consists of the following vessels:-Pennsylvania, 120 gun ship Columbus, Raritan, Columbia, United States Congress, Plymouth, Germantown Cumberland, Dolphin, Merrimae, 2 new Rebel Steamers-Water Boat, Powder

The two new rebel steamers it will be recollected were all ready for sea, and were scuttled and sunk at the Navy Churches and meeting houses Printers books and Stationeries Yard, in great haste; they now lay in about thirty feet of water, and it is thought Shoemaker and saddler shops can easily be raised. The Cumberland Silversmith and Watchmaker Tim and sheet from shops Groceries and Provision stores the intention of the contractor to raise her by means of four whale ships of four hundred tons each, which will be partially and be provided by being north of the state of th submerged by being partly filled with wasubmerged by being partly filled with water, and then after attaching to the sunken ship will by means of the rise of tide, and use of steam pumps, bring her up.

It will be recollected the Merrimac was plated with eight hundred tons of iron, all of which, it is expected, will be recovered. The Congress and Cumberland each had iron safes on board, containing respectively $35,000 and $18,000 in specie, which will, without doubt, be recovered be means of diving apparatus.

The undertaking involves an outlay by the contractor of some sixty thousand dollars before commencing the work; he will employ something like two hundred men. ter, and then after attaching to the sunk-employ something like two hundred men, among whom will be twenty divers, who will descend to the sunken ships in the Wells & Gowen submarine armor. Such of the vessels as are not raised will be blasted with gunpowder, and all the material that is of value recovered.

The contractor is the same party who raised the steamer Erie from Lake Erie in 1854, and has been engaged in other submarine operations. We understand he is to commence operations at once, and is to receive forty-five per cent, salvage from the Government on the value of all property recovered.

OF At the Golden Bear Inn, Reading, a young fox had a few years since been taught to go into the wheel, and turn the jack. After he had thus officiated for some time, he escaped, and regained his native woods. Here he met the fate common to his species: he was pursued by the hounds, and in his flight ran through the town of Reading, reached the inn, and springing over the half door of the kitchen, jumped into the wheel, and resumed his occupation, in the very place where he had been brought up, by which means he saved his life.

Henry Ward Beecher is showing signs of improvement. Last Sunday he appeal in his sermon for the suffering white men, especially car-drivers and conductors on the city railroads, who are hard worked every day in the week, including the Sabbath, and poorly paid at that. He has just discovered that the negro down South does not work fourteen hours a day like the white slaves of New England. The Albany Argus suggests now dropped the negro and made an earnest. The Albany Argus suggests now Beacher is getting sane, let us pray r. Tyng and Horace Greeley.—Bosthat Beacher la getting sane, let us pray for Dr. Tyng and Horace Greeley. - Bos-

As far as it is laid bare, it consists of large stones, and the solid mason-Ty is just the same as that of the western wall of the temple. It is about four yards distant from the present wall. On the same plot of ground was also discovered a very large and equally ancient cistern, thirty-six yards long by nine and a half wide and fourteen deep.

A Keen Repry.-John Wesley, in a considerable party, had been maintaining, with great earnestness, the doctrine of Vox populi vox Dei against his sister, whose talents were not unworthy the family to which she belonged. At last the preacher, to put an end to the controversy, put his argument in the shape of a dictum, and said:
I tell you, asser, the voice of the people is the voice of God." *Yes, she replied, mildly, 'it cried 'Crucify him, crucify him!"

A more admirable answer was, perhaps, never given.

1 is understood (says Vanity Fair) that General Beauregard, struck by the brilliancy of General Hunter's example, is about to issue a proclamation, setting free and emancipating "forever" from further servitude, all the horses, oxen, mules, and other domestic animals in Massachusetts, Connecticut and Vermont. His plea, it is said. will be that the spread of Aboli-

BASCALITY.—By a handbill from the office of the West Branch Democrat, we dearn that some rascals broke into that establishment on the evening of the 3d of July, tore up the forms, and scattered and destroyed a portion of the type. As the paper took no particularly decided stand against any person but niggers and Abolitionists, it is easy to conjecture who did the deed. Mr. Houston offers a reward of $300 for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the rascals.

W., says: "One little "garden patch" of ours was very profitable last season .-The smalls ate up the cucumbers, the chickens ate up the enails; the neighbors' cats ate up the chickens; and now, if we can get something that will eat up the cata we'll try again.
