HOME AFFAIRS.

Why John, where are you going to in such a hurry?

Why, I am going to LAUBACH'S, in Market street, to buy a nice lot of Furniture.
Well, John, can you tell me the reason why LAUBACH sells so much more Furniture and Chairs than all the Cabinet-makers in Lebanon together? Yes, John, I think I can rell that reason very plainly he has always got by far the largest and best assortments of all kinds of Furniture and Chairs on hand, which he also sells a great deal cheaper than any other Cabinet-maker; besides he has an excellent cushioned Furniture Wagon with which he delivers all Furniture to be very good and advantageous reasons. **

We noticed last week the destruction by fire of the Steam Tannery of Messrs. Loos, at Myerstown. The stock house, containing some 200 cords of oak bark, the bark mill. engine and engine house, were burned to the ground. Through great exertions, the vat and dressing house were saved. The estimated loss is $5000. Insured in Lycoming Company for $3,000, West Branch, $1,500. The origin of the fire is unknown. There was no fire of any kind in the tannery when the hands left it. The engine was stopped and the fire put out at about 2 o'clock on Saturday, in order to clean the boilers on Monday morning. The fire was discovered in the bark mill.

The following letter should have been received in time for last week's paper, but was delayed in the mails? LETTER FROM LIEUT. ROGERS.

Headquarters, Co. C., 93d Rcg.,) Washington, Jan. 17, '62.

TRIEND BRESLIN :- Affairs in camp still present their wonted appearance, save that a clotty mud has fastened itself upon our streets and parade ground, making the operation of walkng rather a disagrecable one, and giving soldiers life but very few pleasures at the present time.

In order therefore, to be released from the unpleasantness of such a sight, and hoping to derive benefit from a visit to Alexandria,—a place replete with interesting occurrences in the three months' service,—I started forth on Tuesday morning last, in company with my brothers, on the hen unpleasant journey. For such it certainly was, as the snow flakes were dancing through the air, with a rough wind blowing that almost chilled us through. The exercise of current course more freely, warming and Penn. Avenue to the wharf, where bered with the things that were, while many other once fine buildings are going in the same downward course. Business, however, is much brisker than it was during the summer, and the innovations of Yankee enterprise are everywhere making their appear.

ance. Col. McLean's 88th Penn. Reg't are quartered in those buildings that have been described by the Secessionists, and with their comfortable homes and good warm stoves certainly possess advantages in soldiering rarely enjoyed by any of the "boys." We there met some of the three months' men that belonged to the "5th," and they welcomed us with a hospitality that made us feel at home and comfortable. The slave pen is used for the accommodation of those soldiers that get more than the "can carry," and we were much amused to see the motley group that then adorned this establishment. Wherever you turn, the effects of the war are visible in deserted houses, broken up business stands, and all those natural results of the great Destroyer. We returned home on the following day ready and anxious to assume the wonted routine of duty at Camp Mary. Marching orders are about to change our location, and on Monday morning next we intend moving for Tenallytown, to join Gen. Peck's Brigade.-I will advise you of our doings when this is accomplished, and in the meantime let all our friends direct their letters to the 93d Regiment, P. V. Washington, D. MILITARY UNIFORMS. - There is, per-MILITARY UNIFORMS.—There is, perhaps, no department of military business in which there has been a more marked improvement than in the clothing of the soldiers. Not many years since officers and privates were clad in gardnents which were almost skin-tight. They wore leather stocks, which were worthy of the name, for they kept the wearer in tribulation; while their pudded breasts and tight sleeves made volition a matter of great difficulty. During the present war, such of our volunteers as, procure their uniforms at the Brown Sione Clothing Hall of Rocklill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth, Philadelphia, obtain clothing that is perfectly easy, substantial and becoming. The firm named have gone largely into the business of making Military Clothing, and their facilities enable them to fill the largest orders in the shortest possible time.

BO HUNNEWELL'S COUGH REMEDY RUNNEWELL'S COUGH REMEDY excels in one of the most important characteristics namely, that of containing no materials of opium or antimony, which are so debilitating to weak constitutions. When by sits perfect simplicity it is done with the Cough or Lung Complaint its splendid Toxle qualities exhibit themselves in giving strength to weak systems, weakened by tisease, a peculiarity very important, but often lost sightfol.
