THE CORNER.

07 John Burley," writing to the Richmond Enquirer, April 2, from Mc-Minnville, plays Jenkins to John Morgan and his little wife, after the following style:

Colonel John Morgan and Mrs. Col. . John Morgan.

"Know, then, that John Morgan is not my model for any Adouis, nor his wife altogether a Venus di Medici. In strict observance and good breeding they are both fair types of the better cless of men and women in the twin States from which they relatively spring. The one tall, florld, and full-an athletic, vigorous person, used to exposure, hard riding, and fatigue; clear blonde of hair and beard, aud eyes of grayish blue; the other, a comely girl, spirituelle of form, liasomely graceful as are most young women of sound health and education. Miss Reedy was the daughter of Charles Reedy, of Reedyville. A lawyer of eminence, a man of talent, and, for several years a representative in Congress, his family have had all the advantages of wealth, distinguished position, and careful education. I saw the present Mrs. John Morgan (Miss Mattie Reedy who was) in the days when she was the most youthful star in quite a hemisphere of beauty I believe her to be handsomer. now that the teens have ripened into full blown twenty; certainly more appropos to the sterling manhood of Morgan. She loves him very ardently, and I doubt not the affair was entirely one of the affections. They take long strolls every after. noon, and the evidences of attachment, while manifested, are- delicate and dignified upon both sides. In other words, I am pleased to inform my .young married friends-if such there be-that this notable coup'e behave themselves in very proper style. Let us ask a blessing upon them, for she is a good girl, and he has fought well for his country."

Served Him Right .- The Cleveland Plain Dealer is responsible for the fol lowing:

A curious scene occurred on the cars of the Little Miama railroad the other day. Some gentlemen on the train, it seems, had a device cut out of one of the old fashioned cents, representing very neatly the "Goddess of Liberty." A very pompous burley fellow, with a flashy vest, and an inordinate display of jewelry, took great offence at the device, when the following confab ensued :

Pompous Chap-"What in hell are you wearing that copperhead emblem for ?"

Gentlemen-Will you answer me a question first ?' Pompous Chap-'Yes.'

Gentleman-'Arn't you an army contractor ? 'Well, suppose I am ?' 'Arn't you an Abolitionist ?'

'Yes, dyed in the wool.'

'Haven't you always sung 'let the South slide !", D-n em, they ought to have been in

'hell long ago.' 'Don't you sneer all the time at the constitution of the United States !' Constitution be d-d; this is no time to talk of Constitutions.'

'Well,' continued the gentleman, 'do you ever wear any of these emblems,' pointing to the device. 'No, by G-d !' said the flashy contract.

Then, sir, said the gentleman, 'it is to distinguish myself from such arrant hypo-

A handsome young lady in our town was sot up with one night by a noble young specimen of the true American, with sci-sors in his pocket-1 mean a dry goods clerk; and the young gal's mother, herin' somethin pop, arose from her couch under the impression that her oldest boy, who was given to friskiness, was holding a wild revel on the root beer in the west room. But on opening the door, she diskivered it was hugging and kissing which had awakened her from her peaceful repose.

'My daughter, Oh my daughter ! this parent did cry. 'Oh ! that I should have lived to see this doing in my own house.'

'I know my dear mother,' the sweet villiage maiden did unto her mamma reply, that it is quite unproper, but it is or [u] soothin.'

15 Vallandigham's pugnacity developed early, according to the following from the Fond du Lac Press, which corrects the statement that he was born South : Vallandigham was born in New Lisbon, Ohio. We have known him personally ever since he attempted to administer to us a flogging for gathering strawberries in his father's meadow some 36 years ago. We were the challenged party, and therefore had a right to choose the manner of combat. He being superior in strength and age, we choose legs as the weapons and came out ahead."

OCT.A correspondent of the Springfield Republican writes:

"They say that Howell Cobb, who is a rigid, blue Presbyterian of the strictest sort, met our men in one of the exchanges of prisoners lately, under a flag of truce. Some of our officers took the opportunity, as is usual to have a little friendly conversation with Mr. Cobb, and in the course of his remarks he is said to have made this statement :

"Only two things stand in the way of an amicable settlement of this whole difficulty;" and then, as they listened eagerly for terms of accommodation-"Only two things-the landing of the Pilgrims, and original sin."
