And The Friends of Soldiers!

And The Friends of Soldiers!

We call the attention of all having relations and friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the strival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticate cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters!"

PINIADELPHIA, August 23rd, 1862.

Messys. Jones & Beans.—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose name are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R. B. Ayres—Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties. I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy-two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the Steamer "State of Maine." from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been shout as low as any one could be and still retain a spark of viality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a

Making Love to his Own Daughter.

Among all the jokes that have been got up at masquerade balls in the gay circles of Paris, we know of none better than the one played off on a distinguished academician, who was mistified during the whole evening by his daughter, whom he le't sick in bed at home, and was far from supposing to be so near him. It may be thought strange that a father should not recognize his child, but, though passing strange, it is true. Besides, the young lady appeared that night in a character entirely new to her, that of a coquette; no wonder that the parent did not recognize his modest, quiet daughter in the lively flirt who tormented him incessantly. The poor man could not for the life of him imagine who the lady could be; so young, apparently, yet so well acquainted with all the incidents of his early life, who had all his writings by heart, who adored his favorite authors, and flattered him so skilfully, widower, well looked upon by the 'Ah!' said I, how was that?'
