

THE CORNER.

A Real Gentleman.—He never dresses in the extreme of fashion, but avoids singularity in person or habits.

One of the greatest tests of courage, says a humorous writer, is for a young man just going into society to spend an evening with a party of young ladies, and make a tour of the room without stepping on their toes, and to sit down and dispose of his hands without putting them in his pockets.

One day last week a lady living in this county, a few miles from the city, brought a parcel to one of the express officers to forward to her husband in the army.

Free the Negro and Enslave the White Man.—The doctrine of the Abolition party carried out, would free every negro on the continent and enslave every white man, who would not eagerly surrender his faith to Abolition keeping—Confiscation, emancipation, separation, amalgamation, contamination, colonization, conflagration and damnation are the chief elements of modern Republicanism.

Who would profit by such a faith, let him beware of the wrath to come.—Iowa Statesman.

The man who needs a law to keep him from abusing an inferior animal needs a prison to prevent his violation of the law.

A Gentleman.—The following is a negro's definition of a gentleman: "Massa make black man workee—make ox workee—make cbrtying workee—only de hog—no no workee; he eat, he drink, he walk 'bout, he go to sleep when he please, he live like a gentleman."

A gentleman wishing to get rid of a visitor, and not liking to tell him, "There's the door," modified it thus:—"Elevate your pericranium, and allow me to present to your ocular demonstrations that scientific piece of mechanism which forms the egress portion of this apartment."

"Ma, don't I look sweet?" "Yes, my dear, but why do you ask?" "Because Mrs. Gordon said my ear looked as if it was full of honey."

There is a class of people who think that to be grim is to be good; that piety is a sort of facial longitude; and that a thought, to be really wholesome, must be shaped like a coffin.

The Christian merchant who will hit a shot to make weight, will divide a dollar to make measure, or split a hair to prove that he don't want more than his own, is a rogue in disguise.

The climax of superfluous politeness has been declared to be that of holding an umbrella over a duck in the rain!

The man who courted an investigation says that it isn't half as good as courting an affectionate girl.

The man who is a lion in battle, is generally a lamb in battle.
