A Summer Beverage .-- We have repeatedly used the following and always find it an excellant and pleasant summer drink : Take I quart best cider vinegar, 2 quarts black-cap raspberries, mix, and let it stand at least five hours , then strain and add one pound of white flint sugar to each pint of juice, boil ten minutes, and when cool enough bottle it, corking tightly. If the best ingredients are used -especially cider vinegar—it makes à drink as frealthy, soothing and pleasant as Claret. For use pour a gill into a tumbler and fill it up with cold water. It may be used immediately after it is made, and if the bottles are well corked will last for years .- Ex.
