

AIR-" Wait for the Wagon." Come, brothers, and unite with us.
Come, join us one and all,
United we must conquer,
But divided we shall fall; Our Union Flag we're raising
For McClellan—tried and true,
Who'll uphold it—and revere it— Tis the Red, White and Blue. Сновиз-Then Hurrah for McClelian, Hurrah for McClellan, Hurrah for McClellan, And the Red, White, and Blue

Our ship's the Constitution. With our leader at the helm, We'll bring her into action. And her foes we'll overwhelm. They'll find that we'll be "up and dressed" Enough to put them through; Let our watchword be McClellan And the Red, White, and Blue.

Our flag shall be respected, Nor trampled in the dust : The stars and strings shall not come don Thank God, we have a captain, To his country ever true, We'll stand by McClellan And the Red, White, and Blue.

Come, then, all good and true men, And let us all unite; With such a gallant leader, We are sure to win the fight.
To our country and the Union Let each of us be true, We will fight for McClellan And the Red, White, and Blue.

AN "OFF-HAND" JOKE.

A sturdy sergeant of one of the Massachusetts regiments being obliged to sub mit to the amputation of his hand, the surgeon offered to administer chloroform as usual; but the veteran refused, saying-"If the cutting was to be done on him, he wanted to see it," and laying his arm on the table, submitted to the operation without a sign of pain, except a firmer setting of the teeth as the saw struck the marrow-The operator as he finished looked at his victim with admiration and remarked— "You ought to have been a surgeon

"I was the next thing to one afore I enlisted," said the hero.

"What was that " asked the doctor. "A butcher!" responded the sergeant with a grim smile, which, despite the surroundings, communicated itself to the hystanders.

A gentleman who, a few days ago was wandering over the ground recently occupied by a portion of Early's forces, engaged in the "slege of Washington," picked up the note-book of a Confederate soldier, containing, among other matter, the following bit of lyrical poetry:

Quoth Meade to Lee,

'Can you tell me, In the shortest style of writing, When people will All get their fill Of this big job of fighting Quoth Lee to Meade, "I can, indeed. I'll tell you in a minute-When legislators And speculators Are made to enter in it."

Honor Thy Father and Thy Mother .-One of the stern laws enacted by the Puritans in 1674 provides that: If a man have a stubborn and rebellious son of sufficient years of understanding, viz : sixteen years of age, which will not obey the will of his father, or the voice of his mother, they being his natural parents, lay hold on him and bring him before the magistrates assembled in court, and testify unto them that their son is stubborn and rebellious, and will not obey their voice and chastisement, but lives in sundry, and notorious crimes; such a son shall be put to death.

Sonny, I don't see anything growing about here, what does your father raise on this land?'

'Wal, he raises hackmatack, grasshoppers, hop-toads, tumble bugs, and some other wegetables. Yesterday he raised a double breasted pig pen right under the window, and mother raised Cain.'

Little Freddie, after being absent a long time one day, was reprimanded by his mother, and told that he must not play the truant again; to which he answered, "I haint been playing truant; I've been playing ball."

The practice and principle of insurance is of great antiquity, and was well known in the time of Claudius Casar, A. p. 43. It is certain that assurance of ships at sea was practised as early as the year 45 A. D.
