Charging A Square.-In speaking with a friend the other day concerning the Mexican campaign of '76, the conversation turned upon Col. Dakin, of Louisiana, when he related a little anecdote which is so characteristic of the man that we cannot refrain from repeating it

The Colonel commanded one of the six regiments of volunteers, which were rais. ed in Louisiana after the battles of Palo Al-to and Resaca de la Palma, and which join-ed General Taylor's army speedily. The Colonel was an old diciplinarian, very strict and capable, and in a short time his regiment excited the admiration of even veteran officers, by the ease and precision with which it drilled and man cuvred. One morning, the regiment was drawn up, and the men were standing at case, after a variety of marshes, and charges, and evolutions when the Colonal took it regiments of volunteers, which were rais. after a variety of marshes, and charges, and evolutions, when the Colonel took it into his head to put their dicipline to a stronger test. The regiment was thrown into a square to receive cavalry. The commander rode off a few hundred yards, North Lebanon September 19, 1860. and then came down sword in hand, at a fierce gallop, straight at his men. He CABINET WAREROOMS and his steed formed an imposing looking object, for he was a big man, and his NORTH LEBANON BOROUGH. object, for he was a big man, and his steed a big horse, and neither appeared to fear the glittering and bristling bayo-nets against which they were rushing.— The men stood the charge very well un-til the horse and rider were within a few feet; then they broke right and left in confusion, and opened a broad passage for the 'cavalry' into their ranks. Of course the Colonel was wroth, and the way the men and officers caught if for a few moments, was not very agree-able to their feelings. 'You rebel cavalry! Why, what would now how dona if a thousend data

'You rebel cavalry! Why, what would you have done if a thousand dragoons had charged on you as I did ?' 'Well just try us again, Colonel, and see if we don't hurt your feelings,' cried a number of discomfited volunteers. The square was again formed. Off The square was again formed. Off rode the Colonel, round he wheeled, and here he came again, at full speed, rushing straight at the bayonets and looking as if he would crush the line to powder under his charger's heels. The bayonets wa-vered not, though the horse came faster and faster, and finally, with a terrible bound, sprang at the square. The square stood the shock, and the next moment the horse was stretched on the ground, the horse was stretched on the ground, with a broken bayonet in his side, and his limbs quivering in the death-agony, while the stout rider lay with his foot and knee caught, and himself unable to rise. Not a man moved ; the square was silent, steady, and unbroken. In another instant the Colonel-was on his feet. He replaced his sword in the scabbard, looked gravely and coolly at the dead horse, then at the firm array of soldiers, ond then said, in his quaint way; Very well done, boys; both and the R. Dewalt. square did their duty. Now you are ready for the lancers."

The men cheered not a little.

Never let the Bowels be either confined or unduly acted upon. It may seem strange that Hollo-way's Pills should be recommended for Dysentery and Flux, many persons supposing that they would increase the relaration. This is a great mistake, for these Pills will correct the liver and atomich, and thus remove all the acrid humors from the system. This medicine will give fone and vigor to the whole organic system lower-er deranged, while health and strength fellow as a mat-ter of course.
