintery. The consumption of Hosteller's Stomach Biters for the last year amounted to over a half-million boitles, and from its manifest steady increase in times past, it is evident that during the coming year the consumption will reach near one million bottles. This immense amount could never have been sold but for the rain medicinal properties contained in the prepara-tion, and the sanction of the most prominent physicians in those sections of the country where the article is best known, who not only recommend the Bitters to their patients, but are ready at all times to give feetimobials to its efficacy in all cases of stomachic derangements and the diseases resulting therefrom. This is not a temporary popularity, obtained by extraordinary efforts in the way of trum-peting the qualities of the Bitters, but a solid estimation of an invaluable medicine, which is destined to be as enduring as time itself.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have proved a Godsend to regions where fever and ague and various other billious complaints have counted their victims by hundreds: To be able to state confidently that the "Bitters" are a certain cure for the Dyspepsia and like discases, is to the proprietors a source of unalloyed pleasure. It removes all morbid patter from the stomach, purifies the blood, and imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving it that tone and energy indispensable for the restoration of health. It operates upon the stomach, liver, and other digestive organs, mildly but powerfully, and soon restores them to a condition essential to the healthy discharge I the functions of nature.

Elderly persons may use the Bitters daily as per directions on the bottle, and they will find n it a stimulant peculiarly adapted to comfort declining years, as it is pleasant to the palate, invigorating to the bowels, excellent as a tonic. and rejuvenating generally. We have the evidence of thousands of aged men and women who have experienced the benefit of using this proparation while suffering from stomach de-rangements and general debility; acting under the advice of physicians, they have abandoned all deleterious drugs and fairly tested the merits of this article. A few words to the gentler sex. There are certain periods when their cares are so harassing that many of them sink under the trial. The relation of mother and child is so absorbingly tender, that the mother, especially if she be young, is apt to forget her own health in her extreme anxiety for her infant. Should the period of maternity arrive during the summer season, the wear of body and mind is generally aggravated. Here, then is a necessity for a stimulant to recupe rate the energies of the system, and enable the mother to bear up under her exhausting trials and responsibilities. Nursing mothers gene-rally prefer the Bitters to all other invigorators that receive the endorsement of physi cians, because it is agreeable to the taste as well as certain to give a permanent increase of bodily strength.

All those persons, to whom we have particularly referred above, to wit: sufferers from fever and ague, caused by malaria, diarrhosa. dysentery, indigestion, loss of appetite, and all diseases or derangements of the stomach, superannuated invalids, persons of sedentary occupation, and nursing methers, will consult their own physical welfare by giving to Hos-tetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters a trial. CAUTION .- We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for Hostetten's Celegration STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the
