THE CORNER.

A JEREMY DIDDLER, Stamford market was on Friday last visited by one of those-scheming individuals who obtain a living by their own audacity and the stupidity of others. Persons are often duped and swindled in most extraordinary ways, but never before has so b irefaced a trick been heard of in Stamford as the one practiced on the gobemouches on last market day. The fellow, who possessed the 'gift of the gab' to perfection, with the greatest sangfroid commenced his harangue by telling the bystanders he had visited the town for the express purpose of deceiving whoever he could, and he wished to see whether the Stamfordians of 1863 were greater dolts than their ancestors in the fourteenth century. He then proceeded to sell one or two sovereigns for 16s, and a few shillings for 10d, each. He afterwards pulled a hair from his head, and asked if any one would give him 6d. for it. A person in the crowd ventured to buy it and the man presented the purchaser with a shilling. Having by these means and the distribution of some pence, and a good deal of talk, raised the expectations and good humor of the crowd, he thought it time to begin business on his own account. He purchased about twenty five matches for 6d., and offered them for sale at 1s. each . The lookers on no doubt thinking he was about to perform the same liberal act as in the case of the hair, seagerly clamored for the matches, and in a very few minutes twenty were disposed of. The man then asked if they were all -satisfied with their bargain. One individ rual said he was not, and the fellow answered: 'Then you'll get nothing.' Furning to the others the asked if they were satisfied ? . Yes' was the reply. "Then so am I,' was the rejoiner, and throwing a few coppers among the crowd to clear the way, he walked to the railway station a gainer of 15s or 16s; by 'his 'deception.' He said at the station he scarcely expected the people of Stamford would prove such fools .- Stamford Mercury.

PULPIT WIT -The hat was passed around in a certain congregation for the purpose of taking up a collection. After, making the circuit of the church it was handed to the minister, who by the way, .had "exchanged pulpits." with the regular preacher, and he found not a penny in it. He inverted the hat over the pulpit cushion and shook it, that its emptyness might be known, then raising his eyes toward the ceiling he exclaimed with great fervor : 'I thank God that I got back my hat from this Congregation."

-It has been found, while firing at the running man target at Wimbledon England, which is scarlet on one side and grey on the other, that the scarlet dazzles the eye, and hence is difficult to hit, from leaving a red streak behind it, which unsettles the aim. The gray side was struck seventy-four times, and the red only forty-two times. It is a notorious fact, too, that men with grey eyes shoot better than those with eyes of other color

A wine merchant having sent a sample of wine to Lord Derby, which he contrain as a spectar for me gour anose quently wrote asking for an order. The earl replied, presenting his compliments to Mr.---,&c, and begged to say he had tasted the wine, but-preferred the gout.
