A DANGEROUS BALL OF TARN. A number of years since the count try was covered with counterfeit bills on various hanks, and attempts to de-tect the parties who manufactured or tect the parties who manufactured or there d them were abortive by the dunning of the operators. Detectives had puzzled their brains to no pur pose. They could obtain no clue to their chiefs that they were "dead beat." About this time the deputy ohief of the Boston police received information which caused him to ar-rest a fashionably dressed lady at the Boston and Maine depot. He per-formed the disagroeable act in a quiet, gentlemanly manner, but still he did not escape words of scorn and abuse, and numerous threats of prosecution of the orige and the disagroeable act in a quiet, and numerous threats of prosecution to the scape words of scorn and abuse, and numerous threats of prosecution to the many threats of prosecution to the many threats of the orige the the disagroeable act in a quiet, and numerous threats of prosecution to the scape words of scorn and abuse, and numerous threats of prosecution to the property holders of the State of Penn-test a function to the LEBANON MUTULAL INSULATOR COM-the company are ample to information which caused him to ar-rest a fashionably dressed lady at the formed the disagroeable act in a quiet, and numerous threats of prosecution to the scape words of scorn and abuse, and numerous threats of prosecution to the protect principles. do Log or Frame Barns, stone or brick do Log or Frame Store Houses, brick or stone do Log or frame. 'You shall smart for this,' she said. Reveal to me the whole plot, and Farmers and others Take Notice. I'll stand your friend,' the deputy said.

The lady smiled scornfully, but just at that moment the huge ball of yarn dropped from her lap and fell at the feet of the deputy. He picked it up and was about to return it to the owner, but noting the eager manuer in which she stretched out her hand to receive it, he paused and retained possession of the yarn.

'Give me the yarn,' she cried. 'One moment,' and deputy com-monced to slowly unwind it. The lady turned deadly pale, but didn't speak one word, but sat there and watched the ball grow smaller and smaller, until at last the yarn was all unwound and the deputy held in his hand a mass of stiff, crispy paper, which he proceeded to smooth out, and as his eyes sought the woman's face he smiled, but she did not return

10 A clergyman, while composing a sermon, made use of the words "ostentatious man." Throwing down his pen, he his congregation might comprehend the meaning of these words, and he adopted the following method of proof Bins:-the bell, his footman, appeared, and he was thus addressed by his master :

"What do you conceive to be implied by an ostentatious man ?"

"An ostentatious man, sir," said Thomas. "Why, sir, I should say a perfect gentleman.'

"Very good," observed the vicar, "send Ellis (the coachman) here." "Ellis," said the vicar, "what do you imagine an ostentatious man to be ?" "An estentatious man, sir," replied Ef-lis, "why, I should say an ostentatious man means what we calls (saving your presence) a very jolly fellow."

It is hardly necessary to add that the vicar substituted a less ambiguous word.

Cr An Elector of Cologne (who was likewise an archbishop) one day swearing profanely, asked a peasant, who seemed to wonder, what he was surprised at .--"To hear an archbishop swear," answered the peasant. "I swear not as an archbishop, but as a prince," replied the elector. "But my lord," said the peasant, "when the devil gets the prince, who will get the archbishop 1"

05 A German journal relates the following anecdote, on the authority of a traveller recently returned from Africa :---A wealthy Arab, residing near the frontiers of Morocco, lately paid his visit to Algiers and was present at a ball. On his return home he said to his wives, "What strange creatures those French women are! Would you believe it ? they absolutely carry an open umbrella under their petticoats !"
