Once in a contain metropolis, a seat of wealth and fame. There lived an houset patriot, and Cummings was his name, He was a trusty servant and Cameron knew the feet, For he gave him a Commission and told him how to act. You'll purchase me supplies, said he, and see it quickly done; Just keep one eye on government and two on number one.
Two millions dollars, my dear friend, I'll p ace at your command.
And Morgan suon will ald you with a free and open hand.

I shall never ask for vonchers, or go behind your claim; "Remember Susquehanna and the Winnebago game;" And Cummings did as he was bid for fifteen weary straw hats and linen pants, he bought, and pork, and

And Ale and Porter too, you see, were items on the bill. For Aleck said, "those soldiers brave," for once shall have their fill; ito never charged the government for any time he spent, And cautiously refused to know which way the money

Those things, 'tis said, were never meant the public eye should scan, For Cummings stood before the world a tried and trusty man; But then Van Wyck, a pompous man, got up a med-

THE MULE DRIVER AND GEN. NEL-SON.

Our boys are furious for practical jokes, and are constantly on the look-out for subjects. One was recently procured in the person of a new teamster, who had the charge of six large, shaggy mules.-John was also proprietor of two bottles of old Bourbon-a contraband in campwhich a wag discovered, and resolved to possess. Being aware that the drivers presence was an impediment to the theft, he hit upon the following plan to get rid

And approaching the driver, who was busy currying his mules, he accosted him with: 'I say, old fellow, what are you doing there?

'Can't you see ?' replied Jehu, gruffly. 'Certainly,' responded the wag, "but that is not your business. It is after tatoo, there is a fellow hired here by the General, who curries all the mules and horses brought in after tatoo.'

The mule-driver bit at once, and wanted to know where the 'hair-dresser' kept himself. Whereupon he was directed to Gen. Nelson's tent, with the assurance that there was where the fellow hung out.

'You can't mistake the man,' said the wag: he is a large fellow, and puts on a thundering sight of airs for a man in his business. He will probably refuse to do it, and tell you to go to the devil, but don't mind that; he has been drinking to-day. Make him come out, sure.'

John posted off, and entering the tent where our Napoleon of the Fourth Division sat in deep reverie, probably considering the most expeditious method of expelling the rebel Buckner from his native State, slapped him on the back with force sufficient to annihilate a man of ordinary size. Springing to his feet, the General accosted his uninvited guest with, 'Well, sir, who are you, and what the devil do vou want!'

you want!"

'Old hoss, I've got a job for you now—aix mules to be curried, and right off, too,' said the captain of mules, nothing daunted at the flashing eye of the General.

'Do you know whom you are address.

J. GEORGE.

Do you know whom you are addressing, sir?' asked the indignant commander. a pitch which rendered the words audible a square off, 'you are the fellow hired by Uncle Sam to clean mules, and I won't have any foolishness. Clean them mules and I'll give you a drink of busthead.'

General, now perfectly furious, I am Gen. Nelson. commander of this division!' John placed the thumb of his right hand against his nose, and extending his fingers, waved them slowly, in a manner supposed by some to be indicative of great wisdom.

The General's sword leaped from its scabbard, and John from the tent just in time to save his head.

Our boys drank the 'big mule driver's health' in the Bourbon. The story soon got out, and is now the joke of the season.

A devotedly pious man who lived six miles from the house of worship, once complained to his pastor of the distance he had to go to attend public worship, while many others had but a few steps to walk to enjoy divine ordinances. "Never mind," said the good minister, "remember that every Sabbath you have the privilege of preaching a sermon six miles long—you preach the gospel to all the residents and people you pass.

Daniel S. Dickinson was not far out of the way, when he told a client, who tremblingly asked him, in a case of importance, how he thought the jury would "bring in." "My friend," said the illustrious Dan, "don't ask me; if there is any one thing uncertain to God himself it is what the verdict of a petit jury will be!" A WOMAN ELECTED MAYOR.—At a late election in Oskaloosa, Iowa, there was but one candidate presented to be voted for. The "boys" did not like him and were bound to have another candidate. and so, more in the spirit of fun than oth. erwise, they nominated Mrs Nancy Smith on the day of election, and to the astonishment of everybody, when the votes were counted in the evening it was found that Mrs. Nancy Smith had twenty-one majority over the regular candidate for 05 A distinguished divine, on a certain occasion, while preaching with his usual eloquence and power, said: "Brethren, I sometimes illustrate my subject in this manner;" and putting his handkerchief to his nose, blew a blast foud enough to wake the seven sleepers. That was not the intended illustration, but some of his hearers thought it was.

Till'S valuable preparation, freed of all the common components, such as Opiates, or Expectorants, which not only run down the system, but destroy all chance of cure, will be found on trial to possess the following properties, and to which the most valuable testimonials may be found in the pamphlets. For whooping Cough, and as a Soothing Syrup, it meets every want, and by early use will save the largest proportion of ruptures in children which can be traced to Whooping Cough.

In ordinary Coughs and Brenchial Complaints, the forerunners of Consumption, its splendid tonic properties make it not only the most perfect enemy to disease, but builds up and sustains the system against recurrence of the Complaint. No nursery should be without it, nor should parents fail to get a pamphlet, to be found with all dealers, as the only way to do justice to its value.

THIS great Neuralgic Remedy and Natural Opiato calls for special attention and interest, being frue of Opium, or preparations of Opium, or of any but its strictly vegetable and medical properties. For Neuralgia, Kheunaatism, Gout, Tooth and Ear Ache, Spinal Complaints, Bleeding at Lungsor Stomsch. Rose or Hay Fever, Catarrh, and all minor Nervous Complaints. —
For Loss of Sleep, Chronic or Nervous Head Ache, Sick Head Ache, it has no equal, and to which we offer estimonials from undoubted sources.
For Delirium Tremens it is a Sure Remedy.
For Bowel Complaints, including Cholera Morbus, it is splendidly adapted, in not only removing the pains but acting as physic, a great contrats with Opium, which not only constipates and drugs the system, but makes the remedy worse than the disease.
From physicians we ask attention, and on demand Formulas or Trial Bottles will be sent, developing in the Anodyne an Opiate which has long been wanted, and in the Cough Remedy such as rest entirely on one central principle.

Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed.
