We call the attention of all having relations and friends in the army to the fact that "HOOGLAND'S German Bitters" will cure into tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the 'sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that gind can be resality cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the disective-orgy as are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our solders, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of, one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, 'has been saved by the Bitters.'

PRIMADELPHIA. August 23rd. 1862.

Messrs. Jones & Eoars.—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofla-d's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose name are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's -clebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Caplain R. B. Ayres—Through the exposure attendant upon my ardions duties I was attacked in November last with bulhammation of the lonn, and mas for seventy two days in the bospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dyentery I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the Steamer "State of Maine" I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the Steamer "State of Maine" I was tener on my stomach. > John W. Forney editor of the Philadelphia Press in a speech at Lancaster a few years ago said "what is there in our happy country to make men afraid of the light of day, or of honest inquiry? Have we a conscript law that tears the husband man from his plow, the father from his family, the son from his widowed mother, to go forth and act as gladiators for the amusement of a few ambitious kings? Have we a gang of hired tax-gatherers to drain the substance of the people? Is our Presidentan Attila or a Caligula? Is our Senate va Council of Ten? Is our House of Representatives a body of tyrants, armed with power to ravish and destroy? Secret usurpation against such wrongs would be justifia ble and right, for we are taught the great lesson "resistance to tyrants is obedience to God! Such were Forney's sentiments a few years ago; what are they now when we have all these things?

EXTRAORDINARY ABERRATION. -A soldier named Pierre Valin, has just died in one of the charitable asylums of Paris after being subject to a singular mental aberration ever since the battle of Solferino, where he was wounded in the head by a musket shot. The loyal State of Mary. on the morning of the shooting was man, but he is a man of the purest land is gloriously governed by the James Stephens, a child only eight years of age, who was shot in the right arm. He lay quite patiently on his left side, and only mouned when his arm was touched. Our reporter seeing him so helpless asked him where his parents lived, and having obtained the necessary informasearch. The father is a stout able man, and bears the mark of a bullet received while in the Navy. He could scarcely believe that his child was shot, and remarked that the solthey would not have fired so low as to bit a child like that." He also stated that he had two other boys, one of whom was twelve years old and the other two.

On entering the Station House he went to his child, who brightened up and cried "Oh! daddy, daddy, come The scene was truly heart rending. but the worst had to como, "did you see Billy?" (a brother, aged twelve-) "Yes, daddy," replied the child, "he QUAKER GUNS USED WITH EFFECT. -The rebels considered they had a good joke on us when they defended Manassas with wooden guns. While acknowledging the corn, we beg leave to call their attention to several wood. en mortars that gave them more annoyance at Vicksburg than all other guns. The mortars threw six, twelve, and twenty-four pound shell with considerable accuracy. Captain Tris-sellian, a "fighting Irishman" on Gen. Logan's staff, conceived the idea of manufacturing mortars from logs.— Securing several sound logs, he had them bored out, and then booped them with iron. With a small charge of powder they answered better than iron mortars, for they made little noise. The rebels confessed that more damage was done by these shells than any we threw into Vicksburg.
