THE CORNER.

An Actor's Stratagem.-An eminent tragedian, now deceased, was once locked up in a room at the rear of theatre, to keep him in a proper condition till he was called to go on the stage. One door of the apartment opened on the street, and, while looking through the key-hole, he saw a man passing, and, calling him up to the door, he pushed a crown through a crack, and instructed him to go to the public house, at the opposite corner, and procure a pint of gin and a clay pipe, promising to reward him for his trouble. The man did as he was directed, and, when he returned with the articles, the actor told him to put the stem of the pipe. through the key hole, and pour the gin carefully into the bowl. These instructions the accommodating individual also followed, and the result was that, when the manager called to notify the prisoner that it was time to dress for his part, he found him in a happy frame of mind, but not at all in a condition calculated to add to him fame as an actor.-English Paper.

A Witty Manœuvre.-The Duke of Grammont was the most adroit and witty courtier of his day. He entered one day the closet of the Cardinal Mazarin without being announced. His eminence was amusing himself by jumping against the wall. To surprise a prime minister. in so boy ish an occupation was dangerous. A less skillful courtier might have stammered excuses and retired. But the duke entered briskly, and cried, 'I'll bet you one hundred crowns that I can jump higher than your eminence !" . And the duke and cardinal began to jump for their lives. Grammont took care to jump a few inches lower than the cardinal, and six months afterwards was marshal of France.

. On the evening of the riot here, one of our friends' was standing on the outskirts of the crowd of spectators, and heard the conversation of two Republicans. 'Now I see.' said one. 'what Sevmour sent the New York troops to Pennsylvania for; so that there should be no force to put down the mob he was going to get up in New York .' 'Well, I declare,' said the other, 'I never understood' it before ; that's exactly what he did it for. A young man standing by quietly remarked—'The Governor of Pensylvania asked aid of the Governor of New York, when Pennsylvania was invaded ; supposing Governor Seymour had not sent the troops, what would you have said of him then ?' The Republicans edged away, without reply .- Boston Courier.

Tastes.-We chew tobacco, the Hin-Dock takes to lime, while the Patagonian finds contentment 'in a bit of guano. The children of this country, delight in candy; those of, Africa in rock salt. A Frenchman "goes his length" on fried frogs, while an Esquimaux Indian thinks a stewed candle the climax of dain ties.
